

SCOTT MAY FLY AIRSHIP TO U. S.

Man Who Flew R-34, Likely to Command R-38 on Ocean Trip

London, Nov. 24.—The R-38, Great Britain's largest airship, recently sold to the United States, is capable of traveling 34 hours longer without refueling than the largest German airship constructed before the armistice. She also embodies another achievement in the aerial constructors' art. With her enormous capacity of 2,720,000 cubic feet, a third larger than that of the R-34 of trans-Atlantic fame, the R-38 has a "lifting" power of 60 tons of cargo. This is 60 per cent of her total "lifting" power, 82 tons. The airship's weight, 32 tons, is reckoned as "dead liftage."

The sale is attributable to demands for economy that have been made on the British air ministry. Construction of the R-38 was begun last year at Inchinnan, on the Clyde, where the R-34 was built. Her cruising endurance will be 45 miles per hour for nearly nine days. In length she is 498 feet, 25 feet longer than the R-34, and her girth is 87 feet six inches. The airship is equipped with four 150-horsepower Sunbeam Cossack engines and two 275-horsepower Sunbeam Maori engines. Altogether she will develop a horsepower of nearly 2,000. Her speed will be 70 miles per hour. It is rumored in English aeronautical circles that she will be completed in a few months, by Major Scott, who flew the R-34 to America and back.

Modify Rules For Running Railroads in Occupied Germany

Coblenz, Nov. 24.—The Allied High Command has just modified the regulations controlling German railroad employees in the occupied territory in an effort to restore satisfactory relations between the military and civil authorities and the railroad employees. A general strike was threatened last week on the railroads and there were labor disturbances in the Saar basin, in the Palatinate and in the region of Trier. Under the new rules uniformed agents of the civil service and railroad employees will not be required to salute Allied officers. Railroad employees may organize committees of workmen and employes as provided by the German law of January 18, 1919. Representatives of the railway workmen also agreed to the Inter-Allied Railway Commission from time to time for the discussion of any misunderstandings. The high command also agreed to study the coal and food situation as affecting the railroad men with a view of relieving the high cost of living.

King Peter in Poor Health and Is Deaf

Belgrade, Serbia, Nov. 24.—King Peter, of the new Kingdom of Croats and Slavones, is in poor health and totally deaf. The aged monarch is living in a quiet monastic retreat outside the city having been brought recently from Piraeus, Greece. Doctors agreed that he cannot live many years. His entire right side is paralyzed, and he is able to walk a few steps, and then only with the aid of crutches. He has practically retired from the world, but he keeps himself in active part in the affairs of his kingdom. His physician is his only companion.

Ask New Franchise For Indian Women

London, Nov. 24.—Miss Mithal Tata, a young Indian graduate of Bombay University, has come to England with her mother, Mrs. Merabai Tata, to ask for the inclusion of women in the new franchise scheme for India. Mrs. Tata represents Bombay women and 43 branches of the Indian Women's Association. Because they arrived too late to give evidence before the Parliamentary Committee on Indian affairs their full statement is being published as an appendix to the report.

McAdoo's Rail Regime Denounced as Blunder

New York, Nov. 24.—Blundering, incapacity and high prices were the terms used in a categorical denunciation of the United States Railroad Administration, under former Director William G. McAdoo, by W. G. Bealer, president of the Central Railroad of New Jersey in his address Saturday before the Academy of Political Sciences, assembled in third session at the Hotel Astor.

The Advantage of Early Shopping

Thoughtful buyers will shop early this season; and, better by far, early in the day. Early in the season, because an old-fashioned Christmas, with generous buying, promises an onslaught on limited supplies. Early in the day, because customers and salespeople then are refreshed; judgment is surer; fatigue is far away. Human effort bends under the strain of shoppers in mass. Avoid congestion; try to make way for those who are not privileged to do their shopping early.

Those Thanksgivings of Yore

And the Survival of Their Romance in Dining Room Furniture of Modern Craftsmanship

"They were never-to-be-forgotten functions, those feast days at the Old Homestead. At the head of the richly grained Sheraton mahogany, grandfather presided; about its bountifully laden length the reunited family gathered, and though that joyous gathering meets no more, I awaken to a reassuring comfort in the fact that no less worthy is my own dining room table—Sheraton, like grandfather's, and fashioned in a manner no less enduring."

Suits that reproduce the classic lines of olden-time furniture designing:—

- $325.00 for a Chippendale Dining Room Suite of nine pieces, in American Walnut.
- $330.00 for a Queen Anne Dining Room Suite of nine pieces, in American Walnut.
- $395.00 for a Sheraton Dining Room Suite of ten pieces, in Antique Mahogany.
- $427.00 for a Queen Anne Dining Room Suite of nine pieces, in American Walnut, including 66-inch buffet and 54-inch extension table.
