

HOVERTER ELECTED MAYOR OF CITY

the community, but they declined to have him or any other candidate thrust away down their throats by the Democratic bosses.

Hartman realized from the very first that his case was hopeless and had no intention of getting into the fight until the evening of the closing of the nomination petition period when he was induced by pressure from headquarters to sacrifice himself for the perpetuation of the present party management in Dauphin county.

McNair made a straight from the shoulder labor fight and won friends by his attitude in favor of the various public improvement loans which he supported.

Hoverters Big Majority Alderman Hoverters, whose fine majority unquestionably marks him as the choice of a vast majority of his fellow citizens for mayor goes into the office with everything in his favor for a successful administration. The entire City Council is Republican and he is on friendly terms with his colleagues. He is pledged to give all of his time to his office and to his own police hearing. He is committed to vigorous support of all the public improvements authorized at yesterday's election and will be found back of the extensive housing campaign which the Chamber of Commerce is about to launch.

He was heartily congratulated today upon the success of his campaign and goes into office with less antagonism and with more friendly feeling on the part of the public at large than has been accorded any mayor-elect in the past decade.

Four-Year Term Public interest largely centered today in the close contest for two and four-year terms in City Council. The honors on the face of the returns go to Dr. Samuel F. Hassler, high man at the primaries and Edward Z. Gross, former mayor and present head of the Park Department who will carry for four years more. William H. Lynch is so close to Gross that a slight change in official figures might give him a four-year term. Lynch, admittedly the best highway commissioner the city ever had, if he is not elected for four years, and Charles W. Burnett, head of the Finance Department of the city government will each serve two years, with every indication that they will have the support of the powerful Republican organization for the four-year period to follow, if they run. The Republican organization leaders played no favorites, the ward workers having been asked to get out the vote for all four commissioners.

Council Republican The only change in City Council, therefore, will be in the office of mayor, Alderman Hoverters succeeding Mayor Keister, and all of the places being filled by Republicans. The majorities for the successful candidates range from 2,500 to more than 4,000. Harry H. Grant, who had the Democratic and Labor nominations, was high man among the defeated candidates, polling 4,000 votes, with William S. Rhoads, Democratic-Labor candidate, having 3,710. Lieutenant George J. Shoemaker, straight Democratic nominee, polled 2,925 votes, and Calder B. Shammo, also straight Democratic candidate, brought up the tail end of the ticket with 2,195.

A vigorous fight was waged by the Democrats in favor of James G. Miles for city treasurer, against Harry F. Oves, the Republican candidate, but it was a miserable failure. Oves winning the contest by about 2,365 votes with John P. Geyer, Socialist Labor candidate, coming up behind him. Among the voters that the combined opposition, Mr. Oves is a former city assessor, a life-long resident of Harrisburg, former city treasurer and for years has been city chairman of the Republican party in Harrisburg. De Witt A. Fry, Republican, was re-elected by an overwhelming vote over his Democratic-Labor opponent, G. C. Burkheimer. Mr. Fry is a native of Harrisburg, was a former councilman from the lower end of the city under the old councilmanic system of government and has been active in Republican politics for many years.

As was expected Howard M. Binaman, William Pasvord and Frank J. Roth, the Republican candidates for the school board, easily defeated Clarence B. Roberts, Warren R. VanDyke and J. E. Kistler, VanDyke, who is secretary of the Democratic State Committee and was high man among the Democrats, polled slightly less than one-third of the 7,400 votes cast for Binaman, the high man on the Republican ticket.

A Republican Sweep As in the case of the elections in the county at large resulted in overwhelming Republican majorities for all offices. The present Republican administration of affairs, the popularity of the Belknap-Baker administration, satisfaction with party management, the strength of the candidates themselves and determination of Republicans to register this year their intentions in the Presidential contest of 1920, all combined to sweep the county for the Republican nominees.

