ENGLAND NEEDS CHORUS GIRLS London, Nov. 26.—England is experiencing a shortage of chorus girls, according to some theatrical agents, and stage managers. Plenty of young women are still anxious to get into the limelight, but experienced girls are said to be far less plentiful than they were. One theatrical agent has explained the situation thus: "During the war a large number of chorus girls, show girls, and 'small-part' ladies left the stage for other work. Some are remaining in it permanently; others have not yet come back to the theater.

"Many girls, too, were married to officers during the war, and have now no need or inclination to go back to the stage. The lack of first-class show girls for the provincial pantomimes is becoming particularly acute. It is almost impossible to get them to go out of London. Even salaries of four pounds are not tempting them."

offered by Mr. Magaro and the Kiwanis Club will furnish the Municipal band for the occasion. A committee from the club will assist Mr. Magaro in caring for the kiddies and in seeing to it that they enjoy the big time.

The Regent will open to-morrow at the usual time, and patrons of the theater may find the morning performance as usual. The program providing for the appearance of Marguerite Clark and Billy West as advertised elsewhere in this paper will be carried out.

Critique Salvage Operations on the French Battlefields

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—Civilian visitors returning from tours of the battlefields in France criticize the salvage operations still being carried on there. "Men who ought to be back at their work in England are engaged in collecting useless scrap on every battlefield under the direction of officers who have lost all keenness for work since the war ended a year ago," commented one returning visitor.

"I spoke to two officers, each of whom told me that the value of the salvage would not compare with the money spent in these operations," said another.

Others say that the French are complaining of the presence of thousands of Chinese laborers engaged on this work laying out tennis courts or building useless army huts.

DAYLIGHT SAVING MOVE IS SPREADING RAPIDLY, THROUGHOUT NATION Surveys in Sixteen States Show Progress; Campaign Will Be Extended Before Next April, Declares Head of Daylight Boosters

New York, Nov. 26.—Surveys by Chambers of Commerce and Industrial organizations are in progress in sixteen states to ascertain public sentiment regarding a continuation of daylight saving and the campaign will be extended throughout the country before next April, according to Marcus M. Marks, president of the National Daylight Saving Association.

The states where the movement is under way for permanently changing "an hour of night for an hour of light" are Massachusetts, New Jersey, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Colorado, Utah, Connecticut, Minnesota and Kentucky.

Proponents of the idea in Massachusetts, 2,800 manufacturers belonging to the Associated Industries of that state, who are making the survey there, according to Mr. Marks, reported that a bill would be introduced in the next Legislature which meets in January and that it would be supported by a majority in both the Senate and the House.

New York state for two years has introduced a daylight saving law on its statute books and, Mr. Marks said, an effort to repeal it would be hopeless, without the help of legislators from New York and Buffalo most of whom, he said, had been found in favor of the law. At present the months for daylight saving in New York conform to the old Federal statute, from March to October. To have the law uniform, Mr.

Cost of Providing For Poor Up 700 P. C. in Last Seven Years Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The cost of providing for the poor and needy has jumped 600 per cent in the last seven years, according to the annual report of the Philadelphia Society for Organizing Charity, read at the annual meeting here. Lack of funds hampered the organization in its efforts to extend relief and the situation became so acute last May it was necessary to turn a deaf ear to new pleas for help.

Denikine's Troops Get U. S. Tobacco Ekaterinodar, Nov. 26.—Half a carload of American tobacco has just been distributed by the American Red Cross among the troops of General Denikine, who are operating against the Bolsheviks in Southern Russia. General Denikine, himself, received two pounds, and the members of his staff, one pound. The general was immensely pleased.

"With a regular ration of American pipe tobacco, the Southern Russia forces could drive the Bolsheviks out of Moscow in short order," General Denikine places tobacco in first position as a stimulant to morale among soldiers. Most of the American tobacco will be rolled into cigarettes as the ordinary Russian soldier loves to make his own.

