

Robert McClean Goes With David Lawrence

Robert B. McClean has resigned as business manager of the New York Evening Post, effective January 1, and will become business manager and partner in the firm of David Lawrence, Inc., Washington, D. C., which owns the Washington Feature Service and similar organizations.

William A. Bird, who has been business manager, has been transferred, at his own request, from the business to the editorial department to take a similar position on a new feature which is shortly to be announced by the Washington Feature Service.

Mr. McClean's career covers a wide range of newspaper experience. Even before he graduated from Gettysburg College in 1897, he had been the local editor of the Gettysburg Compiler, remaining on the staff until the outbreak of the Spanish-American War, when he enlisted as a member of the Fifth Pennsylvania Volunteers.

He then became editor of the Gettysburg Star and Sentinel, resigning in 1901 to become managing editor of the Harrisburg Telegraph. He was later asked to take charge of the circulation department where he served for eight years, leaving in 1913 to take charge of the preparation of Pittsburgh Post and Sun.

Shortly thereafter he became circulation manager of the New York Evening Post, in January, 1917, he was given the title of business manager, a position he has held until this time.

Indigestion, with gas, sour risings, belching of wind, feeling as if a lump of lead in the stomach and such distresses make one ponder as to the advisability of starving. But that is the wrong method. A better, safer plan is to be regular at meals, eat what is served or what is tastiest and follow the meal with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

CAPTAIN LONG IS NEW COMMANDER

Veteran of Keystone Division Is Elected Head of Calder Post

At a meeting of Calder Post No. 31, Veterans of Foreign Wars held last evening, Captain James T. Long was elected commander.

Other officers selected included: Senior vice-commander, Clyde M. Brandt; junior vice-commander, F. S. Dean; quartermaster, Jonas K. Reist; surgeon, Captain J. H. Kroider; chaplain, James Bismuth; officer of the day, John L. Wolf; trustees, Edward Wert, Charles H. Burg and Charles A. Raffensperger.

CAPTAIN JAMES T. LONG

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the post elected these officers: President, Mrs. Susan Lyter; senior vice-president, Mrs. Sadie Benz; junior vice-president, Mrs. T. S. Dean; treasurer, Mrs. James T. Long; conductress, Mrs. Dolly Fitzpatrick; chaplain, Mrs. Mabel Myers; trustees, Mrs. Alice Burg, Mrs. John Garland and Mrs. George Jack; secretary, Miss Evelyn Burg.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are completing the most momentous year in the history of the organization, and the coming year gives every assurance of being still greater in increased strength and influence. Up to the past year the order could gather recruits only from the veterans who had seen service some 20 years ago in Cuba, Porto Rico, China and the Philippines, but with the return of the soldiers from Europe, its numbers increased accordingly.

By action of the Executive Committee of the National Body all members of the G. A. R. throughout the United States were admitted as honorary members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and to celebrate this event and to show their appreciation of their "old soldier" pal, Calder Post is arranging for a reception and banquet for their old comrades some time during January.

The Ladies' Auxiliary served a chicken dinner to the members after their meeting last night.

Pecan Crop in Alabama Is of Great Value

In Alabama's crop diversification the pecan is coming well to the front. It is a valuable product. It pays well and is easily marketed.

One of the most important addresses delivered at recent session of the Alabama Horticultural Society was that of William P. Bullard, of Albany, Ga., president of the National Pecan Exchange, who called attention to the importance of the co-operative system. The supply company last year did a business of $5,729,000, including lemons, grapefruit and nuts.

Mr. Bullard dwelt particularly upon the co-operative marketing association, because, he stated that without the establishment of co-operative methods in the marketing of pecans, at the present rate of planting and production, the pecan industry would be overgrown in a few years, and consternation result among the growers. One million trees are being planted every year and about 100,000 come into bearing annually.

The National Pecan Exchange is equipped to cure, grade, pack and sell nuts for pecan growers all over the south. The curing house is kept at the temperature of about 100 to 110 degrees, with free circulation of air, as upon the circulation of air, more than its temperature, depends the success of the curing. A large-drum grader is being used, but a smaller grader, costing about $150, may be secured which, as the business grows, may be increased by units of definite size.

"The exchange is growing from year to year and will eventually have to move its headquarters to some large centrally located city where the entire pecan crop of the southern states may be expeditiously handled. The advantage of such an exchange lies in the elimination of the speculator, the intelligent distribution of the crop through a centralized selling agency, the stabilizing of the price, and the extension of markets through an organized publicity. All of this is accomplished with a greater profit to the grower and with no added expense to the consumer." Birmingham Age-Herald.

NO MORE "PICTURE BRIDES." San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 15.—Senator James D. Phelan, who was at home to-day for the holidays, said he had received information from Washington that the Japanese government had decided to cease issuing passports to "picture brides" of Japanese men in the United States, and that it will make a similar announcement to that effect February 21.

Disapproval of the practice of Japanese men in America selecting wives in Japan whose pictures they have seen was expressed in resolutions recently adopted by the board of directors of the Japanese Association of America.

COWS MAKE RECORDS. Twelve members of the Cumberland County Cow Testing Association graduated producing more than forty pounds of butter out of 1,000 pounds of milk during the past month, according to the report of Alvin Randa, local official tester. G. L. Strock led the association with a total of fourteen record cows. The best record during the month was made by a Holstein cow owned by I. V. Otter, which produced 1,523 pounds of milk in a single month. A second testing association in the Shippensburg section.

