Completion of land purchases and construction work at more than a score of army camps and fields over the country was also approved by the committee, which recommended passage of a bill granting the War Department authority to spend approximately $4,500,000 additional on these camps.

PAPERS REVEAL PLOT OF REDS

Plans of Union of Russian Workers Seen in Seized Documents

Washington, Nov. 10.—Plans of the Union of Russian Workers to bring about an overthrow of the government through a general strike is revealed in documents seized in the nation-wide raids of federal authorities Friday and Saturday nights.

With the government overthrown the documents "wiped from the earth that is a reminder of the right to private ownership of property," the Russian workers, according to the manifesto, looked forward "to this magnificent beautiful form of man without a God, without a master and free of authority."

The documents and publications obtained in the raids officials say, are of the most inflammatory nature and make no effort to conceal the union's program of destruction and death to achieve its ends. Much of the material made public is of such a nature as to cause any ordinarily newspaper reprinting it to be barred from the money side as the abhorrence of anarchists—communists.

Included among the documents seized, all of which are printed in Russian, is "Novomiresky—manifesto of anarchists—communists." This publication, the most recent put out by the union, was said to be the most dangerous piece of propaganda ever disseminated by any radical organization in the United States.

Outlines Purpose The manifesto outlines the purpose of the movement inaugurated by the union as "complete destruction of private control of natural resources and capital and complete destruction of power of rule and the institutions invested with powers to enforce rule of one man over another."

Under the caption of "What Should Be Our Means of Carrying on the Fight" the manifesto says: "What must we do, the vanguard of the proletariat? We must consciously hasten the elementary movement of the struggle of the working class; we must convert small strikes into general ones, and convert the latter into armed revolt of the laboring masses against capital and state."

"At the time of this revolt, we must at the first favorable opportunity proceed to an immediate seizure of all means of production and all articles of consumption and make the working classes the masters in fact of all general wealth. At the same time, we must mercilessly destroy all remains of governmental authority and class domination, liberating the prisoners, demolish prisons and police officers, destroy all legal papers pertaining to private ownership of property; all field fences and boundaries, and burn all certificates of indebtedness—in a word, we must take care that anything is wiped from the earth that is a reminder of the right to private ownership of property; to blow up barracks, gendarmes and police administration, shoot the most prominent military and police officers, must be the important concern of the revolting working people. In the work of destruction we must be merciless, for the slightest weakness upon our part may afterward cost the working classes a whole sea of needless blood."

"One Grand Federation" After "capital and state" are destroyed, the manifesto says the first duty of the union is to start production on a new foundation. Existing labor organizations should be extended and production should be given over entirely to them, it argues. Then, each "village commune" should unify with all other communes and the "one grand federation" follows, the manifesto advocates as its program.

Recognizing no religion, no authority, no power other than its own, the manifesto says, alternatively, its members are atheists, communists, anarchists. It continues: "We go tranquilly, cheerfully, not because it is painful to us eternally to be calling to bloody combat—not but because there, far beyond the corpses of heroes, beyond all terrors of civil war, there already shines for us the magnificent beautiful form of man without a God, without a master and free of authority."

"We hate religion because it lulls the spirit with lying tales, takes away the courage and faith in the power of man, faith in the triumph of justice here on the real earth and not in a chimerical heaven. Religion covers everything with fog; real evil becomes visionary, and visionary good a reality. It has always sanctified slavery, grief and tears. And we declare war upon all gods and religious fables. We are atheists."

Pershing Criticized In its discussion of war, the manifesto indicts the American people for honoring General Pershing as commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces in Europe. "Murder is always murder and the man who kills is always a murderer," the manifesto asserts.

"The only service of the man has been in fact that, being a professional of his craft, he came to be by simple chance at the head of the American armies which fought in Europe. There, obedient to the commands of those who sent him, he with ability and brains led the work of murder of men by men. For this they raise him to the skies and honor him in every way. All this is done only because we are in an age of progress and civilization, in an age of altruism and humanitarian ideas."

WHAT IT WAS "I came mighty near having a fight with a guest yesterday," said the landlord of the tavern at Peewoocuddyhump. "He said there was a blue-bottle fly in his huckleberry pie. I said there wasn't, and asked if he thought he knew more about running a first-class hotel than I did. He said if he didn't he'd have his head bored for the simples. I told him what he could do, and he paid his bill and left."

"Well, was it a fly?" asked a friend. "Not by a darn night. It was a hornet."—Kansas City Star.

MILLIONS RAISED FOR WAR WELFARE WORK IN STATE; PER CAPITA DONATION, $6.82

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Approximately $60,000,000 was raised in Pennsylvania during 1917 and 1918 for war welfare work, while the patriotic contributions of the Keystone State citizens, if taken over the period beginning with the outbreak of the European conflict in 1914, would add probably another ten million dollars to the total.

The Pennsylvania War History Commission, in making public a brief summary of war welfare work in Pennsylvania, utilizes only the statistics and data at hand in its files. On a basis of $60,000,000, the per capita donation of the individual in the State to war relief funds of all descriptions would be $6.82. The exact value of the State's war welfare work can never be estimated accurately.