Everywhere, even in normally Democratic districts, the vote was three to one and two to one in favor of the Republicans. The only Democrat elected was Howard O. Holstein, who apparently has defeated ex-Sheriff H. C. Wells for minority place on the Board of County Commissioners. The law requires that one minority man shall be a member of this board. The McCormick faction strongly backed Wells, who is the present incumbent, and Holstein had to buck the machine. The returns at noon to-day indicate that he had been successful by a small majority. Opponents of the Democratic leadership were hilariously joyful over this showing, taking it as an indication that they would be able to wrest the leadership of the party from the faction that has led it to the brink of ruin and would be able to dictate the choice of delegate to National Democratic convention next year, a place coveted by the McCormick people and which they had counted upon as their own beyond question.

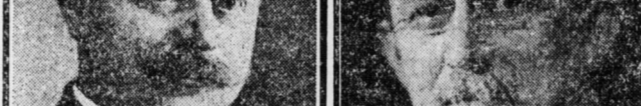

It is also said that Holstein, if the election falls to him, will be run for Congress by Independent Democrats against whoever the McCormick faction decides to put into the field. Holstein is an excellent speaker and will rest his candidacy, it is understood, on that issue.

The defeat of Wells is even more humiliating to the present Democratic bosses than the sweeping ma-

Justices by which the Republicans carried the city and county yesterday as it indicates their waning strength even within their own County Commissioners Charles C. Cumber and Captain Henry Shine have seen larger majorities this time than they had when first elected four years ago, and M. Harvey Taylor, former city commissioner, who was elected county recorder, had an majority of 2,278 over D. W. Shattner, of the lower end, who had the Democratic nomination. Edwin H. Fisher, Republican, brought him favorably before out over William R. Danner, the Democratic candidate. Mr. Fisher was appointed by the Governor to serve out an unexpired term, the vacancy having been created by the death of Danner's brother. Fisher now goes in for a full term.

George W. Karmany, the popular Democratic leadership candidate for sheriff, defeated J. Clyde Myton of Harrisburg, by a majority of nearly 6,000. Myton, whose activities as head of the Motor Club of Harrisburg brought him favorably before the people, proved a stronger man than some of his running mates. Karmany, a former college athlete, and at present engaged in business in the lower end of the county, comes from an old family of that locality and ran especially well in the city and throughout his home district.

Philip S. Moyer, the new district attorney, had a walkover over J. Douglas M. Royal, his young Democratic opponent and polled a very high vote both in the city and county. Moyer is at present county solicitor and will resign to take up his new duties as district attorney, leaving a vacancy in that office to be filled by appointment. He has long been prominent in Republican county affairs, is a native of Millersburg and an influential member of the Dauphin county bar. Mr. Royal is a son of former Mayor Royal and a rising young attorney. His friends said to-day they thought under the circumstances he had made a remarkably good showing.

Oliver C. Bishop, Republican and prohibition candidate for county treasurer, easily defeated George J. Weaver, the Democratic nominee. Mr. Bishop has been engaged in business in the lower end of the county for years and is well qualified by his bank training for the post he will occupy. The present members of the county Poor Board were re-elected and Jacob S. Furrer was chosen over Charles A. Wilhelm. Democrat to serve for two years. The four-year men re-elected are John N. Lehr, of the upper end of the county, and Frank B. Snavely, of the lower end, both of whom have been responsible for many reforms, improvements and economies inaugurated by the Poor Board during the past four years. They defeated Samuel E. Klinger and Nissley Y. Parthemore on the Democratic side.

WELLIVER LEADS FOR JUDGE Bloomsburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—For judge of Columbia county, Charles E. Welliver, Democrat, was chosen over M. Harry Rhodes, the present incumbent, the vote in eighteen out of fifty-five districts being Welliver, 835; Rhodes, 605. Indications were that Lieutenant Gennaria, Republican, won over Clyde Shuman, Democratic candidate, by a small majority. County commissioner, present returns indicate the election of D. F. Knittle and George Unangst, Democrats, and Henry Pursel, Republican, for county treasurer.

John F. Watson, Democrat, has won for prothonotary, Warren S. Sharpless, Democrat, for district attorney, and George B. Drescher, Democrat, for county treasurer.

