

JENKINS STILL IN JAIL, PRIVATE ADVICES SAY

No Truth in El Paso Report That American Had Been Released

Washington, Dec. 2.—Consular Agent Jenkins is still in the Mexican penitentiary, according to private advices from El Paso saying there is no truth in the report that he has been released.

No ultimatum was served in the new note yesterday to the Mexican government demanding the release of the American representative at Puebla. No time was given in which this government expects Jenkins to be released and neither was there any statement in the note as to what the course of the American government would be if the renewed request for his release is denied.

Porter Sees Lansing
After a conference with Secretary Lansing late yesterday, Chairman Porter of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, expressed the opinion that "the State Department means business this time." Chairman Porter indicated that he was in thorough accord with the government's present policy in dealing with the Mexican situation.

Chairman Porter was with Secretary Lansing for a half an hour discussing the Mexican situation in general, and later appeared hopeful of a solution of the trouble.
"The danger to the United States of this condition of continued unrest and feeling of hostility toward us in Mexico," Mr. Porter said, "lies in the fact that it provides a fertile field for anti-American propaganda and even for a base for attack upon United States by any foreign country that effected a combination with Mexico. By this the spirit, if not the letter, of the Monroe Doctrine would be violated."

Favors Intervention
"Properly rights have been violated and the Mexican courts have declared constitutional the confiscatory provisions of the Mexican fundamental law against which we have taken a strong stand. I have a copy of the Mexican court's decision in this matter. If we permit the property rights of our nationals in Mexico to be thus violated, where can we stop? Suppose Brazil, Argentina and Germany and other nations adopt such a confiscatory law. Our interests abroad would be wiped out."

"For three years or more I have been firmly convinced that either amicable or forcible intervention in Mexico by the United States is inevitable. I have heard nothing here that leads me to change my mind.
"And I wish to say that I am convinced that the State Department means business this time. I also believe that when the State Department's firm stand is put before Congress we shall give it our strongest support."

Taking a Chance

Chicago, Dec. 2.—In anticipation of early removal of the wartime prohibition ban, an additional 1,200,000 gallons of whiskey has been shipped here from Kentucky to three bonded warehouses. It became known here today that "it is a sporting proposition with Chicago liquor men," said L. G. Nutt, chief revenue inspector.

ment's firm stand is put before Congress we shall give it our strongest support."

Congressmen Endorse Stand Taken by Lansing in His Note to Mexico

Washington, Dec. 2.—Believing that the United States government "means business" in its negotiations with the Mexican government over the Jenkins case, officials and members of Congress here today endorsed the stand of Secretary Lansing as expressed in the latest note to President Carranza.

Although no ultimatum was issued to the Mexican government the note contained sharp language with a tone of warning indicating that unless Carranza's attitude toward the Jenkins case is modified, the United States would be taken to force his liberation. The note branded as "mere excuses" Mexico's plea of judicial reasons for not releasing Jenkins and declared that the United States would not be distracted from the main issue by a discussion of irrelevant and unimportant matters.

Carranza's reply is being awaited with eager interest in Washington, as the future course of this government will be determined by his next move.

Latest American Note Not in Hands of Mexicans

Mexico City, Monday, Dec. 1.—An announcement was made at the American foreign office late last night that the latest American note had not yet been delivered. First intimations as to the nature of the communication sent to Mexico by Secretary of State Lansing was given by dispatches to the city by the Associated Press. It was learned at the American embassy that there were numerous errors in the cable transmission of the note, which probably explains the delay in its presentation.

Hilario Medina, under secretary of foreign relations, declared today that treaties existing between Mexico and the United States make no provision for the exemption of consular agents from the jurisdiction of Federal tribunals "for which reason W. O. Jenkins, the United States consular agent at Puebla, because of whose imprisonment a delicate situation has arisen between the two countries, cannot claim immunity, as has been suggested by his friends."
Senor Medina stated the treaty of friendship and commerce between the United States and Mexico drawn in 1831 and renewed in 1848, established no immunity in favor of consuls.

Wesley Jones, also alleged to have been with the boys when they committed some of the thefts, changed his plea after telling Assistant District Attorney Robert T. Fox that he would make a confession. He will be placed on trial at the January quarter sessions court.
When called before Judge George Kunkel yesterday, Walmer and Butler confessed to the offenses charged against them and implicated Jones who is said to have admitted to the police that he was with them. Judge Kunkel refused to impose sentence on the two boys until Jones was tried.

Add One "Onecks" Ring and "Coatory" Suit to That "Darkerine" Outfit

Harrisburg pawnbrokers have been receiving "something else again." At least one would judge so, from the report of goods received by Record Clerk Earl M. White, at the police station, from the various dealers.
To the "darkerine" suit recently purchased by one of the dealers was added today an "onecks" ring, a "coatory" suit also was taken in.
Tours for the inspection of these curiosities were planned by several of the detectives of the city force, with some matter-of-fact individual suggested that probably the dealer referred to an onyx ring and a corduroy suit. All plans have now been abandoned.

Born in 1839 Dr. Caldwell Still in His Office Daily

Wonderful vigor of the founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Millions now use his famous prescription

ALL physicians know that good health depends largely upon proper digestion and elimination, and that most sickness results from these causes. None knows this better than the "family" doctor, the general practitioner.

Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Illinois, was and is a family doctor. The whole human body—not any small part of it, somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it, for Dr. Caldwell's "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

Dr. Caldwell in the course of 40 years' practice, for he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875, had found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year the preparation was first placed on the market. The picture of Dr. Caldwell that appears on the package was taken in that year.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in the doctor's private practice. To-day the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to
