PHOTOGRAPHS SEE UNITED TIRES BEING MADE

Exhibition at Local Store-rooms Interesting and Educational

An interesting and educational exhibition showing the various processes used in the making of "U" tires is now being conducted by the United Tire and Rubber Corporation at their newly-leased store-rooms at 231 North Second street. This novel idea showing the motorists just what quality of materials and the many processes through which the tire passes before it is placed on the rim was originated by H. H. Nesbit, president of the corporation, who is a tire man of long experience. He has been connected with the tire industry in the capacity of executive officer for many years and in taking the presidency of this newly-formed company brings to it a wealth of practical knowledge.

The headquarters and factory of the United Tires and Rubber Company is located at Wilmington Delaware. It is their intention to locate branch offices and salesrooms in the larger cities of the East. They make the United "U" tires and "Process" tires and these are in the room now occupied by the Williams Motor Company, local Ford distributors. The Williams Motor Company will move about April 1 to their new building in South Cameron street.

In the demonstration now being conducted, to which every motorist is invited, the entire tire is built from the fabric up. Layer after layer of the finest Seal Island fabrics, frictioned with the best quality Para rubber is built up to which is added more layers of para rubber. This is done on a mold, the exact size of the tire that is being built. After these processes are completed, the "U" tread, which is standard on all sizes, is added and then the tire is sent to the factory to be vulcanized. The tire then leaves the factory and comes back to the branch store here and is sold to the motorist on an $8.000 monthly guarantee. This big demonstration is to continue to-day and to-morrow.

Premier George to Introduce New Irish Bill Next Monday

London, Dec. 10.—Premier Lloyd George will introduce the new Irish home rule bill in Parliament Monday, according to the Daily Mail.

The newspaper adds that the bill provides for two Legislatures with a co-ordinating Senate, but that the power to be allotted to the Senate has not yet been defined. It says the fate of the bill will depend on the government's generosity in this respect.

For the first time in history there is every prospect of the Irish question being settled satisfactorily, according to a statement made in a speech last night by Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty.

SARITA CLAUS TO MISS MRS. MARY MOR CHRISTMAS DAY

Red Cross Plans to Supplement His Work This Winter

The Home Service Section of the local American Red Cross has sponsored an activity which has been named the "Toy Mission." The purpose of this plan is that families of the city and neighboring towns who will have little or no Christmas unless it is provided for them, may be cared for. The Toy Mission is essentially for the purpose of gathering toys of which children have grown tired, and the re-distribution of them. But the work will be of such magnitude as to need the help and assistance of the grown-ups, too.

Just a few days ago Miss Ringland, the executive head of the Home Service Section was called to a neighboring borough to see a family in which there were four children. The father had been killed several years ago in an accident and since that time the mother had supported the family on her income of a little over $40 a month.
