

SUGGESTIONS FOR CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION

Probability That Many Will Be Made; Hearings to Be Held During Winter

The Constitutional Revision Commission, which has been called to meet here on Tuesday, December 9, to begin the study of the organic law of the State is not going to want for suggestions. Some are already being made. Letters have come to the State Capitol embodying the ideas of men who have been making studies of the constitution and who will ask to be heard. While there will be hearings given by committees in charge of related subjects, it is improbable that they will start before March. The first aim will be to make a thorough study of the constitutional provisions as they exist to-day, selecting those to stand and those which it is deemed advisable to change. Then changes will be considered.

One of the suggestions heard is a change of the time of inauguration of the Governor, which is not favored so much as it was a few years ago in the State. "It is my idea that the Constitutional Revision Commission should sit three days the first week that it meets and three days the next week and come back after the holidays and stick to work," said Attorney General William I. Schaffer, chairman of the new Constitutional Revision Commission, in discussing the task of the Commission which he has called to meet in the Senate chamber in the State Capitol on Tuesday morning, December 9. Mr. Schaffer returned here last night.

"The Commission has a great work before it, but I do not see any reason why it could not complete the preliminary study by, say, the middle of February," said the Attorney General. "The Commission will probably resolve itself into groups which would have charge of related subjects and some of them can soon decide upon a general outline and then work toward it."

Mr. Schaffer said that he thought that the bulk of the work could be out of the way by the middle of May if the Commission was able to devote itself to studies for the first two months. There have been all sorts of suggestions made and Mr. Schaffer said that no one could say now what changes would be recommended. "That is a matter for the Commission to say. It will study and prepare some ideas and probably have hearings and formulate a report. I believe it could get the work in shape in half a year," said he. "One thing I am sure of and that is that we will get right to work. The Governor wishes that and I think the members of the Commission think the same way. We will not only organize and appoint committees, but begin work on December 9."

West End/Future Greats Who Are After Edison's Scalp in First Game For City Championship

Get set. Real football to-morrow. Camp Curtin vs. Edison.

First annual championship battle for Junior High title. Football fans have had much to talk about this season. Tech's work is putting them at the top for scholastic honors, but there is to be a battle in which there is just as strong interest. This game takes place to-morrow afternoon, and all Harrisburg will turn out to see the first annual battle between Camp Curtin and Edison for the local Junior championship. Play will start at 3 o'clock at Island field.

On the east side will be lined the student body of Camp Curtin, winners of the toss this year. They will have a band, big cheer crowd and some big noise devices. Edison will be just as busy on the west side of the field and will have a large student following. Both schools will parade to the island, starting their respective processions at 2 o'clock.

Chances Are Even. To pick the winner would be some task. Both teams have had the services of coaches who have won fame in football. "Shorty" Miller, former Central High and Penn State star, is directing Edison; while Horace Geisel, former football and basketball star, is looking after Camp Curtin. In addition to each team being a winner in most of the games played, there have been hard, daily scrimmages equal to any game. The one desire of each coach has been to produce something extraordinary in a junior grid eleven. There will be stars on both teams. It is the general belief that there will be thrills to-morrow. Neither coach has announced definitely the lineup, but here are the players who have been picked to be in shape for the great game:

- Left End—McLinn or Thompson.
- Left Tackle—Heary or Holmes.
- Left Guard—Fellers or Jones.

Jay in Conference With Premier Nitti

Rome, Nov. 25.—Peter A. Jay, American charge d'affaires, had a long interview with Premier Nitti to-day. Neither the premier nor the American embassy would make any statement relative to the subjects discussed, but it was indicated that Mr. Jay received a favorable impression from the outline Premier Nitti gave of the Italian situation. After his talk with Mr. Jay the premier had an hour's audience with King Victor Emmanuel.

Local Man Considers the "Man-Heil" Worth Many Times Its Cost

Quickly Relieved of Asthma and Heavy Coughing Spells. After using the Man-Heil Automatic Inhaler only four weeks, Mr. Norman A. Fager, 1739 North Third St., tells of the wonderful relief obtained in the following letter, dated September 26: "About four weeks ago I purchased one of your Man-Heil Inhalers at the Gorgas Drug Store, 16 North Third St., and I wish to tell you of the wonderful relief it has afforded me. This year I have been able to work all during the hay fever period, where in former years I was obliged to remain at home. Have been able to sleep well this year, but other years have had Asthma with the Hay Fever. Since using your Inhaler and Bemedey have had no Asthma attack. Former years was troubled with very heavy coughing spells, but this year spells were very slight and did not have to leave bed at night as formerly. I would not take a great deal of money for my Inhaler if it could not be replaced. Your remedy is wonderful when used on gauze if not convenient to carry Inhaler. Medicine that quickly soothes and heals the inflammation is automatically administered to all parts of the Lungs and Air Passages by giving relief in thousands of cases after all other remedies have failed. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. On sale at all three Gorgas Drug Stores. For free booklet, write Frederick Heilmann Co., Johnstown, Pa."

Allen, of Allegheny, were at the Capitol.

The Lesson of John Mitchell's Deathbed Will
UPON the death, a few weeks ago, of John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers of America, it was found that he had accumulated a fortune of about $250,000. But he had neglected making a will until just before undergoing the operation which did not save his life. This will was declared invalid because it had not been properly witnessed, and therefore Mr. Mitchell's property can not be distributed exactly as he had wished. Your safest plan is to go to your lawyer now and have him draw your will naming the Dauphin Deposit Trust Company as your executor. Then you may rest assured that your will cannot be set aside and that your wishes touching your property and your heirs will be carried out faithfully.

Mitchell's Will Void; Labor Man Left $244,296.65
All but $16,396.65 is in Stocks and Bonds; Document Prepared on Death Bed Was Not Witnessed
WHITE PLAINS, Sept. 30.—John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers of America, and chairman of the State Industrial Commission, left an intended will, disposing of an estate valued at $244,296.65. The attempted will was not witnessed, however, and the widow, Mrs. Catherine Mitchell, applied here to-day for let-in of administration, disregarding the invalid document. The document was written by Mr. Mitchell on one of his personal letters heads on August 30, 1919, just previous to undergoing an operation.