MAYOR TROUT RE-ELECTED Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 5.—Mayor Henry L. Trout, Republican organization candidate, was re-elected yesterday by a majority of 1,200. He defeated D. W. Sheaffer. Returns indicate a complete victory for the Republican organization in Lancaster county.

PLESSINGER LEADING McConnellsburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—Incomplete returns from Fulton county indicate the election of Frank P. Plessinger over David A. Black in a hot contest for associate judge.

PARTY LEADERS WATCHING VOTE

Richard H. Long, defeated Democratic candidate, had appealed to the labor vote, while Governor Coolidge stood squarely on his record in dealing with the Boston police strike and rolled up a plurality of almost 125,000 votes.

"Wet" Candidate Wins In New Jersey, Edward I. Edwards, Democrat, running on a "wet" platform, had an apparently safe lead of almost 12,000 over Newton A. K. Bugbee, Republican, but the Legislature will be Republican by a narrow margin.

The defeat of Governor James D. Black, Democrat, for re-election in Kentucky, where Edwin P. Morrow, his Republican opponent, was elected to-day with a plurality of approaching 20,000, probably will be more discussed than other State results by party managers, who have their eyes fixed on next year's campaign. Previous Democratic majorities were upset in some parts of the State.

The Senate fight over the League of Nations entered into the Kentucky contest to some extent, Governor Black declaring for the League in his campaign.

Republicans also will control the lower house of the Kentucky Legislature, while the Democrats will control the Senate.

The wet and dry issue also entered into the Kentucky contest, a statewide prohibition amendment apparently having been defeated decisively.

To Ask Recount Lee M. Russell, Democrat, was elected Governor of Mississippi by a majority which may reach by a Socialist vote polled only about 10,000 votes. The Legislature will be solidly Democratic.

In New York State the election turned upon judges of the Supreme Court, Tammany Hall candidates suffering complete defeat. In the city, Representative F. H. La Guardia, Republican, defeated Robert G. Moran, the Tammany Democrat, for president of the Board of Aldermen by 1,363 votes, according to complete returns. An official recount will be asked for in Moran's behalf.

Ohio Decides to Stay in Dry Column by Three Times Its Former Vote Columbus, O., Nov. 5.—Ohio yesterday voted to remain in the dry column by a majority which may reach three times the vote of that which it was voted prohibition a year ago, according to incomplete and unofficial returns received early to-day at the State Capitol.

Secretary of State Smith said early to-day that partial returns to his office from half the counties in the State indicated a majority in favor of four prohibition proposals of approximately 75,000. Yesterday's dry vote came just a day after the first voted statewide prohibition by a majority of 25,000, and less than six months after prohibition became effective on May 27, 1918, and it was not until the proposed repeal of state-wide prohibition, Ohio yesterday apparently voted by big majorities to uphold the action of the Legislature in ratifying the Federal prohibition amendment to kill a proposal for the manufacture and sale of beer containing as high as 27 per cent alcohol, and put into effect the prohibition of the Federal prohibition amendment.

Both the wets and drys put up unimpressive arguments in ratifying what Ohio, the largest prohibition state would do. Ohio is the first State that has held a referendum on the Federal prohibition amendment. On additional returns to-day, the drys continued to show increased majorities in the larger cities, and in the state. Secretary of State Smith said that practically all counties showed large gains over last year. The drys had a gain of more than 2,000 over last year in Cincinnati, and showed large gains in practically all of the smaller cities and rural areas. The wet gain of 9,000 in Cleveland and smaller gains in Youngstown and several other of the smaller cities.

Stakes Political Future on New Jersey Wets and Wins by Big Plurality

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 5.—Edward I. Edwards, Democratic candidate for Governor of New Jersey, was elected yesterday by a plurality of approximately 12,000. With returns missing early to-day from only thirty-one of the 211 districts in the State, he had 209,371 votes as compared with 197,147 for Newton A. K. Bugbee, his Republican opponent.

