

WORKING PLANS OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Constitution Accepted and Committees Elected at Last Night's Meeting

Nearly two hundred interested women met at the Civic Club last evening for the second meeting of the new Woman's club now organizing. Miss Louise Palmer Evans, organizing secretary of the National League of Women Workers, New York city, presided.

Miss Bricker was made secretary pro tem, and Miss Beatty temporary treasurer. Many dues for the month of December were received and two sustaining members joined, paying $10 each.

The committee on constitution, Mrs. Ora Harnish Gunnivan, chairman, presented a constitution, read article by article, discussed and accepted. The committee reported several places but nothing definite, so the offer of the Civic Club to give its club house rent free for a time, was accepted gladly.

A nominating committee was elected including: Mrs. Harwood, Dr. Bricker, Miss Tatnal, Miss Scott, and Miss Hoover, who will meet to-night to get ready a ticket to be presented at a meeting held Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Parlor A of the Penn-Harris.

This will be a most important meeting for the program, finance and name committees will be chosen.

New members may come in Friday evening and it has been decided that all women joining before February 1 will be included in the charter membership.

The object of the club is "to promote good fellowship among the women of Harrisburg, and to develop their social, educational and recreational opportunities. Its principles self-supporting."

Hotelmen to Organize Greater Association

A gathering of more than 100 hotelmen of Central Pennsylvania will be held at the Penn-Harris as the guests of the management on December 27 to form the Central Pennsylvania Greeters Association. The Greeters Association, which is active particularly in the Middle West, has only two large chapters in the State, in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

President Leonard C. Hicks, of Chicago, will be present and preside at the meeting next Saturday. The main object of the association which is composed of managers, proprietors and clerks, is to maintain a high standard of efficiency among its personnel, and to generally better the profession.

Among those present will be David Olmstead, Cleveland, O., past president of the organization; National Director Byron, of Cleveland, and Secretary V. S. Warriner, of Denver, Col.

The program for the day consists of business meetings after the registration in the morning, luncheon in the grill, motor ride about the city, and banquet in the ballroom.
