

SUGAR BILL TO BE UP AGAIN

Another Effort to Be Made to Get Action on Federal Control

Washington, Dec. 12.—Another effort to hasten Senate action on the bill continuing federal control of sugar next year was to be made today. A movement in this direction was defeated yesterday when the Senate defeated a motion to lay aside the railroad bill temporarily. There was no partisan alignment on the vote of 27 to 22 by which Senator McNary's motion was defeated. Advocates of sugar legislation conceded importance of the railroad bill but contended that immediate action was necessary to relieve the sugar shortage. Senator McNary declared the bill could be passed in two hours, but disposition of his motion led to debate on many subjects extending over more than that period.

Fourteen Republicans and thirteen Democrats supported Mr. McNary in seeking immediate consideration of the sugar bill, while sixteen Democrats and sixteen Republicans voted to hold the railroad bill before the Senate. The latter included Republican Leaders Lodge, Chairman Cummins and members of the Interstate Commerce Committee and Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, Nebraska, administration leader.

George F. Sproule New Wharf Head in the Moore Cabinet

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—Mayor-elect J. Hampton Moore announces the selection of George F. Sproule as director of the Department of Wharves, Docks and Ferries in the new administration which comes into office next month. Mr. Moore said the appointment was a personal one and had no political significance. Mr. Sproule has been identified with the maritime interests of Philadelphia since boyhood and at present is secretary of the commissioners of navigation.

De Valera at Capital to Meet Irish Leaders

Washington, Dec. 12.—Ramon De Valera, "provisional president of the Irish Republic," in Washington today to confer with Irish leaders from over the country who are assembling to testify at a hearing by the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the Mason bill proposing appointment of a United States minister and consuls to the Irish Republic.

Mr. De Valera in a formal statement today denied that he would appear at the hearings.

Check and Abort a Bad Cold

In Five Hours with MENTHO-LAXENE

You Buy It Concentrated and Mix With Pint of Syrup

Doubtless every reader recalls having neglected a slight cold until in 24 hours it settled into a "Bad Cold" and then about 72 hours of distress, discomfort, if not weeks of bronchitis or pneumonia or catarrh. Now confess, if you've had such an experience, and take time by the forelock by preparing to check and abort colds, coughs, catarrh, difficult breathing, watering eyes and painful headaches.

It can be done by taking Mentho-Laxene either in its raw state—ten drops to the dose—or by making a granulated sugar syrup and mixing in a pint bottle or jar. A pint will last a whole family for a long time and keeps every member free from the distressing after-effects of a bad cold. Mentho-Laxene is guaranteed to please or money back by The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, and any well-stocked druggist can supply you. Don't take a substitute. There is really nothing to compare with Mentho-Laxene.—Adv.

CALL YATES IN DETZER TRIAL

Military Prisoner Expected to Testify Today Against Army Officer

New York, Dec. 12.—Private Fred M. Yates, now a military prisoner, was expected to take the stand today for the prosecution in the court-martial against Captain Karl W. Detzer, charged with brutality to prisoners in France.

On several occasions Detzer stood by with a pistol in one hand and a blackjack in the other while his sergeants "beat up" a man in his custody, according to testimony by Clarence H. Lacey of Indianapolis, one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution.

Lacey, an ex-soldier, admitted he had escaped from Captain Detzer, former commander of the 308th military police company, after he had been arrested by him on a street outside the city of Metz, France, and had fled to his organization in this country before it had been disbanded.

Lacey testified that he had first met Detzer when he had come out of a cafe with Private Yates.

He said Detzer had challenged them, that they lacked passes, but that Yates had pretended he was taking him to the provost marshal's office after having found him in the railroad cars who Government property was lying in freight cars.

Lacey said Detzer ordered them to come along with him, but that after they had gone a short distance, Yates dropped to his knees, pulled a revolver, and "told the captain to beat it."

Detzer did, according to Lacey, and he and Yates fled, but were later recaptured.

Lacey testified that on being brought before Detzer again he had received rough treatment from him and his two sergeants, U. S. Madden and Frank L. Hoyt. He asserted that once Detzer had ordered his sergeants to take him out, give him a chance to run and if he didn't, make him shoot and "waste no bullets."

He said he had been beaten a dozen times, on seven occasions before Detzer, who he said stood by with a pistol in one hand and a blackjack in the other. In addition, Lacey said Detzer had made him sit on a bench for five days without sleep. If he dozed off, he said, he was grabbed by the hair and pulled to his feet. He added that he had been made to watch late statements after he had "been led to believe he would be punished by death" if he disobeyed.

Denies Charges

In cross-examining Lacey, Lieutenant Thomas L. Heffernan, defense counsel, who at the opening of the trial declared the defendant had incurred the wrath of many "hard characters" while abroad, asked the witness if he did not know of "talk of getting Captain Detzer."

He followed with another question as to whether it was true that he had agreed "with others to get together on one story." To both questions Lacey replied in the negative.

Before calling Lacey, the prosecution put on two new witnesses, Louis Schmitt, of Long Island City, and Glen Burrell, of Bedford, Iowa.

Schmitt testified that after he had been brought into Detzer's office, he saw Detzer catch Marcello Gonzalez another prisoner, smoking a cigarette and ordered him "to eat the thing."

Schmitt said he left the room and did not see whether Gonzalez obeyed.

Schmitt admitted that he had served as a "stool pigeon or rat" for Detzer; that he had "squealed" on acquaintances absent without leave and that he would "trap up" anyone who gave him "a dirty deal."

He added that he would not "do it personally, but would let the law take its course."

He denied that he was "out to get Detzer," but admitted that he was bitter because of an insulting remark he alleged Detzer had made concerning his mother.

Expects to Make Two Arrests in Dansey Case

Hammonton, N. J., Dec. 12.—Prosecutor Edmund C. Gaskill says that he expected to make two more arrests in the Dansey case before the Atlantic county court jury is called upon to deal with the case. Gaskill said, however, that he did not expect the jury to take up the case before next Wednesday, if then.

Coroner Cunningham, of Hammonton, expressed the belief that the child was not killed by a bullet, but more likely by a stone or club. Had he been hit by a bullet, said Cunningham, the mark would have shown on the bones.

BANISH CATARRH

Breathe Hyomei for Two Minutes and Relieve Stuffed Up Head

If you want to get relief from catarrh, cold in the head or from an irritating cough in the shortest time, breathe Hyomei.

It should clear out your head and open up your nose in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely. Hyomei often ends a cold in one day, and brings quick relief from snuffles, hard crusts in the nose, hawking, spitting and catarrhal mucus.

Hyomei is made chiefly from a soothing, healing antiseptic oil, that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia where Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Influenza, Pneumonia and Consumption were never known to exist.

Hyomei is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A complete Hyomei outfit, including inhaler and one bottle of Hyomei, costs but little at H. C. Kennedy's and druggists everywhere. If you already own an inhaler you can get an extra bottle of Hyomei at druggists.

Congress came yesterday during the debate on the railroad bill. Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, and Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, leader of the "mild reservation" group of Republican senators, declared the treaty as "dead" until again submitted by the President and charged the Democrats with responsibility for the failure to ratify it at the special session.

Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, said the treaty could be called up at any time by a majority vote and in turn charged the Republicans with responsibility for the failure of the Senate to act.
