

COWBOYS' BOOT SHOP IN STRAITS

Labor Shortage May Close Up Unique Kansas Establishment

Topeka, Kan.—The largest hand-made cowboy bootshop in America is at Olathe, Kan. The custom of making hand-made boots, however, is becoming a lost art, the owner declares.

Forty-three years ago H. C. Hyer came to Kansas from Illinois and got a job as teacher in the shoemaking shop at the dead and dumb school at Olathe.

At a meeting of Thabit Siesta No. 77, Princess of Baghdad, the following officers were elected: Sultan, J. W. Bricker; caliph, W. S. Hoolenbaugh; pasha, R. A. Proud; khatib, H. E. Proud; vizier, H. A. Gunder; mansur, oriental guide, O. R. Grove; dervish, W. I. Sharidan; scratcher, R. R. Shafner; grasper, W. E. Orr.

THE POINT OF VIEW

"Do you think you can get me out of this scrape?" asked the confidence man of his shifty lawyer.

"Suppose we say $1,000?"

"And you made $50,000 out of the deal? No sir. I don't see the slightest chance to get you acquitted for $1,000, but, ahem, we might view the matter under another angle."

"What do you mean?"

"Looking at your case from a $5,000 angle, I don't see the slightest chance for you to be convicted."
