

KIWANIS CLUB TO AID DRIVE

Businessmen Plan For Exhibition to Be Held in February

Alex S. Henderson, of Johnstown, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club yesterday at the Penn-Harris. Mr. Henderson spent twenty-one years at sea, and told some wonderful tales of ocean life.

After the address of Richard M. H. Wharton, of the Patriot Company, on the advisability of boosting the Kiwanis business show in February, the number of booths taken for this show was found to be forty-six of a possible fifty. The club pledged itself to aid the $150,000 drive of the Polyclinic Hospital for larger quarters.

MUSIC COMEDY IS ENJOYABLE

'Very Good Eddie' in Vaudeville Pleases Majestic Audiences

'Very Good Eddie,' one of the musical comedy successes on the legitimate stage, came to Harrisburg again as a vaudeville offering and it was a hit with the Majestic audiences last night.

Those who happened to see the entire comedy almost two years ago at the Orpheum, and saw it again in abbreviated form last night found little to criticize. It certainly is much better than some of the "musical comedies" which have graced Majestic programs in the last few months.

The comedy is a natural result of an unusual situation. Imagine two newlywed brides exchanging husbands for a few hours on their wedding day. Add to it a hotel clerk who is a good comedian, and slip a few songs into the program for diversion. Who wouldn't enjoy that? A few of the best songs of the original stage success are still presented, among them "Isn't It Great to Be Happily Married?" and "Babies in the Wood." The latter is one of the songs from musical comedy of recent years that is still remembered.

In the cast are Carney Christie and Jean Thomas as Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kettle; Jack O'Brien and Helen Gunther, as Mr. and Mrs. Percy Darling, the newlywed couples. Lew Fullerton is the hotel clerk and has no trouble in sending the audience into an uproar.

The Majestic bill for the weekend opens with Fred Eldredge and some musical culture advice and a remarkable feat of endurance which wins much applause.

Marshall and Lovett are next in comedy and dancing, the latter proving to be the most popular of their offerings. They are followed by the musical comedy.

EDISON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Edison General Council which consists of all the presidents from the forty sections at Edison and a number of teachers, one from each department of the school, met a few days ago and elected a permanent organization by electing officers. George Snyder, who is president of section 9B-7 was elected president of the council, Edward Yeager of section 9B-7 was chosen vice-president. For secretary they elected Gustie Martin of section 9B-4 and for the assistant secretary they elected Theima Lingie, section 9B-6.

Several sections are preparing programs for the general auditorium exercises. The program to-morrow will be given before the second division of the school, which consists of the seventh grade. Community Vice-president William Heary will preside during auditorium exercises to-morrow.

Section 8A-3 have made arrangements to hold literary programs during the special activities periods. At a recent meeting President Theodore Nye appointed a program committee which will make all arrangements for these programs. The committee consists of the following students: Richard Wilder, chairman, George Jones, Welton Doler, Edria Thompson, Marzella Willard and Irene Kohler.

George Jones will play a cornet solo during the home room activities period next Tuesday.

The Educational Congress has brought many educators to the city this week from all parts of the State. Many of these have taken advantage of this opportunity to look over Edison. The interest of these educators vary. Some come to see the building because they are arranging to build similar structures, some wish to study the supervised study period, some wish to see what the equipment and general outline of the general science courses are. The music, domestic science, domestic arts, and manual arts courses interest many others. Still others are interested in the physical training courses. Almost all are keenly interested in the special activities periods. Among the many educators who have visited the school are: Superintendent S. E. Weber, former president of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association, of Scranton, Pa.; Superintendent J. B. Busch, of the city schools of Erie, Pa.; Superintendent H. W. Dodd and C. F. Seidel, supervisor of the seventh and eighth grades, both of Allentown, Pa.; Superintendent H. H. Zeiser and Robert Ireland, supervisor of grounds and buildings, both of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Pittsburgh was represented by at least four of her public school educators. They were: Miss Effie P. Fick, principal of the Lee School, and Principals V. B. Bennett, Miss Louise Blessing and Miss Adda May Mann from other schools of Pittsburgh.

Among the other visitors were: Superintendent C. M. Hausknecht, Lock Haven, Pa.; Superintendent C. C. Kelso, Swissvale, Pa.; Superintendent William D. Landis, Northampton, Pa.; Miss Martha Mathews Owen, supervisor of music, Dunmore, Pa.; Stanley G. Brenner, supervisor of arts, and John Mehl, both of Erie, Pa., and Mrs. Gertrude Barnard, Plainsboro, N. J.

The officers of section 9B-2 are: President, Carl E. Blumenstine; vice-president, Gertrude Klemm; secretary, Katharine Robinson; assistant secretary, Wilma Smith; treasurer, David Chidsey; assistant treasurer, Caroline Stauffer; class captain for girls, Esther Baumann; lieutenant for girls, Katherine Brandigan; class captain for boys, Kinneard McLeary; lieutenant for boys, Kennard Markley. These officers will serve their class during the remainder of the present semester.
