

BRITISH RELEASE NAVAL OFFICERS

Complete Task of Clearing Home Waters of Moored Mines

London, Nov. 19.—The task of clearing the home waters of moored mines having been finished, the Admiralty has directed the release of all but 3,000 officers and men who have been engaged in this dangerous work. During the war there were 600 officers and 15,000 men engaged in the mine-sweeping service. Drifting mines must still be expected, shipping men have been warned, but it is believed that south-west winds will soon drift them into the Heligoland light.

the moored mines and the highest tides were chosen for sweeping so that the trawlers drifted over them. No warship or merchant vessel obeying instructions struck a moored mine in areas under British control, but six or seven fishing vessels were mined.

PROSPERITY IS BACK IN CHILE

Shipment of Nitrate Sold to English Buyers Brings Big Results

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 19.—Prosperity is coming back to Chile already as a result of the first shipment of part of the 600,000 tons of nitrate sold to English buyers by the committee formed in London by the Nitrate Producers' Association. It will all be delivered within the months of October and March and virtually places the control of the nitrate trade for the time being in the hands of Great Britain. British ships are carrying the fertilizer. Export duties on nitrate form the main source of the state's revenues and the present fiscal year had shown a heavy deficit on account of the curtailment of nitrate sales. The present undertaking, however, has had a tonic effect on exchange which at this writing, has gone up almost two points. Likewise, all stocks related to nitrate also have risen. Unrest in Chile, due to the high cost of living and the desire of labor for better working conditions, took the form early in September of a small strike among the brewery hands which later called out various other trades in sympathy. The general strike lasted five days and troops were called out in some instances to handle trains, street cars, run bakeries and protect nonunion men who continued at work. Two days after the general walk-out, however, the executive committee of the Labor Federation placed their disputes in the hands of the government, declaring that "patriotism impelled them not to hinder the production of the country when every effort was needed to improve the economic situation." The government thereupon appointed a permanent Court of Conciliation which in future, will consider and arbitrate all labor disputes.

ALL TEACHERS ARE ENROLLED

Battle Against Tuberculosis Is Declared to Be Everybody's Fight

"This is everybody's fight," writes Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, State Commissioner of Education, in appealing to 44,000 school teachers in Pennsylvania to bring the tuberculosis fight and the attendant Christmas seal sale to the attention of their pupils on Red Cross Seal Day in the schools on Friday, December 19. "The fight particularly concerns the school of to-day because its success or failure is of first importance to the community of to-morrow," declares Dr. Finegan. "The Commissioner also urges examination of children and proper treatment for youthful victims of the white plague." Dr. Finegan's letter to all school superintendents follows: "Hon. William G. Sprout, Governor of Pennsylvania, has designated Friday, December 5, 1919, to be observed as Tuberculosis Day in the schools of the State. The Governor suggests that the attention be given by him that the schools give special instruction in regard to the white plague menace and that the teachers should explain how the public can aid in preventing the spread of this disease and in ultimately stamping it out altogether. The Governor says: 'Only when the public is fully informed concerning the nature of the fight against tuberculosis will it be possible to cause the reduction in the annual tuberculosis death rate that those engaged in tuberculosis work confidently hope for.' 'No state in the Union has been more aggressive than Pennsylvania in the fight it has made against tuberculosis. The fact that a National-wide observance of Tuberculosis Day is possible is, in a considerable measure, due to the influence of the tuberculosis program in our Commonwealth.' 'It would be entirely proper to make a powerful appeal to the personal interest and a public duty of children in the school and to bring home to every individual some pertinent questions, for example: 'Are you going to be one of the 10,000 Pennsylvanians who die in a year of tuberculosis? Are you willing to be one of the 75,000 sufferers from this white plague? Or are you going to be one of the 8,000,000 Pennsylvanians to help stamp out this menace to human happiness in the next ten years?' 'This is everybody's fight. The person who is so negligent or so unfortunate as to contract the disease does not suffer alone. He threatens the life and happiness of his family and his friends. He is a menace to the public on the streets, in public conveyances, in school and church and at the movie or other place of amusement. The fight, then, particularly concerns the school of to-day because its success or failure is of first importance to the community of to-morrow. One thing they can all do at once; that is, use the Red Cross Seal of 1919. Let us present the cause of good health, with particular reference to the anti-tuberculosis campaign, at this Christmas season when the spirit of good will is dominant in our thoughts. The Red Cross Seal of 1919 has a particular appeal to children. Santa Claus, printed in red with white figures on his outfit, and a white beard, stands with a full pack at the top of a chimney ready to descend. Devotion to such a good health movement is a fine exemplification of the spirit of Christmas. 'This is a proper time to have an examination of every child who has any of the usual symptoms of this disease. The medical inspector of your district should be requested to make an examination of each child who shows any of the symptoms of such disease. Provision should be made for supplying each of these children with proper treatment, and in all cases where the home may not be able to provide such treatment the nurses and school visitors should follow up such cases.' SIX HURT IN CRASH When an automobile crashed into a curb at Cameron and Berryhill streets, one man was injured and five others were slightly shaken up. A call was sent to the Harrisburg Hospital, but the men had proceeded on their way before the arrival of the ambulance.

So Much Seized Booze Police Quarters Blocked

New York, Nov. 19.—If some enterprising thief with a taste for liquor as great as that usually accredited to Omar Khayyam would drop into New York Police Headquarters and speed away with the stock of confiscated liquors now reposing there, he would take a great weight from the mind of James E. Murray, property clerk. Because of a measure passed three years ago, preventing destruction of liquor seized in raids, one of the largest and most diversified stocks in the United States has accumulated at headquarters, Murray announced. With all the storeroom space taken up by kegs and bottles, he appealed to-day to Corporation Counsel Burr for advice on what to do. Even with the numberless parched throats in this city, Mr. Burr was forced to "reserve decision."
