When an employee is injured in the course of his employment it is the duty of the employer to furnish him with such labor as the burden of finding employment on the injured employee," declares the State Workmen's Compensation Commission in an opinion by Commissioner Paul Houck in enjoining again the policy in regard to employment. This decision was given in Bates vs. Mosser Company a Lycoming county case, and the employer is informed that "until such time as the claimant secures employment the defendant will be obliged to pay him compensation as for total disability." In Paris vs. Pittsburgh Steel Company, an Allegheny case, it is held that where an injured workman has become insane and it is sought to charge it to the original accident the matter must be brought up by a person competent to act for the insane person.

The Pennsylvania State Industrial Board has received a new approval committee and established a temporary museum for safety devices in the offices of the Department of Labor and Industry in this city. Over 130 devices have been deposited and William Lauder, former secretary of the board, has been named as curator. The new committee is composed of James C. Cronin, member of the Industrial Board, chairman; Dr. Francis D. Patterson, chief of industrial hygiene bureau; John H. Walker, acting chief of inspection, and Fred J. Hartman, secretary of the Industrial Board.

Governor Sproul has been invited to attend the Altoona Chamber of Commerce annual dinner.

The new Lancaster troop of State Police has rounded up men who are reported to have confessed to 51 robberies in the northern and Lancaster county according to a report coming to headquarters today. For some time thefts in the vicinity of Lancaster and Elizabethtown and robberies near Mt. Joy have been keeping the State officers busy and when 20 bushels of corn were stolen from near the barracks a few nights ago wheel tracks gave a clue which resulted in arrest of William Brown, a probationer from the eastern penitentiary, and William Horn and Jacob Schuter, both under 20. They confessed to State Policemen to the robberies. Sergeant Campbell of the troop, recovered an automobile stolen from Clayton Keener, of near Colebrook, in eight hours after it was reported.

Members of the State Board for Registration of Nurses will attend the Philadelphia convention on November 17. Senator T. L. Eyre, who recently said he would don overalls and wield a pick to mine coal if a shortage occurred, has been sent a silver plated pick by an admirer.

MISSIONARY OFFERING
The Men's Organized Bible Class, Zion Lutheran Church, held an enthusiastic meeting yesterday. Arthur H. A pleasing number on the program was a soprano solo, "Light O' Life," by Miss Louise Baer, accompanied by William E. Bartz. The offering amounted to $27.37 of which was given for missionary purposes.

READY-TO-SERVE JUSTIFIED HERE

Company Never Paid Interest or Dividends or Salaries Since It Started

The Highland Gas Company, which operates in Bucks county and against whose readiness to serve charge of 75 cents the boroughs of Sellersville and Perkasie complained, is given the right to make that charge in an opinion handed down today by the Public Service Commission, which mentions the fact that "the company has never paid any salaries to its officers, nor paid dividends; it did not have sufficient funds to meet interest payments on its bonds at numerous interest-paying periods and was dependent upon friendly stockholders and directors advance the amounts for which the company's notes were issued." The amount of interest thus advanced was $22,000.

The opinion shows that five months after the new charge went into effect the company lost 400 customers, and the decision says that many of the consumers use the gas for cooking only and then only for a limited portion of the year. It concludes "in the light of all these conditions we cannot say that the respondent's ready-to-serve charge of 75 cents a month, when added to the meter rates, will yield too great a revenue or be unjust or unreasonable."

Muncy Company Hit
Rates of the Muncy Water Supply Company, of Muncy, are set aside and the company ordered to file a new schedule of rates within two weeks in an opinion handed down by Chairman W. D. E. Alney, which bristles with criticisms of the management of the company. The request of the company for an annual revenue of $12,500 is refused and it is limited to $12,000. The property of the company was valued by engineers and given a reproduction cost of $64,520 after certain deductions, and the decision says that "the company is unfortunate in its financial history and its management" and that the situation in regard to bonds and stocks "brings its own condemnation." It is charged that the company "departed from its filed tariff in collection of rates, particularly metered rates," and the decision says "it is rather startling to note the inequalities which have resulted from its arbitrary and unwarranted violations." The company is stated to have charged six large metered users of water a flat rate and that when it should have collected $9,000 under its old rate it collected about $1,150. An analysis of the old schedule is said to show that, while it was calculated to yield $16,000, the company collected $8,200, while the new schedule would have yielded $18,350. Those sums are held to be unjustified. The new rates are held not to impose much change on the big metered customers but to increase domestic consumers, and the decision says it would appear that the respondent, under the new tariff applying to domestic consumers, "expects to make up in part the deficiency caused by its own failure to collect its filed rates from its other classes of consumers."

