"The Water of Eternal Youth"

The beauties of the Austrian court by bygone days used a lotion which was so effective in keeping the face smooth and free from wrinkles, even in the aged, they named it the "water of eternal youth."
Some one recently has divulged the secret of this wonderful, though exceedingly simple, wrinkle lotion, which in her gratitude she has similarly dubbed a preserver of youth: One ounce pure salicylic acid (powdered), dissolved in a half pint witch hazel—that's all there is to it. Any woman can get these ingredients at her drugstore, put them together, and use the solution with entire safety. To bathe the face in the same brings immediate results, even in case of the deeper wrinkles and furrows. This is also effective for hanging cheeks and downy chin.

Son Is Badly Injured With Parents in West

New Freedom, Pa., Nov. 28.—While Mr. and Mrs. John Swan are touring the West, visiting relatives, a serious accident befell their son, Kenneth Swan, at the plant of the Crown Cork and Seal Company, Baltimore. As a result of the accident he is in the Johns Hopkins Hospital. His right arm was torn off below the elbow and the upper arm torn into shreds. Surgeons found it necessary to amputate the arm at the shoulder.
After finishing his work at the plant, the young man was asked by the foreman to work extra. While working about the flywheel, after the plant had shut down, the night watchman entered the building and turned on the switch which controls the operation of the wheel, thus catching the arm of the young man. Besides the injury to the right arm, his left arm was hurt and his body badly bruised. The injured man is 19 years old and was married on Thanksgiving Day of last year.

TEXT OF NOTE TO MEXICO IS PUBLIC

Spanish Version of the Communication Shows Expression of Surprise

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 28.—Surprise and exasperation were expressed by the Government of the United States in its note to the Mexican government demanding the release from prison of William O. Jenkins, American consul agent at Puebla, Mexico.
Following is a translation of the Spanish version of the note sent to Mexico by the State Department of the United States:
"American Embassy, Mexico City, November 20, 1919.
"The United States, Mexico City, Mexico, November 20, 1919.
"Sir: Referring to previous communications in the case of the consular agent of the United States at Puebla, William O. Jenkins, I have the honor of informing you that I have received telegraphic instructions to notify the secretary of foreign affairs of Mexico, that in connection with the losses and injuries already suffered by Mr. Jenkins as the result of his being kidnapped—occurred in the territory of the Mexican government to give due protection and his first arrest by Mexican authorities, the Government of the United States is surprised and exasperated to learn that Mr. Jenkins again has been arrested.
"His new arrest seems to me Government, according to the evidence before it, entirely unjustified and an arbitrary exercise of public authority.
"The Government orders me to add that the persistent persecution and subsequent harassing of Mr. Jenkins cannot but have a very serious effect on the relations between the two countries, the United States and the Mexican government will be solely responsible.
"Therefore, I am ordered to demand the immediate liberation of Mr. Jenkins.
"Accept, sir, etc.
(Signed) "GEORGE L. SUMMERLIN, Charge d'Affaires."
The text of the American note was received from Mexico City by the Consulate General here, with instructions to give it publicity.

MINERS CHARGE BAD TREATMENT

Declare the Men Must Work Under Most Inhuman Conditions

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 28.—Resolutions adopted at a meeting of the district executive board of district No. 17, United Mine Workers, made public by Fred S. Mooney, secretary-treasurer of the local union, have been mailed to President Wilson, the members of the cabinet, and to Congressmen.
"We have the assurances of a number of the members of Congress that they will 'go to the mat with us' in securing a Federal investigation of conditions in the Guyan valley field," Mr. Mooney said, "and we are confident that the information we have that there will be ample sufficiency of congressional support to bring the desired action."
The resolutions assert that the Guyan operators compel the miners "to work under the most inhuman and unhygienic conditions; that the miners are denied the right to leave their coal weighed; that they are paid wages greatly below those paid in the union fields; and that the operators of the Guyan valley are now, and have for some years past, maintained a private army of thugs and gunmen for the purpose of preventing any attempts of the men to organize into a union."
The commission is styled a "notoriously prejudiced one" and the statement is made that "a number of beaten and assaulted witnesses have appeared before the said commission and exhibited wounds received at the hands of the armed guards of the operators and upon returning to their homes by the advice of Governor Cornwell have again been brutally assaulted and driven out of the fields."
The charge is made that "Governor Cornwell is now and has been doing all in his power to prevent an independent inquiry into the conditions within his jurisdiction."
The resolutions ask Congress "to immediately take steps to protect the citizens of this part of West Virginia, and that a commission with full power to compel the appearance of witnesses be immediately appointed, and sent to southern West Virginia and particularly to the Guyan field."

CROWDER MAKES 'ANNUAL REPORT

Judge Advocate General of Army Defines Rights of Every Man

Washington, Nov. 28.—The rights of every man in the army, from private to general, are well defined and established by laws enacted by Congress, or by common law, Major General Enoch Crowder, judge advocate general of the army, declares in his annual report. General Crowder made no specific reference to the attack upon his administration of that office by former Brigadier General Samuel T. Amnell, once his assistant, but, in an appendix, gave detailed statistics covering military courts-martial, tending to disprove the accusation of severity.
During the last fiscal year 16,547 persons were tried before general courts-martial and 85 per cent were established by laws enacted by Congress, or by common law, Major General Enoch Crowder, judge advocate general of the army, declares in his annual report. General Crowder made no specific reference to the attack upon his administration of that office by former Brigadier General Samuel T. Amnell, once his assistant, but, in an appendix, gave detailed statistics covering military courts-martial, tending to disprove the accusation of severity.
The report made public for the first time an official summary of the "capital" cases occurring in the army since April 6, 1917, the beginning of the war period.
Death penalties were adjudged in 145 cases from that date to June 30, 1919, and execution was commuted in 35 cases—10 in France and 25 in the United States. Murder was charged in two of these cases, murder and mutiny in 19; assault in 11 and assault and murder in three.
"In no case," according to the report, "was a capital sentence for a purely military offense carried into execution."

The court in passing sentence upon them said their past criminal record and the fact that they tried to escape from jail, having concealed the means of accomplishing this purpose on their person did not commend them to the leniency of the court.

Parent Sues Coal Co. For Loss of Boy's Limb

Sunbury, Pa., Nov. 28.—Placing the value of his son's leg at $30,000, Joseph Knopik, of Shamokin, has brought suit for $5,000 damages in the Northumberland county court, against the Carbon Creek Coal Company, of Shamokin, for the loss of his son's leg. The boy was hurt last summer on a narrow-gauge line of the corporation and his left leg was amputated at the Shamokin Hospital. It is alleged that a narrow-gauge car was left standing unguarded on a grade and that the child with some others while at play got it started. Negligence is alleged in that the company failed to stop the children from using a dangerous gravity railroad for a playground. Knopik also asks $100 for medicines and a doctor's care.
