

BIG STEEL MILLS WILL RUN FULL, IT IS PREDICTED

Coal Shortage and Not Strike Forced Shutdowns. Say Representatives

By Associated Press
 Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 15.—When informed of the action taken at Washington by the twenty-four union presidents who voted to continue the nation-wide steel strike, representatives of Pittsburgh district steel companies declared that as far as they are concerned, the strike was a "dead issue." In only isolated instances, they said, the strike continues to affect production.

A representative of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, the largest independent of the district, said that steel companies in this region were forced to "trim down" operations during November, due to the coal strike situation. The companies, he said, accepted only a part of the orders received, fearing they could not fill them, due to the coal shortage and the resultant cut in operations. "But now that the coal strike has ended, steel companies of this district will start on full working schedules immediately," he declared.

Coal Mining Normal
 Coal mining in the Pittsburgh district was practically normal today and those of the 42,000 union miners who did not go to work today, will do so Tuesday, according to a statement issued here by Philip Murray, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers. Mr. Murray declared he did not expect production to reach 100 per cent until Tuesday, the first day to figure in pay for the last half of December. Seventy-five per cent of the district miners worked Saturday, he said.

United States railroad administration representatives here said that increased coal shipments would be in evidence for the first time today. They added that they were doing all in their power to prevent a coal shortage in this district, and said the administration was endeavoring to facilitate the return of cars sent west during the strike.

SIGHTLESS SEEK LIGHT OF HICKSON

rived late were quietly ushered to seats by rectors of the various Episcopal churches.

Mr. Hickson stepped to the front of the church after this brief service. In part he said: "Christian faith cannot be done without you. You are in God's house and are coming to your God, not to me. No human being can help you, and if you expect me to do it you will go away disappointed. I haven't the power. Look to Him, and to Him alone. He can give you health. Commune with God, know that the Lord is here and that His Holy Angels are with us. Speak in your hearts the name of Jesus. You can help or hinder this work by your attitude. Pray that God will look into your hearts and will find faith in it. Let no unworthy thought be there. Those who are here for healing, forget yourself and pray for the other sick people.

Advised to Pray
 "Don't think of yourself. Give and it shall be given unto you. Pray for one another, and remember, too, that you are not coming to Christ only to heal your bodies but for your souls.

"Forget all hatred, malice and that awful devil, 'Selfishness.' That the resultant cut in operations, too, and it causes most of the other evils of the earth.

"And when my hand touches you, think only that the hand that was pierced is touching you. Reach to touch the hem of His garment."

Children Come First
 The children who had been brought to the healer had been taken to the choir seats just in front of the chancel. Many of them were in their mothers' arms. Mr. Hickson baby less than a year old. Quietly he asked what the child was suffering from, then placing his hand on the infant's head he prayed just as quietly. Silently he stepped from one to another, followed by various rectors, who also prayed. Some of the parents, kneeling at a time, before the altar prayed with the healer and the clergy. Among those who helped Mr. Hickson were the Rev. G. H. Manheim; the Rev. J. Fredrick Virsini; the venerable William Dorwart, of Newport, archdeacon of the Harrisburg diocese, and the Rev. H. Bridgeman, diocese, and the Rev. C. Exley helped some of the persons to the chancel rail, and Dr. C. S. Rebeck also brought a number of persons forward.

During the entire service many persons kept their heads bowed in prayer for half an hour at a time. Many of the afflicted ones, with tears streaming from their eyes, knelt with Mr. Hickson prayed.

Seek Sight and Hearing
 As Mr. Hickson prayed for the children, the sweet tones of "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," were heard coming softly from the organ. Mr. Hickson believes in the healing power of faith and praise and during his entire service many of the familiar hymns were played.

Among those who were healed was a lawyer who is losing his eyesight another a school teacher who is becoming deaf, a young man who has been a cripple all his life was wheeled into the church by a white-haired old man, a friend of the family.

Many With Withered Legs
 Among the children were a number who had suffered from infantile paralysis and are using crutches. Their legs, withered and weak, supported by heavy steel braces, have not been used for years. Others who have been partially crippled came forward on canes or were aided by ministers. In the audience were a number of pastors of other churches in the city and vicinity. Many of the prayers during the greater part of the service.