When General Denikine learned that the supply of smoking material had arrived he said, "I should like to buy it all but my salary is only $60 a month and I am trying to live within my income. It is the most appreciated gift I have received in years," he added, as he tucked the tobacco away in his saddlebags.

Salaried Men in England Organizing London, Nov. 26.—"The man in the black coat," as the professional salaried man is usually called by promoters of the organization, is to have a federation designed to insure him increased income and other benefits which other workers have gained through their trade unions. A meeting was held here the other day to organize salaried men.

Industrial workers have received wage increases amounting to 120 or 140 per cent during the war while the cost of living during that time has been increased 128 per cent, according to organizers of the Professional Workers' Federation sponsoring the new union. But for the man on a moderate salary, it is contended, there has been no proportionate salary raise. Increases for this class of worker has averaged less than thirty per cent, for the five-year period.

The selection of Secretary Glass and Senator Kenyon will add to the list of legislators Senator McCormick has assembled to serve on his committee.

Chest of Roman Coins Delivered to Red Cross Leon, France, Nov. 26.—A chest of Roman coins, buried in the face of invasion every hundred years since 500 years A. D., is now providing comforts for the refugees around the little French village of Charmes in the Alsace district.

The chest, containing the wealth of an ancient Roman nobleman, was dug up this week near the ruins of the chateau of Malzeville, Titus Leroux, of Charmes, head of one of the oldest families of France. It is the last heirloom of the aged officer and his wife, and they have willingly cast it into the Red Cross fund to aid the people of their district.

German Monument For Allied Memorial Tarnopol, Poland, Nov. 26.—The German monument erected in honor of the then German Emperor's visit to Tarnopol in 1917 has been turned into an Allied memorial.

During the occupation by the German troops the huge monument was erected, bearing the inscription, "William II, Emperor of Germany and King of Prussia, stopped here on July 28, 1917."

It was a division of Polish-Americans and members of the French army, that took the town of Tarnopol, and they simply added this inscription, "and July 4, 1919, the Sixth Division of American Chasseurs entered the town. They stayed."

DID BUSINESS WITH MELONE Martens Admits He Received $1,000 From Collector of Port of New York

New York, Nov. 26.—Ludwig C. A. Ki Martens, who calls himself ambassador of the Soviet government of Russia, admitted late yesterday that he paid Dudley Field Malone, former collector of the port of New York, $1,000 on September 12 "for help in carrying out a transaction." He told the joint legislative committee investigating radical activities that it was for advice in trying to arrange a $9,500,000 shipment of boots, meats and chemicals to be paid for on delivery in Petrograd.

Martens denied he knew that Malone had formed or was forming a corporation to do business with Soviet Russia, and declared that his "embassy" was not specifically interested in such an organization. He did not know that Malone "had been speaking in behalf of the Soviet government of Russia," either before or after he paid him $1,000, he said, and denied that he and Malone had spoken from the same platform in Madison Square Garden here last June.

Malone was not regular counsel for the Soviet bureau, Martens said, but was employed solely as special agent in plans to buy and ship to Russia $5,000,000 worth of boots and $4,500,000 worth of other supplies.

Martens asserted in reply to questions asked by the Attorney General Newton that 25 per cent of his activities are devoted to propaganda for recognition of the Russian Soviet government by the United States, or "publicity work to impress upon the American people that the Russian Soviet form of government is desirable."

New British Airship, Larger Than the P-34, Will Soon Be Complete

Barrow-in-Furres, Eng., Nov. 26.—The airship R-80, which is of a large design than the P-34 which recently visited the United States, is expected to be completed and handed over to the Admiralty here by Christmas. Airship construction, under orders of the government, has been suspended here, but as the R-80 was 95 percent finished, it was decided to complete her.

The airship embodies the latest improvements in British design. Her hull is of stream-line shape. She is 525 feet long, 70 feet wide and has an overall height of 85 feet. Her lifting power (total) is 28 tons and four engines, each of 240 horse power, will give her a maximum speed of 65 miles per hour. A crew of 15 or 16 will be able to navigate the ship.
