MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster Without the Burn or Sting

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

ANNUAL SESSION ATP. R. R. Y. M. C. A.

Re-elect A. G. Murray President; Horace G. Geisel Resigns

A. G. MURRAY

At the annual meeting last night of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A., A. G. Murray was re-elected president. This will be Mr. Murray's sixth term. During his presidency the Association has grown rapidly in membership. His progressive ideas also brought many new branches to the Association that have been membership builders.

Mr. Murray is also strongly identified with the religious work, and has planned an active season. His reelection was unanimous. He is head of the accountant department at the Pennsylvania railroad freight station South Second street. Other officers elected last night are: Vice-president, G. A. Geisel, hostler No. 2 enginehouse; J. E. Kautz, Jr., chief clerk at the Pennsylvania Railroad freight station; recording secretary, H. W. Hoover, yardmaster at G. I. Hump; assistant recording secretary, E. H. Rupp; directors, Adam Martz, C. L. Miller, George Rost, George Robinson, C. E. Whitman, U. A. Poffenberger, and S. W. Weaver.

The resignation of Horace G. Geisel, physical director, was received with many expressions of regret. He is physical director at Camp Curtin High School. For eight years he has been in charge of the physical department at the Railroad "Y" and has introduced many new features. Under his tutelage many local basketball, and other athletic stars have been developed. He has instructed many High School athletes. His successor is Norman Ford, a local athlete who is quite popular and has won athletic fame.

Following the meeting last night a social session was held at which refreshments were served and officials told of the good work accomplished by the association.

TRAIN DECREASE BRINGS CHANGES

Crews to Run Under Pool System Until Further Notice

With the annulment of passenger trains on the Pennsylvania railroad and the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, and the cutting down of freight scheduled, numerous changes in handling crews became necessary. For some time the Reading freight crews have been operating under one pool, and each crew takes its turn in doing service.

This means a big cut in some checks, which will be due about Christmas time. However, officials are of the opinion that a settlement is not far away, and regular schedules will be resumed in the very near future. Pennsylvania crews are also working on the "first in, first out" system.

There will also be extensive changes in the running of passenger crews. Annulment of trains will also necessitate a pooling system for the present there will be no special running schedule followed. Crews will be listed and called in turn.

To Continue Indefinitely

Whether the strike ends to-day or not, the regulations are expected to remain in operation for at least a week. No official forecast of the consequences of a settlement in Indianapolis could be had at the offices of the railroad administration here. R. O. Fischer, assistant to Mr. Baldwin, said, "It is not matter what happened in Indianapolis."

"Whatever is done," he explained, "will be on orders from Washington. No restrictions on the railroads and industry at large will be lifted for some time after the strike is finally settled."

WATER COMPANY TREE PLANTING

Extensive Reforestation Work Is Under Way With the Aid of the State Now

More than 1,700,000 trees have been furnished to the water companies of Pennsylvania for reforestation purposes by the State, according to an announcement made by the State Forest Commission to-day. Five years ago the department started to interest people in planting of trees as a conservation measure and offered free trees suited to safeguarding of water supply. In 1915 only one company asked for trees and less than 3,200 were planted and this year is no exception. More than 500,000 trees were set out by 28 water companies.

Coal companies have taken an active part in reforestation projects, but the water companies have done more in that line than any other. Many of them have bought and planted trees aside from what aid has been extended by the State. One company in the Scranton district has planted 800,000 trees in nine years, 180,000 being its record for this year alone, while one Luzerne county company has planted 135,000.

Five members of the Public Service Commission have been assigned to hold hearings in Pittsburgh this cases. Chairman Charles C. Tenenbarger, Shelby, Clemens and Benn will hold sittings. The Commission is also holding hearings in Harrisburg and Lebanon to-day.

The State Board of Pardons calendar for the meeting on December 17 will be one of the largest for the last month of the year in a long time. Several hundred cases have been continued from previous months, including one first degree case.

The State Agricultural Department to-day issued a summary of reports on farms of Lancaster county. There are 164,229 farms operated by owners and 51,105 by tenants. Twenty years ago there were 162,279 farms operated by owners and 58,266 by tenants, 3,703 being in the hands of managers. The figures show Lancaster with over 10,000 farms, of which 6,600 are operated by owners. In Cumberland 1,600 farms are conducted by owners and 6,000 are run by owners and less than 1,000 by tenants. Philadelphia shows 306 owners operating farms and 468 tenants.

More telephone companies have filed notices of increases of rates with the Public Service Commission. That would delay bringing down the rates of some of the companies; Burton, Butler county, and Eaglemere Light Company, operating in Sullivan county.

Steps to secure for the State all of the inheritance taxes to which it is entitled by the code of 1919 from the estate of Henry C. C. of Pittsburgh, were taken to-day by Auditor General Charles A. Snyder in conference with Register of Wills William Connor, of Allegheny county.

The State will receive several millions in taxes, there being a 2 per cent direct and 5 per cent collateral inheritance taxes. There is no doubt in the minds of officials here that the State will get the money, notwithstanding claims that may be made in New York, as Mr. Frick has long been considered a resident of Pittsburgh. The calculations made here are that the Federal Government will receive about 22 per cent of the whole estate in taxes.

Mortimer E. Elliott, of Wellsboro, one of the survivors of the constitutional convention of 1873, has sent a letter to the Attorney General regarding inability to attend the meetings of the commission.

