THE OFFICE SCOUT GIVES ADVICE

Boys Prepare to Continue Good Work During the New Year

Well, fellows, now that it's all over do you feel like saying "What are we going to do now?" To begin with, there's a whole new year yet un-touched, and let's do our best to make it a winner.

All this reminds me that you're having a vacation now. Did you ever think about making a successful vacation for yourself? Of course you're having a good time, that's understood, and you're not expected to study a lot just now, but wouldn't it be fine if you could do at least one thing that would make you think your vacation had been more than worth while?

TROOP SIXTEEN

A scout is trustworthy. For the benefit of those scouts of our troop who seem to be unaware that this is the first scout law, I want to mention it here.

This morning seven of our hardier spirits left at 7:30 on a two-day hike to the Hut. This group was under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmaster Wilbur Criswell.

PACK EIGHT

Our regular weekly meeting was held Monday evening at the club rooms. It was hoped that all members would be present but there were four absentees.

We decided on a design for a Pack flag, which will be ordered at once. A hike is being planned for New Year's day. It was also decided to organize a basketball team.

PACK THIRTEEN

We are well organized now and have two patrols which will be known as the Conie and Eagle. The leader of the Conie is Bricker, of the Conie, Lego.

TROOP NINETEEN

Troop 19 had its first meeting in Grace Methodist Church on Friday, Dec. 12. Some additions were being made to the church, and we therefore had to hold our meetings elsewhere.

HEADQUARTERS OPEN FOR EXAMINATIONS

To prove that Scout Headquarters is more than willing to do anything to increase the number of second class and first class scouts, Scout Executive Virgin has announced that Monday and Tuesday, December 29 and 30, will be examination days.

PACK TWO

This is the day after, and we hope to have our meeting as usual this evening. Wonder how many Cubs will be able to be present. The real exciting part of the story of Track's End will be reached. We have heard how Bud Pitcher has been left alone for the winter in the town, and now his troubles with wolves and Indians and Pike's gang are about to begin.

This meeting will be devoted to having a good time. No business nor tests, so come prepared to spend a happy evening.

ITALIAN LAKE MAY BE SKATING CENTER Italian Park Lake is going to be an added skating pond for the city hockey players, if Council takes action shortly on the acquisition of the tract of land including the lake.

J. E. RUTHERFORD DIES AT AGE OF 81

Businessman and Banker Was Descendant of Old Family

After celebrating his eighty-first birthday less than a week ago, John Edmund Rutherford died last evening at his Paxtang home, from a heart attack.

Mr. Rutherford was born in Harrisburg December 17, 1838, the descendant of one of the early settlers in this section of Pennsylvania. A charter member and director of the Steelton National bank and the Steelton Trust company, he was prominently identified with banking interests in this vicinity.

downtown, Highspire and Steelton Railways Company, for thirty-six years associated with J. Donald Cameron in the operation of the Lochiel Farms and a member and trustee of the old Paxton church.

Served in Civil War Mr. Rutherford received his education in the public schools of his native township and Mount Joy Academy, Lancaster county. After leaving the academy, he taught a district school in Swatara township, and after the breaking out of the Civil War, he served a short period with the Pennsylvania State militia at the time of the battle of Antietam.

In the spring of 1865, he took service in the quartermaster's department of the volunteer army and remained in that position until May, 1865, doing service during that period in Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and South Carolina.

Returning home in 1866, he followed the occupation of farming until 1875, and then, in connection with that business, went into the coal business in Harrisburg. He continued both until 1875, at which time he took charge of Senator J. D. Cameron's Lochiel farms, and subsequently the Senator's Dentry farms, and other land estate.

JUST AS MANY POOR IN CHICAGO

By Associated Press Chicago, Dec. 26.—After the war "prosperity" did not decrease the numbers of Chicago applications for Christmas dinner baskets. Reports from various organizations of the city last night indicated that requests for aid were as numerous as in former years.
