My second was more levely far Than all the girls around her, With mules and niggers, stocks and lands, And money too-confound her; I coaxed her with a conning tongue, And nought she asked refused her, But when she begged me to "excuse,"

I, like a fool, "excused her." The next had charming, golden curls, Around her shoulders floating, With hip and eye and voice so sweet, I scarce could help from courting; So mild, so gentle too, was she-So little touched with evil, But when I made my motive known She proved a perfect d-coquette!

I tried again, with like results, The lower and the higher-Each beauty seemed to dote on me Until I came to try her. So here's a toast to one and all So here's a toast to the first to the female population;

It is significant as singular, that not a single disunion speech has been made in the House of Representatives in Congress eince the election of Mr. Pennington! The election of a Republican Speaker, it will be remembered, was to signal the dissolution of the Union. So much are the threats of the Mulatto-Democracy worth, and no more.

Perilous Position. Near Duboque, Iowa, last week, a shaft was being blasted through a rock thirty feet deep. A man named Norton was engaged in drilling, while a companion attended the windlass and drew him up when the signal was given. The Herald

Haging finished a drill, leaded it, and getting ready preparatory to firing the fuse, Mr. Norton commenced picking up his tools, in readiness to ascend. At this moment, his foot struck the caudle, upsetting it exactly on the fuse, and in a second it had caught and was fizzing down towards the powder. Mr. Norton immediately commenced calling on the man above to pull him up. The latter was at some little distance from the shaft, and did not hear the cry; but, fortunately, happening to look in that direction, he saw the rope shaking, and thinking that be might be wanted, he hastened up. In the next instant he became aware what was wanted, and immediately commenced bauling up the other. REMARKABLE CIRCUMSTANCE.—There is now residing on Hudson street, in the third ward of Elmira, N. Y., an old lady named Mrs. Hannah Webber, who reached her twenty-fifth birth day on Wednesday of last week, and yet is onehundred yearsold. This remarkable circumstance is attributable to the fact that she was born on Feb. 29, 1760, and as that was leap year, there have been but twenty-five recurrences of town, under a solemn promise never to that day from the time of her birth to the present time.

family, and the unsolicited written and verbal testimony of the masses in its favor, have been and are its own best advertisement.

The ingredients which enter into the Pain Killer, being PURELY VEGETABLE, render it a PERFECTLY SAFE and efficacious remedy taken internally, as well as for external applications, when used according to the directions. The slight stam upon linen from its use in external applications, is readily removed by washing with a little alcohol.

This medicine, so justly celebrated for the cure of so many of the afflictions incident to the human family, has now been before the public about EIGHTEEN YEARS, and has found its way into almost every corner of the world, and wherever it has been used, the same opinion is expressed of its real medicinal properties.

In any attack where prompt action upon the system is required, the Pain Killer is invaluable. Its almost instantaneous effect in RELIEVING PAIN is truly wonderful, and when used according to directions is true to its name.
