Do You Know Economy In Clothes?

We begin by telling you that "price" is not the index to economy in clothes.

You can buy clothes at similar prices in many stores—but you cannot get the same kind of clothes in all stores.

Schleisner clothes are sold without regard to price, insofar as price itself is concerned. But when you consider the quality, tailoring and style of our clothes you will see at once that the price means the utmost economy.

Regardless of Former Price, Value or Cost

Starts Tomorrow

INSTEAD of waiting until our regular time, after Christmas, to hold this sale we are providing this wonderful opportunity for you NOW, so you will be able to not only save money, but have the wear of your suit from now until and after Christmas. The one-third reductions bring the sale prices in many instances to far below cost. You may well realize the great advantage this sale is to you just at this time.

NOT a suit in the entire stock is reserved—all will go into this sale. The scope of choice is far broader than you expect to have in a sale of this kind—but like all Schleisner occasions we have made this sale an example of big money saving that no woman can afford to miss. Remember—all our regular stock, all the best materials and the newest models, all fashionable colors and all sizes.
