Gougler Is One Big Star in Game With Massillon; Lebanon Valley Prominent

Former Harrisburg and Lebanon Valley stars were prominent Sunday in a game between Akron and Massillon. Gougler, formerly of Central High and Pitt and Mocker, of Lebanon Valley were prominent in the victory. A dispatch from Akron says: In a game replete with sensational work by Fritz Pollard, All-American colored star, who put Brown University into the Eastern championship, and won himself recognition as one of the greatest football players ever developed, the Massillon Tigers, present holders of the world's football championship, walloped Pollard and the rest of the Akron Indians here by a 133 to 6 score.

DARTMOUTH IS UNDEFEATED

Looks Like Season's Winner; Harvard Is One of This Year's Surprises

As a result of Saturday's football games, Dartmouth and Colgate are bracketed for leading honors on the Eastern gridiron. If Dartmouth can go through the remainder of the season undefeated, which seems as certain as anything can be certain in this topsy-turvy season, the football public will probably award first place to the big green team, no matter what Colgate may do. Colgate plays its most crucial game next Saturday with Syracuse. A victory for the Hamilton collegians would have to be veridical indeed for anyone to put Colgate ahead of Dartmouth.

Yale in Form Yale appears to have struck her stride at last and most close followers of the game are pretty nearly convinced that the Elis will beat both Harvard and Princeton. Yale beat Brown, 14 to 0, and did it easily. It was twice as big a score as Harvard was able to make against the Brunonians with the greatest difficulty.

Loss of Wilbur Henry Is Fatal to W. and J. Eleven

Washington, Pa., Nov. 11.—One of the reasons, perhaps, why Pitt beat Washington and Jefferson was that Wilbur Henry, the big right tackle, was barred from the game. Glenn Warner protested against Henry's exclusion, declaring that the captain of last year's red and black eleven had been playing since Hector was a pup, or some other unwarranted period, and, therefore, was not eligible to play with little boys. Syracuse was asked about Henry, but said, "Let him play, and Bill Pitt's protest is just about the end of his career on the gridiron. It has been long, eventful and honorable."

Has Found Happiness After 22 Years Of Suffering

Says the Man-Hell Helped to reduce the H. C. of L. and wants to see one in every home.

Wishing to help others, Mrs. H. M. Draucher of 52 Woodbine St., Harrisburg, Pa., relates her experience in an interesting letter. "I can truly say that I have gotten wonderful relief from the Man-Hell Automatic Inhaler used for Hay Fever and Asthma. Have been able to attend picture shows on the hottest nights and could go out in all kinds of weather, something I could not do in former years. Have spent money for everything, answered all advertisements but got no relief from anything until the Man-Hell Inhaler was sent me by the Gorgas Drug Stores, of Harrisburg. Since using Inhaler have been able to sleep well, where in former years I could not sleep and could not get my breath. Had to be under the influence of hypodermic injections most of the time during Hay Fever period, this reduced my vitality and left me very weak, and any rest gotten was unnatural. We have two children and Mr. Draucher claims benefit derived from the Man-Hell Inhaler has been of great financial assistance in battling with the H. C. of L., etc., by enabling the mother of the home to be on the job as well as bringing me greater happiness, for we feel that we have a new found relief after 22 years of severe suffering. I want to help others and this letter can be published so the Man-Hell Inhaler will be in many homes. Sincerely yours, Mrs. H. M. Draucher."

It was produced eight years ago by Oliver Morosco, and the story is by Richard Walton Tully, the author of "The Rose of the Rancho" "Omar, the Tentmaker" and "The Flame" his latest effort. Mr. Tully lived for many years on the islands, and in "The Bird of Paradise" he brought his audience in close touch with matters pertaining to the life of the Hawaiian people. He tells a story of love and intrigue, and although he brings the note of tragedy into the life of the little Hawaiian girl, Luana, who makes her mistake before her, yet redeems her error by her own self-sacrifice, also he shows many flashes of humor both native and American.
