FIREMEN FEAST THEIR SOLDIERS

Addresses by United States Commissioner and Old Boys of Company

Chambersburg, Pa., Nov. 21.— Junior Hose and Truck Company, which is a social organization as list of membership embracing 30 of the best men of the town, held a roast pig and sauerkraut supper last night in honor of the 40 mem bers of the company who saw serv ice in the American army during bers of the company who saw service in the American army during the recent war.

Three of those boys "went west," one is in Siberia, a couple still in France, but the rest of them were honored guests of this occasion. There were over 200 men about the tables in the first floor room of the Second street fire house and they surrounded a royal feast. The band of the Scotland Soldiers Orphans School gave a program of music and when cigars were lighted and chairs tilted back Hon. Norman L. Bonbrake, United States Commissioner, took the gavel and conducted a happy social hour.

There were no set addresses but a score or more of the "Old boys," such as "Pop" Henninger, "Billie" Foltz, "Jimmie" Flack, "Jake" Shafer and nearly as many of the active fire fighters made Impromptu talks, induged in reminiscence or sang a song as the spirit prompted. An engraved life membership card was given each member whose name has been placed on the life membership roll.

Woman Threw Red Pepper Into Faces of Workmen; Fined

Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 21.—Because she threw red pepper into the faces of workmen, who returned to work in the steel plants, Rose Yeager was yesterday fined $50 and costs. Two other women were fined $25 for disorderly conduct in interfering with men going to work. The actions of the women occurred before the strike at the steel plant was called off by the union officials.

Several men were also fined for throwing pepper and interfering with workmen.

Congregation Welcomes Pastor With Its Gifts

Washington Heights. Pa., Nov. 21.
After the prayer service at Calvary United Brethren Church on Wednesday evening, groceries and vegetables to the amount of $17 were given the new pastor, the Rev. F. F. Kohler, and his good wite as a token of welcome. Among the gifts was a hen that persisted in making her presence known. The Rev. Mr. Kohler had served charges at Duncannon and West Fairview. He is a graduate of Lebanon Valley Colege and Bonebrake Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio. The program included an address by J. C. Firestone, a selection by the ladies' quartet, a responsive address by the pastor, solo by Mrs. H. L. Waggoner, a song by the congregation and a closing prayer by the pastor.

Ohio Man Instantly Killed in Accident

Bedford, Pa., Nov. 21.—Clifford Arick, a resident of Medina, Ohio, was instantly killed at Grand View, near Shellsburg when a Ford car in which he and another man were driving turned turtle in the road. There were two cars, containing a number of people from Ohio, on their way to Florida.

The light snow of the early morning had made the roads slippery and in making a turn, the car skidded and turned over. Arick suffered a fracture of the skull and his companion suffered from a broken collar bone. The body was prepared for burial at Bedford.

$167.50 to $650

We can say with extreme modesty that at this moment we are showing perhaps the most extensive line of fur coats ever shown in Harrisburg. Fur coats have, as you know, become extremely fashionable, and rightly so, because they are serviceable. A fur coat is bought for more than one season. It can well be worn for many years.

The variety comprises select furs such as Hudson Seal, (Dyed Muskrat), Marmot, Mole, Near Seal, Squirrel, Natural Muskrat, Australian Opossum. The models are developed with collars of the same furs as well as with collars and cuffs of contrasting furs.

Our fur garments are made by the highest class of furriers whose responsibility for quality in the pelts as well as in the workmanship is unquestionable.

A most alluring collection of fur scarfs is represented in the fashionable furs at very moderate prices.

For Saturday's Patrons We Present a Very Unusual Showing of Fashionable Winter Coats

These coats are entirely different from the usual styles seen at these popular prices. The distinctiveness of the models developed as they are in the most desirable materials and the artistic tailoring quite naturally appeal to the eye of the discriminating. Many of the coats are trimmed with fur collars and are strikingly modish.
