WARN COASTERS ABOUT STREETS

Police Take Steps to Avoid Accidents to Children Coasters

Every precautionary measure to avoid accidents through coasting is being taken by the borough police department, Chief Longaker said this morning.

Saturday afternoon, according to authorities, it was necessary to notify parents in several instances that children were coasting on streets crossing street car tracks and where the traffic is heavy.

Children of the borough have access to good coasting hills in almost every section of the borough. The hills are steep and the streets as a rule are well broken so good coasting is afforded the younger residents of the borough.

The first snow of each winter brings the children out in droves and the police department as a rule has some trouble with the coasters for the first week or so and this year was no exception to the rule. With the fall of the first snow coasters began to use the streets crossing highways used by street cars. This practice endangered the lives of the children and the department at once took immediate steps to discourage coasting on streets crossing highways or thoroughfares with exceedingly heavy traffic.

Patrolmen on Saturday started a campaign, telling the children to use

Disorderly Man Chased For Squares by Behman

Officer Behman attracted much attention about 5 o'clock last night in Front street, in the act of chasing a disorderly man in an effort to arrest him on a disorderly conduct charge. The man, who is a foreigner, was pointed out by a woman in the vicinity of Walnut street, to be the man wanted by the police for some time. Being almost a square away from Officer Behman the foreigner had a good opportunity to escape. The patrolman set out at once with him for twelve squares, when the fugitive finally escaped.

The Rev. C. B. Szegeken, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. The girl quit school because of her health but was preparing to catch up in the work while ill. She had expected to enter school soon but suffered a relapse.

STEELOWORKER INJURED

EXTRA OFFICE MEN

Six additional employees were pressed into service at the post office this morning to assist in handling the extremely heavy Christmas mail. The regular men are on duty extra hours in order to get the mail out, Postmaster Cusack said.

How quickly Resinol Soap cleared my skin

"Do you remember, Marie, how bad my skin looked a short time ago? I was so miserable about it, I never really enjoyed myself. I wouldn't have believed what an improvement Resinol Soap could make. It is wonderful how it gets right into the pores and cleanses them from little particles of dust, etc. It makes my skin feel so refreshed, too, because it has such a wholesome odor, and it is so soothing. I wish everybody would try it."

Changes to Fire Truck Lights May Be Necessary

To comply with State Highway Department motor laws it may be necessary for borough officials to purchase new lighting equipment for fire trucks, it was learned this morning. It is generally understood that the fire trucks come under the new law regardless of the fact that it is necessary to have extra bright lights for this purpose. Should be necessary to purchase fixtures to comply with the complicated laws borough officials will in all likelihood experience some trouble to equip the machines for use under the 1920 license.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

One of the largest collections in the history of the First Presbyterian Sunday school was taken last night, at the annual Christmas exercises. About $75 was collected for the Orphans' Syrian Relief. Out of respect for the late L. E. McGinnis, a prominent church member, the exercises were not so elaborate as had been planned.

At the Centenary United Brethren Church exercises last night a large amount of money was collected for the Quincey Orphans' Home.

Christmas entertainment in the First Methodist church will be held Tuesday night. The annual Christmas service will be held Thursday morning at 6 o'clock.

COUNCIL TO OPEN FIRE HOSE BIDS AT MEETING

Bids on 1,500 of new fire hose to be purchased by council for the borough fire department will be opened at a special meeting of council this evening at 7 o'clock. In all likelihood council will decide at this session to purchase the hose, providing the bids are satisfactory.

Samuel Goldwyn Presents Rex Beach's "The Girl from Outside"

You're the finest girl in the world and I am a thief!!

And in the end he gave his life to save the man she loved, as lightly as once he would have taken the life of any man who crossed his path. Rex Beach is no cynic. He believes in the race. He knows there is a substratum of gold in the blackest heart. The Kid proves it. He is a thief—he is one of a gang of thieves—all of them redeemed from dishonor and shame by a young and innocent girl playing a lone hand in a land that knows only one type of woman!

A peach of a story!—a Beach of a story!—a story of love and honor rising from the mud of primitive passions and surging through reefs of nip-and-tuck suspense, told by one of the greatest photo-dramatists of his time, and screened with the scenic fidelity and crystalline photography of Goldwyn!

BACK PAY NOW IN CIRCULATION

Pottsville Employees Get Big Checks; Harrisburg Men Still Waiting

Back pay is headed this way for railroad men. This report reached Harrisburg Saturday. At the meeting yesterday of the various shopcraft organizations, and brotherhoods, it was said that word had just been received that the recent back-pay sheets had been approved at Washington. However, no official word has been received.

It was said the men seldom know when the back pay is coming until the checks are paid out. A dispatch from Pottsville says:

"Enormous sums of back pay were paid out to railroad employees in this section the last two days, and will be continued this week. Some railroad men are collecting as high as $2,000 from the railroad administration.

Some Big Checks
 Yesterday a man had been getting $40 a month before the war, has been notified that he has $1,200 coming to him as arrears for the last two years.