The American Red Cross is the only organization which so far has figured its membership and financial campaigns in terms of states. Even this report, however, is incomplete on the money side as the shares of the great organization in the United War and War Chest drives has not been added to its totals. Exclusive of this, the Red Cross, in its two campaigns, raised $27,382,990.90. Incidentally, this figure is ten per cent. of the total results in the entire country of the two Red Cross drives. The $27,283,990.90 represented $3.101 contributed by each resident of the State.

Nor was the State behind its monetary aid in membership in the Red Cross. At the close of the year 1918, 1,667,763 adults and 1,431,059 Juniors were members of the organization. The adult membership represented 18.96 per cent. of the population and the junior membership, $6.12 per cent. of the school census.

Y. M. C. A. Drives The two Y. M. C. A. drives in Pennsylvania netted $6,862,516.23; the first, in May, 1917, bringing in $527,476.70, and the second, in November of the same year, $6,035,070.53. In addition, the Y. M. C. A. was also a recipient from the United War and War Chest drives.

Total figures for the War Chests are not at present available save in Philadelphia and the four surrounding counties—Delaware, Chester, Bucks and Montgomery. The period covered was from July 1, 1918, to June 30, 1919.

Of the $4,450,000 uncollected, about $450,000 only can be regarded as "bad debts" because of the absolute failure of subscribers to live up to pledges. The War Chest authorities account for the other four million as follows: Deceased, or in service and pledge canceled, $1,500,000; shifting employment, resulting in departure of many war workers from this vicinity, $2,500,000.

The main beneficiaries of the War Chest campaigns were, in addition to the American Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, Young Men's Hebrew Association, Y. W. C. A. and American Library Association. All of these maintained extensive service work with the Army and Navy both abroad and at home in addition to carrying on relief work among the civilian population.

Women Did Big Work But there were numerous other large funds gathered throughout the State, the pioneer in the movement for providing relief and sustenance for the destitute of Europe being the Emergency Aid committee, a distinctly Pennsylvania organization of women. The Emergency Aid, formed in 1914, functioned throughout the entire struggle, dividing its activities into numerous subcommittees, such as Belgian, British, Polish, Italian, Serbian, Home Relief, etc.

Of subsequent formation, but all with heart co-operation in Pennsylvania were the Belgian Relief Commission, American Jewish Relief Committee, Fatherless Children of France fund, Permanent Blind Relief War fund, American Fund for French Wounded, American Red Star Animal Relief, British-American War Relief fund, American Committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief and numerous others.

With America's advent in the war, the National League for Woman's Service, the Woman's Land Army of America and the Navy League leaped into existence with large membership in this State. At the same time the National Catholic War Council, in charge of Catholic relief work outside the realm of the Knights of Columbus, was established in this State, while other permanent organizations, such as the Council of Jewish Women, Volunteers of America, churches of all denominations, fraternal bodies, labor unions, etc., turned their interests to war relief channels.

The culminating organization was the War Camp Community Service, which as its name implied, focused its attention mainly upon the welfare of the soldiers and sailors, and co-ordinated the similar work of other bodies.

Dress Manufacturers Planning Convention

New York, Nov. 10.—Invitations to manufacturers of dresses, manufacturers of raw materials, bankers and others directly and indirectly affiliated with the women's mis-

Tentative plans call for about ten speakers of importance. Two of the most prominent merchants of the country will be among the speakers and they will outline just what the manufacturers can do toward the betterment of business relations between the wholesale and the retail

THE FRANKLIN SEDAN

There is one fine enclosed car whose satisfactory performance does not depend on the addition of accessories, even when touring from three to four hundred miles a day.

The Franklin Sedan doesn't need cooling parts—cuts out annoyance and shock absorbers because it is built to ride comfortably without them.

It does not carry spare tires, unless its tires be run well over 10,000 miles, because it doesn't pound tires out or make its owner tire conscious.

It uses no thermometers because it carries no water to boil in summer.

Non-freezing mixtures are noticeably absent in winter because of no water to freeze.

Franklin Light Weight and Flexible construction, the basic principles of riding comfort, safe, easy driving, tire economy, and low fuel consumption, require no assistance from accessories.

Franklin Direct Air Cooling (no water to boil or freeze), by eliminating the factor of temperature from motoring, the doctoring of fifty pounds of water, and the trouble of 177 unrequired water cooling parts—cuts out annoyance and expense, and permits all year motoring.

That the Franklin Sedan is exceptional in every way is conclusively proved by its nation-wide delivery to its owners of:

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline
12,500 miles to the set of tires
50% slower yearly depreciation

To its unequalled performance it adds these exclusive features of sedan design: Wide Observation Windows giving unobstructed outlook; two Wide Doors extending this view and making access easy; the V-shaped Slanting Windshield, allowing broad driving vision and perfect ventilation.

Before coming to investigate Franklin performance make a note of the things you would like to eliminate from your list of motoring troubles and limitations, and then see if the Franklin car meets your requirements.
