Rabbi Makes Stirring Appeal in Campaign

Columbia, Pa., Dec. 10.—General E. C. Shannon presided at the mass meeting here to further the Jewish Relief campaign in this place. Rabbi Isadore Rosenthal, of Lancaster, made a stirring appeal. His address was one of the strongest given in this place since war activities began, and he has been a speaker in all drives conducted in the past few years. Miss Mae Marley, a gifted vocalist, entertained the audience in the high school auditorium, and a brass orchestra furnished music. Brief addresses were also given by Lieutenant Reginald Wright Kauffman and Lieutenant-Colonel Cleon N. Bernhertz.

News of frequent successes of hunters has become so scarce that it appears certain that they are now having a difficult task in bringing the antlered animals to the ground.

Another branch of the county government which will be reorganized and in all probability with no changes in the board of poor directors, Frank B. Snively, John H. Lehr and Jacob S. None are expected, either, the officials say, since they are dependent almost altogether on river coal and electrical current, supplied by local companies who generate it either from river coal or by water power.

Farmers are required to give up the animals without compensation, and can be punished with a fine up to five thousand marks in each case for refusal to turn over the required stock.

THIEVES REAP RICH HARVEST FROM CARELESS

Police Urge Women to Lock Homes and Guard Purses in Crowds

The man who flashes a roll of bills in public and the house wife who knows the thief and announces the hour of her return, are flirting with bad luck, police authorities announced to-day.

The police assertion is included in general warning to Harrisburg residents not to be lax Christmas shoppers this year, which takes the shape of a series of iron-clad burglar and pick-pocket instructions.

Every sharper uses his wits to his full capacity about Christmas time, the police declare, and the list of rules is given to aid in combating them and to point out pitfalls.

Following is the list of preventative measures urged by the police upon Christmas shoppers:

Don't carry your handbag by the chain or strap, but loop the chain or strap around your wrist and keep your hand over the clasp which opens the bag.

Don't place your handbag or purse on a store counter.

Don't wear valuable jewelry when shopping.

Don't carry more money than you believe you will need and don't make a display of the money you have.

Don't purchase jewelry in the street, no matter how much of a bargain it appears to be.

Don't make any change for strangers in the street.

Don't leave your automobile on the street without a caretaker who is known to you, and don't leave any article of value in the vehicle while you are absent.

Don't pay for C. O. D. parcels until you have examined the contents and found that the goods have been ordered by you.

Don't leave a messenger alone in a room where he has delivered goods while you go to another part of the house; let him wait in the vestibule.

Don't pay any attention to persons who claim they found your pocketbook unless you are sure you lost it, and don't give them a chance to steal your pocketbook when you open your bag to look for it.

When in a crowd or crowded conveyance and you find yourself being shoved about and jostled, make a search for your wallet and other valuables. Also make an outcry, so that if the persons that pocket you are the ones who committed the
