

TECH HOLTS GREENSBURG--NOW SCHOLASTIC CHAMPIONS--BUCKNELL HITS GETTYSBURG

TECH TRIMS GREENSBURG IN REAL FOOTBALL BATTLE; STRENGTHEN TITLE CLAIM

When the Tech High School lads left Harrisburg Friday afternoon they carried a banner to Greensburg that read, "We treat 'em all alike," and when they returned yesterday afternoon they still carried the same banner, only a little higher. For Greensburg had been vanquished 33 to 0, 33 of the points coming in the final half.

The defeat of Greensburg removed Tech's most formidable foe from the field for championship honors, and all of Greensburg is back to the Tech team for the championship of the United States.

In the first half Tech was completely demoralized. The local score down to six points. The field was three-fourths covered with patches of mud that compelled the players to stand in the mud almost to the knees. Tech received the kickoff and worked the pig skin to within eight yards of the goal when there was a fumble and Greensburg kicked out of danger to mid field.

On the kick Tech again fumbled, and it was Greensburg's ball at mid-field and all of the work was in vain. This kept Tech from scoring in the first quarter. In the second quarter Tech score a touchdown on a long forward pass from Lingle to Beck, that advanced the ball 30 yards. Comfort missed the goal because of the wet condition of the ball.

Between halves the Tech boys talked over the situation, and determined to remedy their errors. Too many Greensburg passes had been dangerous. With the beginning of the second half, the Tech lads opened up an offense that kept the losers always on the defense, so that they never had a chance to use many of their forward passes. In this half, Lingle scored once and Books and Wilsbach tallied twice.

Books' score came after a run of 30-yards through the entire Greensburg team. Wilsbach went over the goal twice on set tackle plays, while Books scored once on a blocked pass and another time on a blocked kick. According to statistics, the Greensburg team gained more ground against Tech than any other team this year. Most of it was gained through the use of the forward pass. Once they were within eight yards of the Tech goal line, but the local lads were equal to the emergency, and kept the goal post unattained.

F. and M. Cripples Lose to Ursinus College Team

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 17.—In a game that lacked spirit on both sides, Franklin and Marshall lost to Ursinus on Saturday, 7 to 0. The locals had a somewhat crippled team and all the ground gaining was done by Hoster.

Greeks Down Romans in Annual Football Game

Harrisburg Academy had two hard football contests Saturday. The Greek and Romans, first and second forms, played their annual battle. The Greeks won, score 15 to 0. "Bobby" Smith, fullback for the Greeks started, making both touchdowns. His defensive work was of a high standard.

Had Tech been on the job, the score would have been larger. The team was slow in getting off passes and seemed generally demoralized. Once Captain Frank got his boys working it was only a question of how large the score would be.

Big Crowd Sees Game The largest crowd ever assembled on the Greensburg field was on hand to see the great inter-sectional game. Tech alone had 400 rooters, and all were marked with the Maroon and Gray. After spending the night at the Fort Stanwick Hotel, the team and its rooters proceeded to the battle ground. At the Flood City they were met by the coach and members of the Johnstown High team, who were anxious to see Tech win.

On arriving at Greensburg, the local team was taken to the Y. M. C. A., where they were given hospitable treatment. Local rooters organized the Latrobe band and a walk around took place prior to the game. Following the contest, the Greensburg co-ed held a dance for the football team and its camp followers. The team came out of the battle in good shape. Aldinger was substituted for Captain Frank, who played his first game in four weeks. Books took Mallick's place at end in the second half. Carl Beck is suffering from a carbuncle on his neck, and showed considerable pluck in playing the contest.

At Tech this morning, speeches were in order from members of the team. Fred Rees and Grubb. It was Tech's biggest victory of the season, and was fittingly celebrated at the chapel exercises to-day. The lineup and score:

In the fourth quarter, however, with Arnold Horween, who was substituted for Hamilton, at right halfback, furnishing the driving power, Harvard scored three touchdowns, two of which were followed by goals.

BUCKNELL WINS IN LAST QUARTER

Tears the Gettysburg Line to Pieces; Placement Kick Starts Score

Bucknell is celebrating to-day. The reason is the victory Saturday over Gettysburg, score 17 to 0. It was not all Bucknell even if the Lewisburg boys did win out. Gettysburg was prominent for three quarters. The battled field contingent played better ball than Bucknell. It was in the last quarter that Bucknell showed the form they should have demonstrated earlier in the game with the team they offered.

With three minutes of play gone in the final period Bucknell began to fight and in five minutes more of the mad scramble of the Gettysburg line to pieces and scored a placement kick and a touchdown. It was a great finish. Gettysburg went down with flying colors, fighting every minute until the final whistle blew. The crowd was the largest in the history of this annual contest. There was some kicking on the part of spectators who had paid the price advertised, and were asked to put up an extra fee to get a numbered seat. Just who is to blame for the change in prices is not clear. The man for Bucknell, who with J. F. Snyder, of Gettysburg, agreed to put two seats were being sold until he reached Harrisburg. He kicked loud and long.

V. Grant Forrer, assistant superintendent of parks, said he had no hand in it and what the public understand that it was done without his sanction. He added, "next year there will be an agreement in black and white. Harrisburg people have been good patrons of the game and deserve fair treatment." The general impression prevailed that the public should have been advised of the change.