EDISON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The boys of Edison are happy because sufficient tools have arrived to enable Mr. Miller to open his shop to classes in woodworking. This shop is located on the basement floor at the southeast corner and has a mill room attached. In this room is also space to store the lumber that is necessary to carry on the work of the classes. The mill room contains saws, lathes and joiners. The shop has been equipped with new benches made by the local boys under the direction of Mr. Sirciner. Each bench is equipped with a plane, saw, gauge, rule, square, hammer and several chisels. Each boy will also have a brush with which he will be expected to clean up his bench and set it in perfect order for the class that will use it next.

Mr. Miller's shop opened Monday morning with section 8-B-10 at class and they thus have the distinction of being the first boys at Edison to do real shop work. Every boy at the school will get a chance at woodworking. As the course is outlined everything that the boy will make will be of use either to the boy himself or to some member of the family. Not only will the boy make the article, but he will finish it properly. The school furnishes all the materials.

The other woodworking shop will be in charge of Mr. Grove, but will not be ready for operation for a week or so. Mr. Grove will have charge of the woodworking hobby club and will direct the boys who have selected this club as their choice in whatever thing of wood that these boys wish to make.

Beginning this morning the gymnasium is available for the use of the physical training teachers and they will regularly meet their classes from this time. It will also enable the coaches of basketball to issue a call for candidates within the very near future. Mr. Gumpert has started his classes in electricity and there remains only the print and metal shops to be opened. These shops are held up because of the failure to secure their equipment. This material has been ordered but the shipment is slow in arriving.

The sale of the Red Cross Christmas seals has amounted to nearly $100,000. These seals have made the best record in the order that they have sold stamps are as follows: 8B-3, 8B-2, 8B-6, 8B-4, 7B-9, 7B-2, 7B-7, 7A-1 and 7A-5. These ten sections have sold more than thirty-three thousand seals.

Among the visitors of the school yesterday were Superintendent H. B. Work, of Lancaster, and the principal of the Boys' High school of the same city, B. W. Fisher. Jess Meadath, of section 9B-4 had the honor of conducting the visitors about the building. Edward Rose, one of the supervisors of music of the city schools, also visited the school for a short time yesterday.

The Edison Patrol met for the first time last evening after school. The members of this organization have just been elected and met last evening in conjunction with the civic officers of the school. Each class elects one member to the patrol and it is thus a representative group. Those representing the several classes on this organization are: 9B-1, McLain King; 9B-2, Carl Monlamith; 9B-3, 9B-4, Earle Kreiner; 9B-5, Martin Barbusch; 9B-6, Howard Palm; 9B-7, Earl Selser; 9B-8, Harry Whitmoyer; 9B-9, Samuel McLinn; 8B-1, Royce Charles; 8B-2, Jack Fortenbaugh; 8B-3, Richard Hertzler; 8B-4, John Smith; 8B-5, Alden Turner; 8B-6, Abram Michlovitz; 8B-7, George Nissley; 8B-8, Cecil Heller; 8B-9, Vance Cunningham; 8B-10, Harry Stoner; 8A-1, Bernet Garner; 8A-2, Edward McCarthy; 8A-3, Welton Dolter; 8A-4, Jacob Eisenberger; 8A-5, David Barringer; 7B-1, Edward Morrell; 7B-2, William Lenney; 7B-3, Leslie Saunders; 7B-4, Arthur Goldenberg; 7B-5, Arthur Anzer; 7B-6, Thomas McDonel; 7B-7, Donald Hand; 7B-8, Martin Ducey; 7B-9, Bernard Goshorn; 7B-10, James Kepner; 7B-11, George Zell; 7A-1, Frank Wilson; 7A-2, Park Gorhart; 7A-3, Pierson Jones; 7A-4, William Challenger; 7A-5, Charles Hoffman.

Heavyweight Wrestlers to Meet in Chicago Tonight. Chicago, Dec. 18.—Earl Caddock, heavyweight wrestling champion, and Sam Clapham, holder of the British title, to-day declared that they were ready for their match which was postponed because of Caddock's illness while both men were in the American Expeditionary Force. His course in the immediate future, Caddock said, depends on the showing he makes to-night. He believes that he has recovered from the sickness contracted in France, and unless to-night's contest, his first since he was discharged from the Army, proved he was fit for a gruelling season he would retire temporarily to his farm in Iowa.

JUROR PAINTS; GETS LIQUOR. Newark, N. J., Dec. 18.—Clifford A. Ellis, of Englewood, broke the blockade of prohibition, which he might never have been able to do had not been serving on a jury. Fainting in Federal court, he was carried to the judge's private chamber and there revived with liquor seized as evidence in a recent raid.

New Company Formed to Operate North Penn Bank. Philadelphia, Dec. 18.—Formal election of officers of the Phoenix Trust Company, which is to take over the assets of the defunct North Penn Bank and operate a banking institution at Twenty-ninth and Dauphin streets, took place yesterday in the offices of newly-elected President John J. Coyle. The bank will open for business either on Friday, January 2 or Monday, January 5.

There will be a meeting of the stock holders on the fourth Monday in January at the bank building for the election of eight more directors. The treasurer and one of the vice-presidents will be John W. Phillips, for 29 years cashier of the First National Bank at Allentown City. Other officers chosen yesterday are business men of Philadelphia. Mr. Coyle, the new president, is a former State Senator from Schuylkill county, is president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company and also president of the Bell Union Coal and Mining Company.

Dr. Cocklin Died of Gas Poisoning. Investigations into the death of Dr. Russell T. Cocklin, an optician of New York City, who was found dead in his automobile in his garage, has resulted in the finding that his death was due to carbon monoxide gas, generated in the garage by fumes from his automobile. The autopsy was performed in compliance with demands of the brother. Dr. Cocklin was a former resident of Cumberland county, and was buried near Bowmansdale yesterday afternoon.
