

RIDDLE IS NEW BUREAU CHIEF

Appointed Today as Head of the Rehabilitation Activities of the State

S. S. Riddle, of Bloomsburg, editor of publications of the State Department of Labor and Industry, and formerly engaged in newspaper work in Philadelphia, was today named by Commissioner of Labor and Industry C. B. Connelley to be chief of the new bureau of rehabilitation of the department. Mr. Riddle, who has been specializing in the work of fitting injured industrial workers for earning a living in new lines, will take charge immediately and organize the bureau.

Mr. Riddle was educated at Bloomsburg and graduated from Lafayette College in 1909, being engaged in engineering work for several years and then going into newspaper work. He was appointed editor in 1915. He was secretary of the State Rehabilitation Commission formed in 1917 and made studies of the problems in this State and in a dozen others, being sent to Canada last year to investigate the system of rehabilitation organized in the Dominion during the war.

Under the terms of the act creating the bureau a wide survey and system of reports and care for injured men with special training is created.

Awning Makers Are in Annual Convention

The Pennsylvania Tent and Awning Manufacturers Association met this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Penn-Harris in the opening session of their two-day convention. More than fifty delegates from all over the State were present.

The principal speaker of the afternoon was Frank C. Lowheiser, Buffalo, former president of the Ohio organization and vice-president of the National Tent and Awning Manufacturers Association. Mr. Lowheiser said that on account of the impossibility of procuring cotton duck at present, awnings were sure to take a decided increase in price. The foreign buying, which has become so heavy, is another reason given for the increase.

Other speakers who addressed the meeting on the condition of the tent manufacturing at the present time were A. C. Martin, of New York; John Williams, of Wheeling, West Virginia, and J. J. Marnaux, of Harrisburg, president of the State organization. The other local delegate is Alfred Bottles, secretary of the State organization. The convention will conclude to-morrow morning.

CORNPLANTER HONORS ITS WAR VETERANS

Charles E. Pass, past grand sachem of Cornplanter Tribe No. 61, Improved Order of Red Men, last evening presented watch charms to the thirty-three service men from the tribe who were being welcomed at the Pythian Hall, 1365 Howard street. Addresses were made by N. L. C. Trozell, grand senior saganore, of Allentown, who spoke of the achievements of our Army in France; John R. Greenhaigh, great keeper of wampum, of Philadelphia, who told of the service that the Red Men had rendered in the armed forces of the country. Prophet Felix L. Huber pronounced the benediction.

HAASE DIES

Berlin, Nov. 7. — Hugo Haase, president of the Independent Socialist party died this morning from wounds received October 3 when he was shot three times when entering the Reichstag building.

The assailant of Haase, an Austrian named Johann Voss, fired three shots, wounding him in the thigh, forearm and abdomen. Repeated operations were performed, culminating in the amputation October 27 of his right leg, the bone of which had been smashed by the bullet.

Voss, whom he was prosecuting on a charge of extortion, was said to have acted upon personal motives although there was a natural tendency to seek a political background for the deed, since Haase was about to deliver a sensational speech, charging the Government with encouraging the retention of German troops in the Baltic and with fostering attacks upon radicals by "murder bureaus."

Herr Haase was 56 years old.

OIL JUMPS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7. — The principal oil purchasing agencies here today announced net prices for crude oil as follows: Pennsylvania crude, $4.50 a barrel; Cornish, $3.10; Cabell, $3.02; Somerset, $2.85; Ragland, $1.35. The advance which is due entirely, the agencies say, to increased demand, largely foreign, amounts to 25 cents a barrel for Pennsylvania crude, 15 cents for Cornish, Cabell and Somerset, and 10 cents for Ragland.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Divorce decrees were granted today by the court in the following cases: Ignatius vs. Lillian V. Smithers, Rilla vs. William C. Mowers, Rebecca vs. Abe Rosenfeld. Desertion was alleged in each case.

RUSSIAN PIANIST MAY RETURN TO CITY
