They stood before the Royal Bush of the Mangaboos in silent admiration. On the central stalk stood poised the figure of a girl so exquisitely formed and colored and so lovely in the expression of her delicate features, that Dorothy thought shad never seen so sweet and adorable a creature in all her life, and fell about her in ample folds, while dainty lacelike traceries trimmed the bodice and sheeves. Her flesh was fine and smooth as polished ivory, and her polse expressed both dignity and grace.

to the other side. This was a very interesting experience to them, and Dorothy said:

"I wonder why it is that we can walk so easily in the air."

"Perhaps," answered the Wixard,
"It is because we are close to the center of the earth, where the attraction of gravitation is very slight. But I've noticed that many queer things happen in fairy countries."

"Is this a fairy country?" asked the boy.

the boy.

"Of course it is," returned Dorothy, promptly. "Only a fairy country could have veg-table people and only in a fairy country could Eureka and Jim talk as we do."

"That's true," said Zeb, thought-

In the vegetable gardens they found the strawberries and melons, and several other unknown but delicious fruits. Of which they at the heartily. But the kitten bothered them constantly by demanding milk or meat, and called the Wizard names because he could not bring her a dish of milk by means of his magical arts.

As they set upon the grace week.

As they sat upon the grass watching Jim, who was still busily eating, Eureka said:

"I don't believe you are a Wizards

"No," answered the little man, "you are quite right. In the strict sense of the word I am not a Wizard, but only a humbug." "The Wizard of Oz has always been a humbug," agreed Dorothy. "I've known him for a long time.

"If that is so," said the boy, "how could he do that wonderful trick with the nine tiny piglets?"

"where everything is small because it's a small island. A sailor brought them to Los Angeles and I gave him nine tickets to the circus for
