State Food Agents Find Queer Things Sixty-four arrests for violation of the "fresh egg" act of 1919, which forbids the sale of stale eggs as fresh, were made in 16 counties of the State during October, according to the report of the State Bureau of Foods.

The arrests were made as the result of some sampling of eggs which when tested by chemists showed that the chazalaz, which is the test of an egg, was not in a state known as fresh. Some of the eggs had gone beyond the fresh stage by many days.

The Bureau's agents also caused the arrest of 110 per sons for the sale of milk that did not come up to State standards at all. Twenty-three samples of milk were found watered, while 75 samples were below the State standard for fats. The arrests were made in 50 counties and resulted from a wholesale sampling.

In one instance manure was found in milk and a stiff fine was imposed. Some arrests were made for tainted drinks, cockroaches being discovered in ginger ale and dead flies in lemon "pop." Two arrests were made for sale of cider that was in a "hard" state and various arrests were made for sale of beverages which contained coal tar dyes, saccharin. Chemicals were also discovered by chemists in some of the foods and drinks turned in.

The activities of the agents are being continued this month and some interesting reports are expected.

LEGION HELPS RED CROSS SEALS

Men Who Downed the Huns Fighting the White Plague

The Pennsylvania men who helped break the Hindenburg line have joined in the big battle to conquer the white plague.

The Pennsylvania American Legion organization is heartily in accord with the idea of the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals in the campaign against tuberculosis.

Speaking for the Lehigh county organization of the American Legion, permit me to say that the veterans of the World War, through its agents, the American Legion, heartily endorse the work as suggested for a country-wide campaign, and willing to co-operate to the extent of planning the campaign and working it out in Lehigh county.

Following its plan to aid in laudable public efforts of a constructive nature, the Legion in its recent State convention passed the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The fighting and working efficiency of the Nation depends upon the public health, all organizations whose efforts minister to healthier manhood and womanhood in this land deserve the support of the members of the American Legion.

"Especially mindful of the ravages of tuberculosis, as revealed not only by the military records, but by the statistics from civil life, we commend the work being done by the National, State and county Anti-Tuberculosis Societies. We, therefore, commend to our memberships and to the public the campaign to promote the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, and pledge our support to the efforts being made to eradicate the white plague."

A number of Legion members are on the State-wide seal committee. They are: Major W. G. Murdock, of Milton, Adjutant of the State Legion; A. Nevin Detrich, Philadelphia; George W. Beaman, Towanda; Robert C. Appleby, Mount Union; John W. Rich, Woolrich; L. McK. Crumrine, Washington; Dr. Elmer Hess, Erie; Col. Lucien M. Wiler, Philadelphia; Otto R. Hilligman, Philadelphia; Major George T. Ross, Doylestown, and George H. Stewart, Jr., Shippensburg.