Few of the prayers by Mr. Hickson could be heard except by the suffering person who he hoped to help. As he earnestly prayed for Divine healing, bits of them heard now and then were: "O Blessed Jesus, we pray that Thou wilt touch this troubled servant. Cleanse the body with Thy touch, restore health and make him strong and well. Lead him from this weakness, give him strength."

Blind Ask to See
 In prayer for a blind person he said: "O Father, touch these eyes that I may see. Lead me, O Father, by Thy hands and commit him to Thy love and mercy. Lord heal him!"

At one point in the service Mr. Hickson spoke of those who had the many persons in the church that his prayer was only the beginning, and that the faith and prayer for recovery must continue. He pointed to a small card on which was printed a prayer for the Christian Healing Mission.

Prayer Guide
 On one side is printed a statement that all who are praying for the mission should pray for the prayer, at noon, if possible. The prayer follows:

"O God our Heavenly Father, we pray for Thy blessing upon the Christian Healing Mission. Bless, protect and guide the workers who have gone forth in the name of Thy Son our Saviour Jesus Christ. May all that they do be directed and governed by Thee. May they be so filled with Thy love and grace that they may be bearers of His Light to those who sit in darkness, for the setting at liberty of souls whom Satan hath bound in unbelief and blindness of all who are sick and suffering in mind and body. And we ask that they and all who are linked with them in prayer at home may be ever united in Thy love, and protected from every snare of the enemy, so that by Thy Grace Thy purposes may be fulfilled to the Glory of Thy Holy Name; for Jesus' sake. Amen."

Church Is Crowded
 Among the hymns which were played were: "Rock of Ages," "Nearer My God to Thee," "Hail, Hail, the Lord's the Word," "Abide With Me," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Just As I am, Without One Claim." The music was played quite softly at first by the organist, then with a slight crescendo and finally in a louder tone, but still with the same soothing, mellow effect.

The healing mission continued throughout the afternoon because of the large crowds. Persons were admitted constantly through the vestryroom to the south of the chancel. As the persons came or were brought forward to the chancel rail others were sent back to the seats. After the prayers the suffering men and women left the chancel and went out through the rear entrance to the church.

Simple Services
 The simplicity of the healing service was in itself an impressive thing. With the exception of the slight noise made by persons coming into the church, the only sounds which were heard were the low tones of Mr. Hickson and the rectors, now and then a sob, and the music from the organ, seeming to come from a great distance, but sounding clearly and softly.

To-morrow morning Mr. Hickson will be in the church again from 10 to 12:30 o'clock to meet all persons who are brought there and to pray for them. It is believed that many more afflicted persons will be brought to the city from other parts of the State, to be helped by him.

Faith Is Necessary
 Before an audience which filled the St. Stephen's Church auditorium to capacity last night, Mr. Hickson explained how faith healing is accomplished. Many afflicted persons were there to hear him tell how they can be cured by faith.

Faith is absolutely necessary, Mr. Hickson said, if any person expects to be healed. He said that Christ did not heal those who did not believe in Him. Mr. Hickson told his large audience that healing through the power of Christ is not new, and that the day of miracles is not past. He said that in Williamsport last week a crippled man was brought in by two men, and left without the assistance of any one.

Miracles Disclaimed
 The healer does not claim to be able to perform miracles and claims no superhuman power. All that is done is brought about by prayer. Mr. Hickson also said that people are living with too much thought about the mental and physical life and not enough about spiritual things. He explained that healing through prayer is not strange or miraculous but is merely accepting what God has to give.

Following the congregational meeting in the church Harrisburg ministers met Mr. Hickson and talked of healing through prayer. All pastors of the Harrisburg Ministerial Association were invited to attend.