The Big Hero of Old Nassau, along with the Poes, and Sam White and DeWitt, the name of Joe Scheerer. He it was who won the Ellis' snicker coliseum, and this is the way he did it: Joe Neville's lateral pass to Kempton went wild. Scheerer, a substitute halfback, plunged his way through the mad scramble of Yale players, picked up the truant pigskin and dashed 22 yards for a touchdown.

"In snatching the game from the fire, Captain Curtis McGraw's orange and black eleven lived up to Princeton's tradition. Way back in 1911 Sam White scooped up a fumbled ball and raced down the field to a glorious victory. That was the last game that Princeton won in New Haven until Saturday, and this battle was the first that the Tigers won in the Yale Bowl. In the orange glow of the gathered dusk, a writhing mass of undergraduates, together with a host of old grads, forgot the defeats and disappointments of the past as they snaked-danced madly around the Ellis' snicker coliseum.

The Big Thriller their traditional tactics of playing ball brought forth the one great thrill of a game which for three periods had been devoid of any of the spectacular features of the modern open game. For the first time the Yale and Princeton elevens had fought out a dull contest. Line pounded monotonously against line as the two teams battled on in vain, each trying to outlast the other in their traditional tactics of playing safe.

"As the Tiger tackled crashed into Neville, to bring him down, he attempted to make a lateral pass to Kempton. The pass was a sort of a beanbag toss, and Kempton could not reach it. The Yale quarterback tried frantically to get the ball, as the Tiger forwards had sensed the play and were bearing down on him with a rush. The ball soared out of Kempton's reach and hit the turf.

Spectators Go Wild "The 60,000 spectators were on their feet in an instant. Yale and Princeton rooters alike were yelling in the mad scramble of players mingled in one mad dash for the ball. Blue jerseys and jerseys of Orange and Black became mixed up in an entanglement of arms and legs. Player crashed against player as they jammed each other aside. The soft green turf was covered with the men who had been toppled over in the mad desire to grasp the rampart ball.

As the yellow pigskin rolled along over the 25-yard chalk mark, dignified gray-haired men, white-haired women, and their pretty daughters joined the car-splitting shrieks of the mad undergraduates, who jumped up and down waving their arms and beseeching Tom, Dick or Harry to get that ball.

"It was a nerve crackling moment, one which made every one forget

STARS OF YALE AND PRINCETON IN BIG GAME

PRINCETON WAITS LONG FOR GLORY OF BEATING YALE; SUBSTITUTE IS BIG HERO

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 17.—After eight long years of patient waiting, Princeton's cup of joy was filled to overflowing Saturday in the Yale Bowl, when the alert Tigers pounced on a loose ball in the final period and sent the Princeton players to pieces and scored a placement kick and a touchdown. It was a great finish. Gettysburg went down with flying colors, fighting every minute until the final whistle blew. The crowd was the largest in the history of this annual contest. Haverford Ties Up Score In Battle With Dickinson

Haverford, Pa., Nov. 17.—Haverford and Dickinson battled to a 7-7 tie in a hotly contested game replete with spectacular plays at Walton Field this afternoon. Except in the initial session the Main Liners completely outplayed their opponents, and Dickinson was on the defensive through the major part of the contest, but the Scarlet and Black always lacked the decisive punch at the crucial moment. Dickinson made its tally in the opening period, when Pritchard grabbed a long pass from Captain Palm on the home team's 20-yard line, and dashed across after a brilliant dodging run. Seigenfuss made a perfect punt out and kicked the goal.

Captain Crossman, who played his usual brilliant game, made Haverford's score in the second period, after dashing 44 yards on a trick formation that caught his opponents completely off guard. He kicked out, and directed the ball between the uprights for a tie score.

Penn Team Holds Pitt to Tie Score After Hard Fight

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Capt. Bert Bell, of Pennsylvania, and Andy Hastings, of Pittsburgh, basked in the spotlight before 30,000 football fans at Franklin Field on Saturday and delivered the only points made in the game by kicking field goals. Their educated toes prevented the players who tried to cross his path, or the Tiger would devour anything or anybody that got in his path.

"Scheerer now had dodged and tore his way through all the Yale players who tried to cross his path. The Princeton stands blazed with orange flags. Not for a moment slackening his speed, not losing a single stride in his dash of triumph, Scheerer bent over in his glorious flight, picked up the ball and galloped along over the Yale goal line."

VINCOME FIVE IS CAGE LOSER

Independents Outshoot Visitors--Sensational Plays Were Many--Big Crowd

In one of the best games seen on the local floor, the Harrisburg Independents defeated the Vincome five of Philadelphia, Saturday night, score 31 to 21. The game was featured throughout with sensational goal shooting from the field.

In this work McGreagar and Bilson were big stars for the Vincome team. Every player on the local team was in evidence in good shooting. Ike McCord was there with his foul shooting having five out of 15, and he too shot a ball into the basket at a difficult angle.

Moorehead played his first game at center with the Independents and won much favor by his good work. The floor work and passing of the local five as also an interesting feature. The big hall was filled to capacity and the crowd had better thrills. Next Saturday the Pittston team of the Pennsylvania State League will be the attraction. The lineup follows:
