AND YOU HEAR THE

- AND - OH-H-H- BOY !!

AIN'T IT A GR-R-RAND

AND GLOR-R-RIOUS

FEELIN' ?

VOICE OF

A HATED

By BRIGGS

A NEWSPAPER FOR THE HOME Founded 1831

ublished evenings except Sunday by HE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO. clegraph Building, Federal Square E. J. STACKPOLE President and Editor-in-Chief

R. OYSTER, Business Manager GUS. M. STEINMETZ, Managing Editor A. R. MICHENER, Circulation Manager Executive Board

J.P. McCullough, BOYD M. OGLESBY, F. R. OYSTER, GUS. M. STEINMETZ.

Members of the Associated Press—The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

Member American Newspaper Pub-lishers' Associa-tion, the Audit Bureau of Circu-lation and Penn-sylvania Associa-ated Dailles.

Entered at the Post Office in Harris-burg, Pa., as second class matter.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 19, 1919

very last ballot.

It is not always good for the party or the country to have a Presiden tial nomination carefully cut and dried months in advance of the convention. It smacks sometimes of one-man rule or factional dominance, either of which are apt to result in disaffections during the ensuing campaign or lack of public confi-

It is not impossible that next year will produce for the Republicans "dark horse" and it may be that somebody not now apparently in the running on the Democratic side will come forward between this and next summer to snatch the standard of that party from the hands nov

WHERE THEY STAND

RANKLIN D'OLIER, newly chosen national commander of the American Legion, has issued one or two statements recently which indicate the purpose of this great orennization of former service men to stand squarely behind the Government in its attitude toward any person or group of persons attacking the law and order of this country or might have been suspected of draw

It was to be expected that the men city representatives—experts in their who went to Europe to safeguard the line—and holding Harrisburg up as liberties of the United States and an example, we cannot believe he the world would stand firm as a rock had anything in his mind but the against the insidious foes on this facts in the case. Beside, the Sena-side of the ocean. Their courage has been tested on the field of battle and not always given to saying the pleas present attitude against the lawless of which gives to his words an added weight.

Stitutions of this country. What they conquered on the battlefields of Europe they will suppress here at home wherever it shows its slimy

WEDNESDAY EVENING

The people of the United States have no thought that the trained soldiers who rallied to the colors to destroy the German autocracy will permit to develop in this country an autocracy even worse. Every step that has been taken recently has strengthened the hope that the brave men who fought that liberty might ing who will be candidates at the live will lead the way out of present coming primary and how they will difficulties into the sunlight of peace line up on the question of a State and contentment, real appreciation enforcement act. It is understood

HIGH PRAISE, INDEED

HE Telegraph quotes from the proceedings of the twentieth annual convention of the League of Cities of the Third Class held in Allentown last August, just issued, this portion of Senator Penrose's ad-

Iress:

"I know Harrisburg, which I am. of course, very familiar with having been elected a member of the Legislature there in 1884, was perhaps the deadest town on the face of the earth, outside of the abandoned cities of Asja, when I was first elected to the Legislature, and I remember very well of a man who went to Harrisburg, and opened a small notion store there, and I asked him how he came to come to Harrisburg, and place that was near a cemetery as nossible, so that his nervous say lossible, so that his nervous Harrisburg bids fair to and now Harrisburg bids fair to and he will be the world. They have constructed a magnificent river front and its park system, its new memorial proposal and the Captiol and the other developments in contemplation—I say without any dispute that there is no other Capital City in the United States at least that comes anywhere near it."

Had the Senator spoken thus in addressing a Harrisburg audience he tery, but addressing an audience of

Politics in Pennsylvania By the Ex-Committeeman

Early surveys of the senatorial of constituted authority and the in- to be the plan of the Anti-Saloon

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

WHEN YOU CALL ON THE SWEETEST THING IN THE WORLD AND YOU FIND HER ALONE AND YOU'VE GOT CLEAR FIELD - ALL

AND THEN YOU HEAR HER MAKING EXCUSES AND TELLING HIM SHE'S SO SORRY HE CAN'T. STAY ETC. ETC.

and contentment, real appreciation of constituted authority and the inalienable rights of free men.

MORE FOOL TALK

Nobody with any brains will take seriously the speech of "Jim" Maurer, in Chicago on Sunday, when he said, "the stage is set to crush American labor."
That is the kind of talk the "reds" and radicals who want to overthrow the United States Government are hashing up for ignorant folks, hoping to lead them into the toils of the terrorists.

These fellows know they speak falsehoods, but lies being the'r chief stock in trade they do not pause on that account.

American labor knows very well that it cannot be crushed, even though somebody were foolish enough to undertake it. Maurer knows that, too.

We should like to see published some of the other utterances of Maurer now carefully preserved in the files of the police. It is time the laboring men and all others of this State realize just what kind of a man Maurer is and where his sympathies really lie.

OUR DUTY

enforcement act. It is understood to be the plan of the Anti-Saloon League to present an enforcement act in the 1921 session and to start early to pledge candidates to support it.