MARSHAL FOCH WILL SEE THAT GERMANS OBEY

Will Be Leader of the New Inter-Allied Military Organization

By Associated Press
 Paris, Dec. 15.—Before the official statements have been issued regarding the London conference, it is possible to give some idea of certain agreements that were reached. A French loan of five or six billion francs placed in England, it is understood, would be accepted. An interallied military organization, assuring execution of the Treaty and having under consideration measures which Germany's possible attitude in the future might compel, has been maintained, with Marshal Foch in control.

Absolute reserve is maintained on the situation created by delay in American ratification of the Treaty. The accord between London and Paris, it is declared, remains absolute.

U. S. TAKES UP HUGO KIDNAPING

The Villistas carried off another American named Phillips.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Dec. 15.—Steps will be taken for the immediate release of Fred G. Hugo, the American held by Francisco Villa for $10,000 ransom, according to J. M. Dobie, owner of the ranch in the Mexican state of Coahuila, of which Hugo was manager. Mr. Dobie, who arrived here from San Antonio, Texas, declined to say what action he contemplated.

Details of Hugo's capture by Villistas and his whereabouts still were unknown here early today. A report said Francisco Pardo, a Spaniard, owned the ranch in the Mexican state of Coahuila, of which Hugo was manager. Mr. Dobie, who arrived here from San Antonio, Texas, declined to say what action he contemplated.

Unofficial reports reaching the border indicated that the American with several Mexican hostages probably was being detained in Elpino mountains, about 100 miles from Muzquiz. Whether federal troops had taken up the pursuit of the Villistas could not be learned.

Although previous reports said Villa and several hundred followers who occupied Muzquiz last Tuesday, had been ousted from the town, a day and had fled in the direction of the state of Chihuahua, apparently reliable information indicated that the rebels did not leave Muzquiz until here to it was stated that they headed in the direction of Elpino mountains, leaving word that the money for Hugo's release was to be left at Pino Solo, in the Elpino mountains.

Villa did not molest the poorer persons in Muzquiz, confining his looting to the wealthier residents and the principal stores. He carried off a large supply of blankets, several automobiles, horses and wagons and great quantities of food, it was said. Shortage of food and clothing among his forces is believed here to have been the principle cause of the raid on Muzquiz.

MANY MADE CITIZENS

More than a dozen aliens took the oath of allegiance this morning in a special session of the county court this morning. Judge Kunkel presided. Several cases were continued that Federal examiners might verify reports showing that the foreigners kept out of the war by claiming exemption on the ground of their nativity.

More than two dozen applicants were scheduled to be heard this afternoon.

Father Josephus H. Frastacky, a Steelton clergyman, who came to the States from Austria in 1912, was granted his citizenship papers without much ado. One applicant said the American flag has been his color; another said "Old Glory's" colors are "red, white and green," and another thought Governor Sprout makes the laws for Pennsylvania.

WAR PROHIBITION CONSTITUTIONAL

Federal government. Thereafter, until the end of the war and the termination of mobilization it permits an unrestricted sale for export, within the United States, sales for other than beverage purposes. The uncompensated restriction upon the disposition of liquors imposed by this act is of a nature far less severe than the restrictions on the use of property acquired before the enactment of the prohibitory, which were held to be permissible in cases arising under the fourteenth amendment. The question whether an absolute prohibition of sale could be applied by a state to liquor acquired before the enactment of the prohibitory law has been raised by this court, but not answered, because unnecessary to a decision.

But no reason appears why a state statute, which postpones its effective date long enough to enable those engaged in the business to dispose of stocks on hand at the date of its enactment, should be objectionable to the Fourteenth Amendment, or why such a Federal law should be objectionable to the Fifth Amendment. We cannot say that seven months and nine days was not a reasonable time within which to dispose of all liquors in bonded warehouses on November 21, 1918. The amount then in storage was materially less than was usually carried, because no such liquor could be lawfully made in America under the Lever food and fuel control act after September 8, 1917. And, it is suggested, the liquors remaining in bond November 21, 1918, were not yet sufficiently ripened or aged to permit them to be advantageously disposed of within the limited period of seven months and nine days thereafter, the resulting inconvenience to the owner, attributable to the inherent qualities of the property itself, cannot be regarded as a taking of property in the constitutional sense.
