MEXICO PLACES MURDER MUDDLE

So they have used every means possible to get certain evidence to cover up their absurd pretensions. "I have never, in all my life, seen such a farce as they are carrying out here, for I have been condemned without being allowed to present a single witness in my behalf."

Pressure to Be Brought to Bear on Mexico to Bring Jenkins' Release

Washington, Dec. 3.—State Department officials were marking time to-day awaiting word from Mexico City of the official delivery of the latest American note to the Mexican government and the subsequent action inspired by it.

In some quarters it was believed that Carranza would order the release of Jenkins soon after receiving the message and prevent a complete break between his government and the United States.

A different attitude was evident at the State Department, however, where the situation was being considered gravely. Should Carranza continue to hold out against the American government's request to release American Consul General Jenkins without delay, pressure was expected to be brought which would force Mexico to accede to the demands.

GAS SUPPLY IS THREATENED

It is expected that the Steelton plant will receive a sufficient supply of fuel to keep the gas producing furnaces, at least, in operation. The blast furnace, which has been closed down, No. 2, had recently been relined and had been in operation only a month.

The Harrisburg Pipe and Pipe Bending Company and several other city establishments are operating in a hand-to-mouth manner. The Pipe Bending Company yesterday received a shipment of twelve cars of coal, which will be sufficient to continue all departments in operation until to-morrow night.

Whether other shipments will be received until that time, Mr. Tracy could not say to-day. In the event that no other shipments are received until that time, he said, it will be necessary to close down the steel-producing departments.

The Harrisburg Light and Power Company has not yet received notice of any restrictions on its operation, and has not in any manner, curtailed its operation.

A CHRISTMAS HANO But be careful in making your purchase. Every showy case does not envelop a perfect instrument.

LAXNESS IN METHOD OF GIVING PERMITS

In housing in Harrisburg and to add to the number of houses in the city, Herman P. Miller, chairman of the building code committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that his committee has gathered a vast amount of data from other cities and is now engaged in the task of formulating this into an ordinance for submission to City Council.

The necessity of protecting residences from the encroachments of undesirable buildings was pointed out and this matter also will be taken up by the Committee on Public Affairs when the matter as a whole is laid before Council.

The Rotarians had as their guests last evening Elmer L. Schuyler, formerly of the Gazette and Bulletin, Williamsport, and the Rev. C. B. Bates, of the Baltimore Club, who appeared in behalf of the candidacy of Frank S. Chavennes, president of the Baltimore Club and head of the city, whose friends have induced him to stand for district governor next year.

The Rotarians after the meeting were taken to the plant of the Bell company in Walnut street where they were shown the workings of the mechanical system that connects up the Bell phones in the Harrisburg district, as well as the operations of the long distance business.

After the demonstration the members were taken to the restroom where the telephone girls enjoy their rest periods. The work is hard but the company gives time off for recreation and the room provided is handsomely furnished and is provided with a Victrola and reading matter.

Red Cross Plans to Give Christmas Cheer The Home Service Section of the local American Red Cross chapter believes there are many families in and around Harrisburg which will have little or no Christmas this year unless it is provided for them.

Church Split Argued Before Judge Kunkel; Pastor Claims Property

"Is this a war over shadows or substances?" President Judge George Kunkel asked this morning in court when attorneys were arguing about the admission of evidence and the differences which resulted in a division in the congregation of the Holy Communion Lutheran Church, Seventeenth and State streets, and a court suit about which side has the right to the church property.

It is contended by some of the members of the congregation that the church here was bound by the decision of the General Council of the Lutheran Church to merge with other Lutheran organizations and form the United Lutheran Church.

J. L. Cressman and George W. Zimmerman, two of the plaintiffs, were the only witnesses heard this morning. They contend in the equity suit which they have filed in the county court that the pastor of the church and others of the congregation not agreeing to the merger have no right to the church property.

Prominent Lutheran clergymen from the eastern part of the country have been present in court during the hearing of the case and the decision which will be given by Judge Kunkel is one which will affect many other Lutheran churches throughout the country.
