Plans for the building are clready in the hands of local architects.

Plans at present provide for the holding of one show, either in the spring or in the summer, in this building. The building will also be available for other purposes, dealers announce. The building, it is expected, will be one of the largest of the kind in Penrsylvania.

At the present time it is the intention to build a three-story building. There will be four storerooms on the ground floor that will be rented out for automobile purposes, accessories, etc. These rooms will be 20x80 feet. There will be a drive alley all around the building and at the rear of the storerooms. The entire building will be about 250 feet deep. The rear of the building will be used for garage and storage purposes. The two upper floors will be used for convention halls and will include about 50,000 square feet. This space is expected to provide sufficient room for some years to come.