State tax cases will come up in the Dauphin county court to-morrow. The Public Service Commission adjourned its executive session last night, acting upon a number of minor cases.

Representative Hugh A. Dawson, of Scranton, was among visitors here yesterday. Complaint has been filed with the Public Service Commission against the proposed changes of zones by the Ephrata and Lebanon Traction Company in parts of Lancaster county by M. B. Hacker, of Lincoln.

He contends that the company has divided the village of Lincoln into halves by shortening zones and reducing fares, the effect being that half the people of the village can ride to Ephrata for one fare and the other must pay two.

Many bidders are expected next week when the State opens the last bids for the road. Numerous sets of plans are being requested. The State Highway Department during the last few days has freed two toll roads at a cost to the Commonwealth of $3,400. One of these is the Hereford Turnpike in Berks county, extending from Clayton to Hereford, a distance of two and one-half miles. The cost of this piece of road was $1,500, in which the State Highway Department and Berks County Commissioners joined in the 50-50 plan. The other was that between Hilltown and Sellersville in Bucks county, a distance of three miles. It was acquired at a cost of $15,000, half of which was paid by the State and half by the county commissioners.

Assistant State Highway Commissioner George H. Biles and Col. William D. Uhler, chief engineer for the State Highway department, are in Louisville, Ky., where they are attending the annual meeting of the American Association of State highway officials.

CLOWN APPEARS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Cho-Cho Entertains Borough Schoolchildren With Health Talk

Boys and girls in the Steelton and Highspire schools were entertained yesterday afternoon in the Steelton High School auditorium by Cho-Cho, the health clown, brought here by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society of Dauphin County to aid in the Red Cross Christmas Seal campaign and to hold health meetings for the children.

Cho-Cho presented his "health talk" between bits of pantomime that kept the youngsters in constant laughter. Now and then he would tell them what kinds of food to eat, warned them not to drink coffee and tea, but instead plenty of milk and water, told them how to sleep at night and take care of themselves so that they would become big and strong.

Early reports to Mrs. J. M. Heagy, who is in charge of the Seal campaign in the borough, indicate that a new record will be made in Steelton. Cho-Cho, principal of the Central Grammar school, who has been directing the campaign in the schools, said to-day that the children have been enthusiastic in the work, and reports from the buildings show big sales.

Mr. Henry has been devoting much time to the campaign and through the various teachers arranged the interest of the boys and girls in the Seal campaign.

BOOSTER MEETING Ladies of the Altar Guild of St. James' Catholic Church will entertain at a chicken and waffle supper in the Young People's Catholic Club hall this evening, in honor of thirty-five church members who have been collecting money to be devoted to ward wiping out the church debt. P. A. Kennedy, of the Auditor General's office of Capitol Hill, will speak. The meeting is being held for the purpose of boosting the campaign, an official of the church said this morning.

MEN'S MEETING The men's meeting held by the Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church, last night, was attended by about 100 men. Russell Kohr, a widely-known New Cumberland resident, talked, and a male chorus from the New Cumberland Methodist Church, took part on the program. The New Cumberland men came to the meeting at the request of Sherman T. Hull, formerly a resident in the "cross-river" borough.

James Harder, Widely Known Resident, Dies

James Albert Harder, aged 41 years, a local magazine agent and manager of James' Mercantile Agency, at Harrisburg, died this morning in his home, Front and Walnut streets, at 4:15 o'clock, after an illness of two weeks. He was a member of Steelton lodge, Loyal Order of Moose; West End Republican Club, Harrisburg, and a York lodge of Odd Fellows. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Harder; two sons, James and William Harder; four brothers, Frank B. Harder, Enhart; Wilson S. and William Harder, Highspire; Donald G. Harder, of Philadelphia; one sister, Mrs. Charles Hart, Chambersburg. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. J. A. Tyson, pastor of the Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be made in the Oberlin Cemetery. The body may be viewed from 7 until 9 to-morrow evening. Visiting in Georgia — James M. Wells, 215 North Front street, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bell, Augusta, Ga.

Steelton News Notes

Dividend Declared — To-morrow morning the First Methodist Relief Association will refund $7.50 to each of its members who has paid a year's dues, being the first dividend to declare the 1919 dividend. More than $2,400 has been paid out by the association on disability, injury and death claims during the year.

Class Meeting — A meeting of Mrs. Stees' class of the First Methodist Sunday School will be held to-morrow evening at the home of Mrs. Watson, in Harrisburg. Members of the class will meet at Front and Pine streets, at 7:15 o'clock, prior to going to Harrisburg.

Move Headquarters — Headquarters of the visiting nurse and agent for the Associated Charities and Civic Club was removed from South Front street to Room 6 of the Electric Light building, North Front street, yesterday. Office hours are from 8 to 9 in the morning, and 4 to 5 in the afternoon.

To Elect Officers — Officers will be elected by Steelton council, Royal Arcanum, at its annual meeting this evening.

Dwelling Sold — Ross D. Saul has sold to John Simonic a single frame dwelling, located at 370 South Second street.

NO CHRISTMAS MAIL. Christmas mail in and out of the local post office is less this year than for some years. Postmaster M. M. Cusack said this morning. The postmaster expected, however, that business would increase during the next week because, he declared, the local office has much mail to handle during the Christmas holiday season as a rule. Much of the foreign mail has already been sent and was not as heavy as in previous years, due to the fact that a large number of foreigners have gone back to their own countries since the signing of the armistice.
