Nixon Says He Will Take Steps to Enforce New Fuel Orders

New York, Dec. 10.—Times Square was the only section along the White Way that was dimmed to any noticeable degree last night. All of the large electrical display signs which top the high buildings in this vicinity were out. The usual number of smaller signs including the ornamental lights on a big hotel were blazing forth as bright as ever. In Herald square all electric signs were burning as usual.

Public Service Commissioner Lewis Nixon, who was designated by Governor Smith to carry out the fuel restrictions in New York City said he had taken steps to enforce the order and they would be effective immediately.

The National Association of the Motion Picture Industry, which last week adopted a plan for curtailing electric light display on theatres to one hour each evening, decided to eliminate all electric signs regardless of whether hard or soft coal was used in obtaining the current. Telegrams were sent to moving picture exhibitors throughout the country notifying them of the decision.

The Real Christmas Store

Great crowds are coming and going to and from this "Live Store" every minute from early morning until the closing hour. It would do your heart good and be a "tonic" for your eyes to see how eager and enthusiastic everybody seems to be who comes here to buy from our big assortments of men's wearing apparel. Then to hear the many kind remarks that are spoken in behalf of this "Live Store" by our customers of the courteous treatment they get here at all times. But especially is our service extraordinary around this season of the year when everybody is anxious to be waited on carefully, yet promptly.

*Try This Dependable Doutrich Service
That Everybody Is Talking About*

You don't hear any complaints from our employes of "over work" yet they are busy all the time, waiting on the customers who prefer to buy here—we never could have built up this great organization in a few short years by employing "distinterested," "underpaid," salespeople — you'll find the most aggressive and willing employes at Doutrichs that you will see anywhere, always glad and ready to serve you morning, noon or night, they realize that YOU want to do YOUR shopping and buying when it pleases YOU, not when the storekeeper decides you should buy.

The Shirt Festival

Are you going to the Shirt Festival? It's a real popular event these days. You'll not regret the time spent in looking over the beautiful shirts displayed for your inspection. We had a quiet tip that there would be many more shirts given for Christmas gifts this year than ever before and we prepared accordingly for the holiday rush. All colors of the rainbow are here moderately priced to suit all pocketbooks.

Kum-a-part Cuff Links

We have had a wonderful time for the past ten days keeping up with the demand for Kum-a-part Cuff Links. We have them to match the coloring in the beautiful shirts we have been selling for Christmas gifts, and when you see how easy they are to operate you'll want every member of the family to own a pair. Ask to see them.

50c to $6.00 a pair

Adler's Gloves

will add comfort and good looks to many hands on Christmas Day — We can tell from the unusual lot we have disposed of and put in attractive holiday boxes. All our Neckwear, Hosiery, Handkerchiefs, Gloves and Shirts will be put in ("boxes free.") Don't hesitate to ask for them.