Representative John W. Vickerman of Allegheny, leader of the heat House, was here looking over the field and called on Governor William C. Sproul, although he did not discuss that issue. Mr. Vickerman has been visiting various counties to look over the field. He will spend most of the winter covering the State and have a number of assistants in organizing the fight.

In the last session the State and have a number of assistants in organizing the fight.

In the last session the State and have a frederal matter, and nothing has been said as to what the policy next year will be.

It is likely that the liquor issue will enter into congressional cambens and the start was a frederal matter, and nothing has been accustomed to go the late fall. He will probably remain in Virginia over Thanksgiving Day. The remainder of this week he will have conferences with feave the lat

THING IS PROGRESSING

AND THEN SHE COMES

THAT SHE-GOT RID OF HIM

BACK AND ANNOUNCES

BELL RINGS'

The first of the freedrich of the freedrich of the first of the first

WENDROM, No. 19. And see all the see all t trical shop, a library, a greenhouse and I don't know what all. And the Camp Curtin building, as remodeled, is to all intents and purposes a duplicate. In these buildings children of the seventh, eighth and nine grades, ranging from eleven to fifteen years, are taught. Sixty years is not so long as we count time, and the transition in that period from the "elegant" six-room building in Mulberry street to the modern forty-five-room building in Nineteenth street is indeed most striking.

(To be Continued.)

servations in other countries and some wonderful conceptions of his own.

(To be Continued.)

Direct Delivery

[From the Pennsylvania FArmer]
The Department of Labor in commenting upon the cost of living says that products should flow smoothly from land to men. This is a self-from land to men. This is a self-from land to men This is a self-from lan

Evening Chat

Many people in Harrisburg do not realize just what the Memorial Bridge is going to mean for future realize just what the Memorial Bridge is going to mean for future inaugural parades. These are occasions when the State sends more people here to see the pageants than there are Harrisburgers out for the same purpose. For years and years the parades have been going over pretty much the same route, between rows of houses and without much opportunity, save in the vicinity of the Capitol, to get the effect of a big procession. Now when the Memorial Bridge is built and the People's Court is established in the Capitol park extension, there will be opportunity for spectacles that the people of the State who throng here at such times will have chances to see and go home and talk about. For instance, a parade can be formed up Third street and march down past the formal entrance of the Capitol that will be built, 100 feet wide and of the same material as the Capitol that will be built, 100 feet wide and of the same material as the Capitol that will be built, 100 feet wide and of the same material as the Capitol that will be built, 100 feet wide and of the same material as the Capitol that will be built, 100 feet wide and of the same material as the Capitol that will be built, 100 feet wide and of the same material as the Capitol that will be built from the Capitol that would be magnificent, while the massing of organizations in uniform or bands or banners in the great court at the Capitol would be something to remember. State streets, East and West, are coming into their proper relation to the Capitol, the place that was thought out for them more than 100 years ago, when William Maclay laid out State street with relation to the knoll as the site of the future Capitol.

George A. Shreiner, Assistant Supintendent of Public Grounds and as the site of the future Capitol.

George A. Shreiner, Assistant Supintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings, who has been living with the Capitol Park plans for two years, told me the other day that the People's Court, a conception of Arnold W. Brunner, was something that few people understood. "This court will be flanked on three sides by a granite terrace and the eastern end will be the Mall," said he. "Stand at the edge of the plaza just in front of the Capitol and look across to the houseline on Third street and you have an idea of the width of the Capitol and look across to the houseline on Third street and you have an idea of the width of the dozen times the width of the plaza now. And as for the length it will be as long as the State Capitol. It will be a place for gatherings such as does not exist in Pennsylvania and in few other States. It will contain fountains and be an ideal location for ceremonies. Mr. Brunner has adapted to this plan his observations in other countries and some wonderful conceptions of his own."

It may be said that the State Museum came into its own yesterno matter what is done,
"strikes" with most prodigious ease, from morn till set of sun.
"strikes" if anything goes wrong, and "strikes" if all goes right.
"strikes" because he likes to "strike" because he likes to "strike" and "strikes" with all his might.

e are some awful "strikers" with all his might.

e are some awful "strikers" on this wicked mundane sphere, landed here by accident, and "strike" because they're here. make themselves more trouble, they cause good men to "hike," drive their friends to suicide, and still they always "strike" or trained workers, while what is shown in the way of development of youngsters is important to every teacher.

WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

—Superintendent G. W. Sweeney, of Elk county, is one of the most active of educators here this week and is prominent in State organizations of school men.

—Ex-Mayor Ira W. Stratton, of right, and men begin to smile.

They "strike" on general principles, and "striketh" all the while.
—Boyd S. Fowler, Yard Brakeman, P. R. R. Harrisburg, Pa.

The Day of the Lord

Blow ye the trumpets in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain; let all the inhabitants of the land tremble; for the day of the Lord cometh, for it is nigh at hand.
—Joel ii, 1.

The Only One in Captivity

[From Cartoons Magazine.]
I'll never win a beauty prize, I'm not a perfect thirty-six; My lack of brains I can't disguise, Although I've tried, by divers

DO YOU KNOW

-That Harrisburg furnished bread to some of the army camps last year?

HISTORIC HARRISBURG A hundred years ago Harrisburi as just commencing to discuss pub-