Yesterday there was paid out here $17,500 as back pay by the railroads. The average amounts dual from $50 to $200 to each individual in their section monthly regular pay envelopes some freight engineers jingled $150 as Christmas money.

Some of the railroad men complained because the amounts were not as high as expected, due to layoffs caused by the strike of the soft coal miners.

Production of Ties Is Showing Large Increase

The production of ties for the ten months ending October 30, this year, has been approximately $4,000,000, according to reports received by the forest products section, railroad administration. It is estimated that the production for November and December will amount to 10,250,000. The number of ties inserted for renewals up to October 30 this year was 75,580,185. The production in 1918 was only 80,000,000, while 84,000,000 were inserted during the year. The number of ties on hand when the railroads were taken over in December, 1917, was about 44,000,000. This had been reduced to 35,000,000 on January 1, 1919, but on November 1 the number of ties on hand had increased to 51,000,000.

Shopmen Meet Hines to Renew Fight Against H.C.L.

Washington, Dec. 22.—Representatives of the railroad shop crafts, which have a membership of more than 500,000, called on Director General Hines Saturday to renew their discussion of the high cost of living and the necessity for wage increases. Mr. Hines explained that he hoped in a few days to give more definite advice on living costs, and a further conference was agreed on. Neither the union officials nor Mr. Hines would discuss the conference, but it was thought that Attorney General Palmer's forthcoming report of what had been accomplished to reduce the cost for living would have a part in the negotiations.

Farmers Want Railroads Under Private Control

Washington, Dec. 22.—The "substantial country people" are demanding the return of the railroads to their owners at the "earliest practical moment." T. C. Attkson, Washington representative of the National Grange, declared in a letter to President Wilson, Denying reports that "organized farmers" favored a continuation of Government control, Mr. Attkson said, "persons who were said to have been actively engaged in spreading such information were not representative of the farmers."

Action of the annual session of the National Grange at Grand Rapids, in November, was cited by Mr. Attkson as the organization's policy until the present railroad problem had been definitely settled. He added that the agricultural press, with few exceptions, had taken the same stand relative to a continuation of Government control, while leaders of most of the great farmers' groups were united in urging immediate return of the carriers.

Shakespeare's "Seven ages of man" pay tribute to Horlick's Malted Milk

From across every sea and land have come thousands of grateful letters to the Horlick offices, paying tribute to Horlick's Malted Milk. Mothers of contented babies, soldiers after a campaign, explorers back from the ice fields, high tension business and professional workers, invalids and the aged—all tell of the different needs that Horlick's has filled.

Horlick's has proved itself to be the ideal food for every age of Shakespeare's Seven. It is so complete in itself as to contain every element of nutrition necessary to sustain life—even of the most robust—and yet it is readily digestible by the delicate stomach of the infant and the invalid.

1st Age. "First the infant in the nurse's arms"

"Words fail to express how grateful I am to Horlick's Malted Milk. My babe was given up; it was said she would not live through the night. But the next morning it still lived, and while we anxiously watched it, a neighbor persuaded us to try 'Horlick's.' It was like putting oil on the wick of a dying lamp; she improved rapidly, and is now the joy of the house!"

2d Age. "Then the school boy with his shining morning face"

"I raised five children on 'Horlick's,' and they all love it still. It can't be beat as a nutritious lunch between meals for a growing boy or girl!"

3d Age. "Then the soldier seeking reputation at the cannon's mouth"

"Clara Barton of the Red Cross in her stories of the Spanish-American War tells how Colonel Roosevelt asked the Red Cross to sell him some supplies for some sick men in his regiment, but she declined. 'We cannot sell them, but you can have them for asking.' 'Oh, then I do ask for them.' 'All right, what is on your list?' The list was Horlick's Malted Milk, etc. Colonel Roosevelt slung the heavy sack over his shoulder, and trudged off through the jungle!"

4th Age. "And then the lover with his ballad"

"Horlick's growth as a fountain favorite has been unequalled. A constant stream of young couples in the afternoon and evening call for Horlick's Malted Milk, chocolate or plain. 'Horlick's' is a favorite lunch hour drink around universities with the students. A glass making a meal, they find it very economical and healthful!"

5th Age. "And then the justice full of wise saws"

"When I need an invigorator as the result of my work I drink a cup of 'Horlick's.' I have used it constantly for several years, and find it cannot be beat for weak stomach, as a diet. In fact, it is all that is claimed for it."

6th Age. "The sixth age with spectacles on nose"

"I am 60 years old, and consider it a fortunate day when a friend induced me to try a cup of Horlick's Malted Milk. I use it with benefit and pleasure two or three times a day. It is delicious and has done me a world of good!"

7th Age. "Last scene of all that ends this eventful history"

"I could not do without it. It surely is a sleep producer and I am a nervous person, but Horlick's Malted Milk has helped me greatly. I have learned by experience that 'Horlick's' is as excellent for well people as for invalids!"

8th Age. "The original and reliable round package in use for over 1/2 century"