The victor staked his political future upon the "wets" and won. The Republican nominee had the backing of the Anti-Saloon League, Leaders of both parties professed to believe this was the issue which had most to do with deciding the contest.

Edwards also denounced the Hudson county Corporation in his campaign speeches for establishing the one fare system. He is pledged to oppose ratification of the prohibition amendment and to fight "by all lawful means" enforcement of antiquated laws. He has promised his support to women suffrage.

Hudson county turned the scales in favor of the Democrat and assured his victory. With nine districts missing it gave a plurality of 34,000 to Edwards. He carried Essex county by 5,500; Warren by 800; Sussex by 175 and Union by 100.

Bugbee carried all the other counties in the State. He made his best showing in Atlantic and Camden, where he won by 4,000 in each case and in Gloucester where his margin was about 2,000. He was ten votes ahead in Hunterdon county with three districts missing.

Returns from South Jersey, which were tabulated first, gave Bugbee a long lead, and it was not until after midnight that the Democratic fortress turned the tide in Edwards' favor. Each district reported in Hudson and Essex helped to wipe out the Republican advantage.

William B. Linn Named to Bench

Governor Sprout to-day announced the appointment of William B. Linn, of Philadelphia, to be judge of the Superior Court to succeed the late J. Henry Williams, of Philadelphia. Mr. Linn is a native of Lancaster county, born in Ephrata in 1871, and graduated from the University of Pennsylvania law school in 1897.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose o. Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city. "But I don't expect anyone to believe me because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning." "The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been taken three or four days after that will prove a real help to all who suffer." "Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy." "The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin. Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

Republicans Win Victory in Franklin Chambersburg, Pa., Nov. 5.—A surprisingly light vote was cast in Franklin county yesterday outside of Chambersburg and Waynesboro and in those towns it was less than lost for. The Republican ticket won a complete victory by majorities ranging as high as 2,000. Edgar Faubel, one-legged soldier, beat Captain Parker Skinner for Register and Recorder. Jacob Mayer defeated Burgess Jacob F. Wingert for sheriff. Paul Turner won over Daniel Hefner for clerk of courts. Calvin Laughlin and Howard Poe are winners for commissioner and Frank Hafer, former member of the board is the Democratic commissioner. John Foreman and Joseph Soltenberger are auditors. H. H. Clippinger, district attorney, John H. McElroy, surveyor, and Dr. J. H. Kintner, coroner, were on both Republican and Democratic tickets. Chambersburg voted to permit the School Board to issue bonds for $30,000 with which to erect a new building in the east end of town.

CHILE DENIES REPORT Santiago, Chile, Nov. 5.—Categorically denying a report that Chile had ceded to Bolivia a strip of land north of Arica, which would give Bolivia an outlet to the Pacific, the Chilean government to-day. It was said such rumors were of frequent occurrence and the Government usually paid little attention to them.

WHAT WILL YOU DO ABOUT YOUR CATARRH? Improper Treatment Leads to a Serious Stage. Because you have doubtless been fairly comfortable through the mild summer months, and free from the soreness and irritation of the membranes, do not make the mistake of thinking that you are rid of your Catarrh. For if you suffered with this disease last winter it will again be with you in all its severity unless you have eliminated entirely from the blood the germs which cause the disease. This of course you have not done if you have relied upon the usual local methods of treatment with sprays, ointments, jellies, atomizers, lozenges, etc., the only possible effect of which treatment is to afford but temporary relief. For nothing but temporary relief can be expected from treatment which reaches only the symptoms of the disease. Are you going to further temporize with a disease that leads to such a serious condition? Don't you know that you can use gallons upon gallons of local treatment without the slightest permanent benefit? Just give the matter a little careful thought, and you will realize that it is but a waste of time and money, besides seriously jeopardizing your health, to continue a method of treatment that has proven of so little value in making any real progress toward genuine benefit? First of all find out just what causes your Catarrh. If it was merely a local irritation and inflammation of the delicate linings of the nose, throat and air passages, then you might rea-
