PRINCE FAVORS GIRL KNOWN HERE

Miss Margaret Symonds, of Washington, Singled Out by Prince of Wales

Mrs. Wareham Strong Baldwin, of 1601 North Second street, left yesterday for Washington, D. C., to be the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Clarence Crittendon Calhoun, at 1519 New Hampshire avenue, who frequently visited her aunt, Mrs. Harry W. Knight in this city, when she was Miss Daisy Breux of New Orleans.

In connection with Mrs. Calhoun, the Washington papers have a pretty story of the recent visit of the Prince of Wales to the National Capital. While that democratic young man was royally entertained he did not confine himself to the conventional program arranged for his visit.

He made several little side calls, one of them on Miss Margaret Symonds, Mrs. Calhoun's daughter, whom he met at Mrs. Joseph's house, and urged her to come to New York for the further festivities in his honor.

It seems that Admiral Halsey, who escorted Miss Symonds home from the party found in the Calhoun home portraits of two old friends — Sir Douglas Gordon, who lost his life in the recent war and Lord Alton, only son of the Earl of Mar, premier peer of Scotland, both men, cousins of Mrs. Calhoun.

FAIRY OPERETTA PRODUCED HERE

Sunshine Society Benefit Will Attract Lovers of Cinderella and the Prince

Judging by the rehearsals for the Operetta Cinderella, Harrisburg people are to be accorded a treat far out of the ordinary. The best talent the city affords is to be in the production and while it is home talent it is not, by any means, amateur. There are hundreds of dollars worth of costumes to be worn and the stage settings and scenery are of the best and correspondingly expensive.

Fairies hold forth to their hearts' content as "Moonlight," Miss Katherine Stamm will be the busiest one for she has the destinies of all lovers in her care and to guide the Prince to true love and a charming bride is something only a smart fairy can do.

Miss Stamm is the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Carson Stamm, pupil of Mrs. Roy Cox and a student member in the Wednesday Club.

The hated step-sisters, MaHnda (Mrs. C. K. Weigle) and Belinda, (Mrs. Elizabeth Weigle) find all in their power to thwart the efforts of Moonlight for they both want to marry the Prince (Jerry Hamilton). Here is where dramatic ability counts for it is not easy for sweet young ladies to take the part of disagreeable, spiteful old maids.

The beautiful chorus will be in a Rosy Ring, a Wishing Ring, Fairy Ring. Flowers rarely dance before mortal eyes and this is an exception for they are happy.

The cast includes: Genevieve Nissley, Gertrude Palmer, Charlotte Packler, Mary Wecker, Annette Virginia Dehne, Louise Diener, Ellis Fitch, Ruby Frey, while the dear little rosbuds are Louise Heckman, Virginia Suors, Grace Snyder, Mildred Blaser, Ruth Keener, Ruth Gross, Sarah Jane Tunis, Gladys Poulson.

To Hold Penn State Dinner at Colonial Country Club

The committee in charge of the Penn State dinner to be held Friday evening at the Colonial Country Club reports that practically all the Penn State students who have been invited to attend in touch have signified their intention to be present. If the names of any local State men have been omitted, they have been invited to attend despite the fact that the committee has arranged for automobiles to meet in the Square before 6:15 o'clock to convey the guests to the club, if the weather is fair. In case of bad weather, the 6:30 o'clock Lingiestown car will be used.

Oak Troop, Girl Scouts, in Clever Baby Party

At a recent meeting of the Oak Troop Girl Scouts a baby party was enjoyed. The scouts were all dressed in kiddie clothes and kindergarten games were played. Later in the evening, the new captain, Mrs. Hillar, and the new lieutenant, Miss Kauffman, were put through the Thirty-second degree by the girls. At the conclusion of the rites flowers were rewarded them for the graceful manner in which they bore the initiation. Refreshments were served to the entire troop, every member being present.

At a meeting of the troop it was decided to take a hike on Saturday with the purpose in view of learning to shoot. Mrs. Hillar, the captain will be in charge. A central team will also be organized in the near future. Other teams wishing to arrange for a game have been requested to call "peggy" Rodenhiser, at 376R, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.
