

GREAT BRITAIN TO HELP EGYPT GET FOOTHOLD

England Will Send Mission to Work Out a Plan of Government

By Associated Press. Cairo, Nov. 20.—The object of Great Britain in Egypt is to defend that country against all external powers and the interference of any foreign power and at the same time establish a constitutional system, in which—under British guidance so far as is necessary—the Sultan and his ministers and the elected representatives of the people may in their several spheres increasingly co-operate in the management of Egyptian affairs.

of the country under British protection and develop a system of self-government under an Egyptian ruler. The object of Great Britain is to defend Egypt against all external dangers or the interference of any foreign power and at the same time establish a constitutional system, in which—under British guidance so far as is necessary—the Sultan and his ministers and the elected representatives of the people may in their several spheres increasingly co-operate in the management of Egyptian affairs.

"His Majesty's government has decided to send a mission to Egypt to work out the details of a constitution to carry out this object, and in consultation with the Sultan, his ministers and the Egyptian representatives, to undertake the preliminary work requisite before the future form of government can be settled.

"It is not the function of the mission to impose a constitution on Egypt. Its duty is to explore the ground and discuss with the authorities on the spot the reforms necessary and propose, it is hoped, in complete agreement with the Sultan and his ministers, a scheme of government which can subsequently be put into force."

RAILROAD NEWS

TIME IS LOST IN VIOLATIONS

Summary of Middle Division Violations Prove This; Safety First

Interesting figures are given in a special discipline bulletin issued by J. C. Johnson, superintendent of the Middle Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. These bulletins are a part of the "Safety First" movement on the Pennsylvania, and show violations of rules and practices.

Superintendent Johnson has prepared a summary of the discipline bulletins issued during October, and refers to the loss of time as a result of "thoughtlessness and carelessness. He adds:

"It does not seem possible that it should be necessary to discipline employees for not taking the proper precaution or care in their daily work, when their own safety and that of their fellow workmen are the ones involved. Think and act safely at all times and you will avoid injury and make the railroad safe for yourself and others." The summary follows:

October Summary
One hundred and four employees reprimanded; 9 employees suspended one round trip; 14 employees suspended one day; 65 employees suspended two days; 12 employees suspended three days; 3 employees suspended four days; 11 employees suspended five days; 17 employees suspended seven days; one employee suspended ten days; 4 employees suspended fourteen days; one employee suspended thirty days; 11 employees suspended fifteen days; total, 250 employees lost about 630 days' time.

WRECK TIES UP QUEEN OF VALLEY

Engine With Nine Cars Pile Up Near Annville; Broken Rails Discovered

An engine and nine cars were piled up last night on the Harrisburg division of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, at Miller's crossing, near Annville. The person was killed or injured. The Queen of the Valley, due here at 10:30 p. m., was held up until long after midnight. A special was run from Harrisburg to the wreck and passengers transferred around the wreck.

It was an eastbound freight that was wrecked, and was caused by the rim of the large driving wheel coming off when the engineer applied the airbrakes to slow up for orders. The nine cars were loaded with merchandise and coal and were piled up all over the east and westbound tracks.

Broken Rails Cause Trouble
This was the worst mixup on the Harrisburg division in a long time. On the line east of Lebanon there have been numerous delays, due to bad rails. On Sunday another broken rail was discovered near Myerstown close to where the Saturday trouble occurred.

On Monday Philadelphia Express due here at 11:40 a. m. struck a bad rail near Myerstown. Two feet of the switch rail was broken off and carried some distance by the train until the latter was stopped. Trackmen were obliged to use the other broken rail was discovered Tuesday morning near Myerstown station.

Pig Clubs Financed by Chamber of Commerce Did Wonderful Work

Farmers' boys and girls throughout the county were enabled to participate in the Boys' and Girls' Pig Club contests during the past summer through the efforts of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce which financed their efforts where their parents were unable to do so, according to an announcement at the Chamber offices to-day.

Through one of the banks, the Chamber of Commerce enabled the boys and girls who wished to compete for the prizes offered in the pig contests, to borrow the necessary money for the purchase of a pig at the beginning of the season. Arrangements were made through the Chamber whereby the youths borrowing the money would not have to repay it if the porker thus purchased should die before the end of the season. In one case, the owner of a pig purchased in this manner lost it through disease, and the debt against the youngster was canceled.

In order to borrow the money the approval of the farm agent, H. G. Niesley, had to be secured in most cases by the young farmers. Mr. Niesley gave his personal supervision to the efforts of the young pig growers to assure the success of their ventures.

William Crum, of Lower Paxton township, won first prize in the county and first prize in his club, in the pig contest. He raised a porker which gained 1.9 pounds during 126 consecutive days. The first prize for the county, a fine full bred Berkshire pig, was contributed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce is active in promoting the work of the farm bureau among the agricultural districts of the county, contributing to the upkeep of the bureau through a donation of office space and money.
