OUR NEW JUDGE.—We this week for the first time had the pleasure of seeing Judge LINN upon the bench. Business was transacted as if he had been judge for twenty years. We were surprised to see his entire familiarity with every branch of his duties. His charges to the juries were clear and explicit, and his decisions on points of law were marked by general acquiescence. Judge Linn is no great friend of rowdies and rascals. His sentences were severe though just. Centre county may well be proud of her Linn.—Bellefonte Press.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Adison C. Church, Esq., of Kingston, came home from Dallas on Sunday evening, and sat down in the house. ☞Last week, this community was startled by the news of the death of a much esteemed youthful friend, JAMES B. HAMLIN, Esq.
