Real Romance in This Engagement

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—In the announcement of the engagement of Miss Margaret Mackey, of West Grove, Pa., to Hoagland Gates, of New York, is seen a real romance of pastoral life that poets have sung since Shakespeare.

Miss Mackey is the daughter of a Chester county farmer. She is young and beautiful with a wealth of golden hair and blue eyes. She teaches in the Towers private school, near Wilmington.

Hoagland Gates is said to be the son of a wealthy New York family, and is a returned soldier. His mother, Mrs. Charles O. Gates, gave a dinner party in New York last Sunday where the engagement was announced.

Gates returned recently from France, where he was sergeant in the 79th Division. Life in the open, which he had learned in the army, left its appeal. He determined to live on a farm.

Gates found a place in Chester county, a few miles from West Grove and purchased 600 acres and a house. His fields, he found, adjoined those of Wilson A. Mackey, and he met Mackey's daughter. A friendship followed, culminating in the engagement.

An old farm house on the newly-purchased farm has been converted into a picturesque dwelling. It will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gates, and the farm will be their interest. No date has been announced for the wedding.

Reds Plead to Stay in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—Cringing before the possibility of deportation, Russian radicals among the Red suspects arrested here are devoting their time to fervent appeals of love for the United States.

Sending them back to Russia, they think, is the worst punishment Uncle Sam could inflict upon them. Despite their pleas of innocence in plots to overthrow the American Government for a Soviet, it seems a certainty that the majority of the Russians caught here in the nationwide raids will be sent from the country.

Correspondence and anarchistic propaganda seized by the Department of Justice raiders in this city show that the Union of Russian Workers of the United States and Canada, which has two branches here, projected a demonstration of national wide scope.

German Shells Unearth Ancient Rheims Crypt

Rheims, France, Nov. 13.—Ruins of great archaeological importance have been brought to light by the German shells which crashed through the vaults of the Rheims Cathedral during the bombardment. The present building was erected in the thirteenth century, probably on the foundations of the old Frankish basilica enclosing the tomb of Saint Remi, who died in the sixth century. It is the foundations and crypt of this building that have been unearthed. They appear to date from the ninth century, say experts.

Refuse Premium Business At the same time several companies have refused to take orders in view of the unfilled orders on their books and have continued to oppose higher prices as tending to protect them against stockholders. Believing that the mills would be wrestling for months with short deliveries due to the strike, a number of buyers of finished steel, including some large companies, tried to contract for the first half of 1920. The effect has been to discourage current receipts at many works, and in the Chicago district several iron rolling mills were coming to the end of their supplies.

EARLY INCREASE IN PIG IRON PRODUCTION SEEN AS STRIKE STATUES BECOMES BETTER

New York, Nov. 13.—The calling off of the coal strike and the return to work of further large numbers of steel strikers mean an early increase in output of pig iron and finished steel and are therefore market factors of first importance, the Iron Age says. A week of the coal strike had passed without the cutting down of steel production, nearly all plants having accumulated fuel stocks, but the taking over of coal in transit by the railroads was affecting current receipts at many works, and in the Chicago district several iron rolling mills were coming to the end of their supplies.

There has been growing tension in the market in the past week as various consumers have attempted to get hold of enough pig iron or rolled material to protect them against shutdowns. Believing that the mills would be wrestling for months with short deliveries due to the strike, a number of buyers of finished steel, including some large companies, tried to contract for the first half of 1920. The effect has been to discourage current receipts at many works, and in the Chicago district several iron rolling mills were coming to the end of their supplies.

Interest in the export market has centered in a sale of 50,000 tons of billets to Belgium rolling mills at a price close to $4.50, Pittsburgh. The transaction points to the slow recovery of pig iron and steel production in Belgium and to the fact that the ability of German and Lorraine works to supply outside markets has been overstated.

While the Railroad Administration will make only imperative purchases of rails, seeing that the railroads are about to go back to their owners, up to 100,000 tons may be placed for early delivery apart from the 40,000 tons now being rolled by Bethlehem. The Algoma mill is reported to have a 5,000-ton rail contract with the Hocking Valley from this side on which it could not give the deliveries wanted. Large rail buying for delivery next spring is looked for when the companies again take control.

domestic and foreign railroad; representing four or five years' full operation.

The Belgian government has just awarded to its own makers 5,000 freight cars, but it is also stated from Belgium that many cars will be needed from foreign sources, presumably including the 10,000 coal cars on which American bids have been asked.

Two Pacific Coast shippers are inquiring for 30,000 to 40,000 tons of plates, shapes and bars for tank ships to be built there. Buyers of plates who a short time ago could contract at 2.50c Pittsburgh, are now paying 2.60c and a further index to the market is the offer of an export company to pay sheet mill prices for 1.8-in. plates, or $7 above the plate price.

Old material a notable transaction is the purchase by a Chicago firm, from the Government, of 141,000 tons of shell scrap, of which 70,000 tons was shell forgings which brought 24.50 per gross ton.

Kansas Corn Crop Fair, Estimates Show

Topeka, Nov. 13.—The Kansas corn crop this year will be 64,365,000 bushels, according to estimates by Edward C. Paxton for the United States bureau of crop estimates. This is based on the first estimates of actual yield taken this year and is very close to the amount forecasted from the condition of 45 per cent recorded October 1. It is 20,842,000 bushels more corn than Kansas produced last year, but 41,718,000 bushels less than the 10-year average. In only five years since 1874 has Kansas produced less corn.
