WOMEN DOCTORS FILLING SHORTAGE

Demobilized War Nurses Are Turning to the Profession in London

London, Nov. 18.—Shortage of physicians in this country, which was greatly increased by the war, is giving women a golden opportunity to enter the medical profession. Hundreds of demobilized war workers, especially nurses, are taking advantage of it. Before the war, few facilities were offered English women for training as physicians and furthermore they encountered a prejudice on the part of all classes that was strong enough to daunt even the most determined. That prejudice against "women doctors" was almost entirely swept away by the heroic and efficient medical service performed by women during the war. Hospital schools of medicine from which women students formerly were barred are now open to them. Many hospitals and other health institutions include women on their boards of management, and public positions which used to be filled only by men, are now open to women doctors as well. Resident hospital posts have been made available for qualified women physicians, enabling them to secure extremely valuable experience. Except Oxford and Cambridge, all the British universities have opened their medical degrees to women.

EGGS OUT CAN'T GO IN ONCE MORE

New Ruling in Regard to the Egg Section of the 1919 Cold Storage Statute

Cold storage food which has been withdrawn from cold storage in Illinois or any other state, shipped into Pennsylvania and sold here while the product is out of cold storage cannot be returned to cold storage under Keystone State laws according to a decision given to Director James Foust, of the State Bureau of Foods, by the Attorney General's Department. The decision was rendered in the case of eggs which had been in cold storage in Chicago and were withdrawn by the owner who shipped them in his own name to Philadelphia and there sold them. This transaction is held by the Attorney General to be proof that they were withdrawn for purpose of sale and under the act of 1919 they cannot be stored again.

Farmers institutes will be started in Greene, Cambria, Susquehanna and Cumberland counties under the new arrangement of the State Department of Agriculture on December 1 and each county will have speakers familiar with the specialized line of agriculture or kindred branches that is followed in the district. The Greene county institutes will have live stock and sheep specialists; Cambria will have potato experts; Susquehanna dairying speakers and Cumberland, men to talk on wheat, fruit and general work. This plan will be followed generally throughout the month. The plan is to have institutes in twenty counties in December. Cumberland institutes will be held at Hogestown, Plainfield, Newville and Newburg.

Objections to the chartering of the National Auto Tours Company, of Nazareth, were argued before the Public Service Commission by representatives of half a dozen trolley companies in the district between Philadelphia and Stroudsburg. The company seeks the right to carry passengers, operate tours, carry freight and operate a garage. It was contended that it can be chartered for only one purpose and that it should be called upon to specify routes and conduct its business as other common carriers. The argument was also heard in the objections of the Shubert Theater of Philadelphia to the charges of the Philadelphia Electric Company for wiring a theater. The price was declared a war time cost with payment for a cable which the company had to supply in an emergency. This latter charge the theater insisted it should not bear.

The Public Service Commission will have investigation made of the Hog Island grade crossing accident. Conditions in this vicinity have been under inquiry for some time and men who have been running trucks and cars to the shipyard have been summoned to hearings in Philadelphia with the idea of establishing regulations. Friends of Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to-day sent him their condolences on his illness.

G. H. Getty, receiver of the Wig Wam Building and Loan Association an Allegheny concern, is starting some suits to clear up its affairs. Pittsburgh people are talking of establishing a whole signal battalion of the new Guard in that place. More arrests for the sale of watered butter are likely to be made in the vicinity of Philadelphia. State agents have been busy gathering evidence and taking samples.

State officials were to-day greatly interested in reports that suits to restrain payment of legislative appropriations to hospitals on the ground of sectarianism might be renewed in separate form as the result of the decision of the Dauphin county court yesterday that the Willis Collins action was "multifarious." It was reported to-day that two suits, separate proceedings, would be started to make a test. The costs in the proceedings just decided were placed on the plaintiff and are said to have been quite heavy. A consultation will be had between the fiscal and legal officials regarding payments to the institutions included in the act as the payments of appropriations were held up when the suit was brought.

People who follow politics in this city were considerably interested in this statement in the Philadelphia Inquirer of to-day: "Suspicion that the budget submitted to City Council by Mayor Smith and his advisers for municipal expenditures during 1920 has been slashed and cut by more than $2,000,000, in order to starve the city departments during the first year of the Moore administration has caused a quiet and thorough investigation by councilmanic leaders friendly to the Mayor-elect. The inquiry is under way at the present time and may result in a series of revelations within the week. The fact that 'shortchanging' on a large scale has been discovered by the investigation was confirmed last night by Harry J. Trainer, Select Councilman from the Third ward.

Considerable interest has been attracted at the Capitol by the vigorous manner in which the convention of the P. O. S. of A. camps of Berks county have dealt with James H. Maurer, former member of the Legislature and president of the State Federation of Labor. The camps at a meeting attended by men from all over the county formally invited the President to send James H. Maurer to Russia, declaring that it has the Soviet government of which he appears to be so fond. State game protectors say that the rabbit hunting appears to be excellent in many parts of the State thus far and that some good wild turkey shooting is reported.

Mine inspectors have been reporting some interesting drops in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties due to mine caves. The only work the State can do under present conditions is to record the caves. The State Board of Pardons meets to-morrow with the largest list of cases known in many months. Dr. Mary C. Wolfe, of Lewisburg, has been appointed superintendent of the State home for women at Laurelton and Miss Anna Catherman, of Mifflintown, has been named as assistant.

Philadelphia here to-day said that Mayor-elect J. Hampton Moore was letting the folks guess on cabinet makeups. He intends to consult leaders during the week. PUT DISCHARGES ON RECORD Gettysburg, Pa., Nov. 18.—Adam county's soldier boys back from war are having their discharges recorded in the office of the register and recorder.

Chambersburg, Pa., Nov. 18.—The sale of the late Dr. John J. Eckel, tracts of land in the south mountain district and numerous residential plots and residences in Chambersburg, amounted to over $40,000. Included in the sale were 39 shares of stock in the Chambersburg Ice and Cold Storage Company and 111 shares of stock in the Quincy Engine Company. A majority of the residences and plots located in Chambersburg were sold to E. E. Eckel, who also purchased two bungalows near Caledonia, for $2,025.

"Be Sure of Your Store"

The "Overcoat-Fair"

Where You Can Buy Your Overcoat For The Least Money

This will be an exceedingly busy week at this "Live Store" for every man and young man will want to wear his new Fall Togs on "Thanksgiving Day"—We have had a wonderful business ever since we started the "Overcoat-Fair" and the quantities of fine "Overcoats" we bought are moving out in rapid order.

It's a good thing we made such an enormous purchase when manufacturers were anxious to accept orders, for now they are so handicapped with limited production that they can't deliver more than 50 per cent of the late orders placed with them. Our early buying has proved a great benefit to our customers as well as to ourselves, because it not only gives you the advantage of big savings, but it assures a greater number of men and young men of having the right kind of clothing at more reasonable prices than would otherwise be possible.

The Doutrich stores have such an enormous out-put that they get every consideration possible from the manufacturers and our orders were cut, put into work, finished and shipped early. They were almost the very first to reach their destination. Long before our orders were sent to the cutting rooms this season, there were sharp advances.

Today, every Overcoat we have in stock costs from $5 to $20 more than we paid for them. You can easily figure why it's a benefit to you to buy your Overcoat at the "Overcoat-Fair" when you can get such wonderful values at

$30 $35 $40 $45 $50