In another decision the commission dismisses complaints filed against the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric Company rates for parts of Delaware county holding after an exhaustive analysis of costs that they are not excessive.

More Rates Go Up
New rates for advertising ball sign and window lighting have been filed with the Public Service Commission by the Lehigh Valley Light and Power, Bethlehem Electric, and Northumberland County Gas and Electric, Columbia and Montour Electric, Schuylkill Gas and Electric, Stroudsburg and Harvard Electric Companies serving communities containing thousands of persons. Numerous other notices of changes in rates of utilities, including some advances and a few decreases have been filed with the commission, among them Lewis Jones, Inc., furnishing steam heat in Overbrook, Philadelphia, which files notice as to separators; Moore Telephone, operating in Bradford county; Tri-State Telegraph and Telephone Company, Fayette and adjoining counties; Pennsylvania Utilities Company, Easton and vicinity.

The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company has filed notice with the commission that the Lehigh canal will close for navigation on November 22 and the Delaware Division on December 1.

Many Want Charters
Applications for charters for forty-eight electric companies to operate in townships and boroughs of Clarion, Jefferson, Mercer, Venango and adjoining counties have been filed with the commission by counsel for concerns said to be identified with the West Penn interests. This group, which embraces the largest number of applications for such charters to be presented at one time in a long while, will ultimately be merged with one of the large power companies in the western part of the State. A short time ago a score of companies were incorporated to engage in electric operation in Armstrong, Westmoreland, Clarion and Jefferson Counties, which have been merged.

A group of companies has been chartered to furnish electricity to Danville, Milton and other towns and a number of townships in Northumberland, Union, Montour and other counties, by Allentown men who recently absorbed a number of electric companies in eastern counties and whose Industrial Power Company has taken over various Monroe and Carbon County electric companies, the Stroudsburg company being the latest.

Sproul Urges People to Support Red Cross

Pennsylvanians were urged to heed the appeal of the Red Cross rollcall workers in a message from Governor Sproul yesterday. The message was in the form of a telegram sent to Mrs. John M. Geary, of Chestnut Hill, head of the Third Annual Red Cross rollcall in the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter. It follows:

"The Red Cross is a summons to an essential peacetime service. The Red Cross organization should, I believe, be retained and, if possible, strengthened. I assure you, as I have many others, that the rollcall workers carry an appeal which I hope will be heeded by the people of this state."

"The Live Store"

"Be Sure of Your Store"

Doutrichs "Overcoat-Fair"

Where You Can Buy Your Overcoat For Least Money

Saturday was the greatest day in the history of this "Live Store" (and we have had some great days at Doutrichs). It was the opening day of our annual "Overcoat Fair," all Saturday morning, afternoon and evening. We were crowded to the very limit in our clothing department, every salesman busy with two or more customers the whole day long. We have never seen such a rush for overcoats as we had Saturday at

The "Overcoat-Fair"

The people for miles around who read our announcement on "Friday" responded as never before—it's the most striking and convincing evidence that DOUTRICHS have the good will and confidence of thousands of loyal supporters. It's because we are able to give greater values, a bigger and better dollar's worth of dependable merchandise, than you can get anywhere else for the money.

There are some stores that still use the "drag net" methods trying to get a "few" stray customers, a practice that's never used by reliable merchants. It's strange what kind of methods some fellows will resort to in trying to get business; but a drowning man will grasp a straw. We believe every man has a right to buy where he chooses, and feel highly honored that most men prefer this "Always Reliable," square-dealing store, where courtesy, service and values are the very foundation of our success. Do you know that you can buy an OVERCOAT at DOUTRICHS OVERCOAT FAIR for less than you really expected?

$25-$30-$35-$40-$45-$50

Overcoats are scarce—very few stores have more than a mere handful. There's a shortage, no denying it—Even the tremendous stock we carry is going to be cleaned up earlier than any previous year. We are mighty fortunate in being well supplied for this Big "Overcoat Fair." We bought thousands of them at $10 to $12 less than we would have to pay for them to-day. They're yours at the OLD PRICES. Our advice is, don't delay! Buy your overcoat at "Doutrichs Overcoat Fair."
