position promptly organized both branches by electing their Officers, as follows :

Thirty-Sixth Congress... 1st Session.

Congress re-assembled Tuesday Hon. Galusha A. Grow. aeveral Democrats absent, but those present renewed the factious, disorganizing course York, a reply of which the following is a copy:

on the subject of Congressional interven- nothing that makes it necessary for me to tion for the establishment and protection name a time and place outside the District of Columbia rarely have a full columbia trackly have a full columbia, to receive from you a communication of the establishment and protection columbia, to receive from you a communication of the establishment and protection columbia, to receive from you a communication of the establishment and protection columbia trackly have a full co of Slavery in all the U. S. Territories, has widened the breach between him and the Douglas party. Mr. Morris, of Ill, most the House of Representatives, in reply toyour severely denounced that part of the Speech speech impugning my motives, and the integrating of my acts as a legislator. On that occain the Congressional debating-house.

Pennsylvania Politics.

Our Member of Congress, Hon. John W. KILLINGER, got the floor one day last character, then I have this to reply: Regarding all dueling as at variance with the precepts of the Christian religion and the sentiments of a Christian people, and it being premarts of the Pennsylvania laborers. He said it was not the Slavery issue alone I can not recognize it as a justifiable mode of that State—the Protection issue was quite of unwarrantable provocation; but my personal rights, and the freedom of debate guaras operative. No party could carry Pono'a anteed by the Constitution, I shall defend unless it were true to that principle. He hoped the President's recommendation on fully yours, G. Hon. L. OB. Branch. the Tariff would be adopted, and asked of the South to do us that act of justice-it would be bailed as an olive-branch of nic. The Republicans must take up as a candidate a man sound on that platform, or lose the State. Pennsylvania has her own candidate, but would sustain Mr. Noward or any other nominee whose record on that issue was satisfactory.

This short but pithy speech created a lively time. Messra Florence and Montgemery attempted to play Tariff men by attacking some vote of Mr. Sherman on a running, confused contest some years ago, but were effectually silenced by Messrs. Covode and James H. Campbell, who demonstrated that Mr. Sherman co-sperated with the true Tariff men of Pennsylvania. Judge Hale also participated. In fact, the Pennsylvania Members sought the floor so numerously and so importanately that the House was convulsed with laughter by the remark of an Ohio Member that the Pennsylvania furnaces seemed to be all in ful blast!

Attempted Bullying!

Mr. Grow, Challenged-lits Noble Reply.

It will be remembered, that, last year, the Democratic U. S. Senate foisted into the Post office Appropriation Bill, a section nearly doubling the rates of Letter and Newspaper Postage! When it is remembered that the postages from the Slave States never pay their expenses, it will be seen at once that this was a special and direct tax upon the Free States, and therefore onenous and unjust. But it was more than that-it was clearly UNconstitutional, as it was a revenue measure, and the Constitution expressly provides that all such measures MUST originate only with the people's branch, the House. Coming back to the House, that body promptly struck out the invidious and illegal section, on motion of Mr. Grow, anstained by all the Republicans and about 30 Northern Democrats. The House then passed, immediately, another bill covering the same appropriations precisely, but omitting the section raising the rates of postage. The Democratic, Pro Siavery which he is a Member, also show the ster-Senate, refused to pass this latter Billbut declared their bill should pass, or there should be no appropriation. For once, the House adhered to their rightsstood firm to the interests of the people—
