A scene of the wildest excitement followed, the immense multitude rising and giving round after round of applause. Ten thousand voices swelled into so deafening a roar that for several minutes every attempt to restore order was hopelessly vain. The multitude on the outside took up and re-echoed the cheers, making the scene of enthusiasm and excitement unparalelled in any similar gathering.

-Having done a good day's work, the Convention adjourned until 10 o'clock the next morning.

FRIDAY, May 18. The Wigwam was closely packed for a full hour before the Convention assembled. A crowd numbered by thousands had been outside the building since 9 o'clock, anxfously awaiting intelligence from the inside. Arrangements had been made for passing the result of the ballots up from the platform to the roof of the building and through the skylight, men being stationed above to convey it to the people in the streets.

After some time spent in dislodging interlopers from the delegates' seats, and other matters unimportant to report, they proceeded to nominate for

The Presidency. The following Letter had been circulalated among the Delegates on Wednesday: Col. Fremont's Declination.

DEER VALLEY, Mariposa county, April 12, 1860. S to receive your thoroughly sincere and friend-ly letter of the 8th, from San Francisco, and have to thank you equally for the warmth with which you urge your propositions in my favor, and for the very strong expression of regret for the position I have taken

Since the campaign of 1856, I have been laboriously occupied with my private affairs, and so exclusively, that I have been entirely shut off from the political life of the country. In the beginning of that contest, if I had neither political pressige nor party organization. Republican principles, and the Republican I had at least no organized bodies opposed to party. His fidelity to the country, the my nomination. Now the case is wholly dif-ferent. You will give full faith to what I say, when I tell you that I have personally no de-sire for the Presidency, but I do most earnestly desire to preserve undiminished the great ment of our party to its victory-that our nor which the vote of the North reflected country may rise to its true glory-induupon me in that campaign. In this respect, ces me to declare that I speak his sentiit would be no benefit to myself, and certain-ly none to the party which I wish to serve, if under these circumstances, I were brought before the Convention, where I could only be one of the elements of discord. I prefer, on coln, of Illinois, as the Republican candithe contrary, to contribute as much as possi-ble to its barmony, and leave it to this extent more free to make a prompt selection from among the distinguished leaders who have been actively engaged in maintaining and advancing the principles of the party.

Letters and other indications had led me to think that my name would be placed before the Convention at Chicago, and wishing to have the certainty that in this event it would be promptly withdrawn, I asked you to do this friendly act for me if it became necessary. I rely confidently upon your assistance, tha my request will be faithfully observed. The contingency which your very friendly feel-ings make appear as probable, I look upon as nearly impossible. In such an event, the nomination would be accepted, of course, as the choice of the party, and not as the result of a struggle for a nomination. But this, I repeat, I consider impossible.

Renewing my thanks for permitting me to avail myselt of your friendship, on an occa-sion of so much importance to me, I am, very truly, yours, J. C. FREMONT.

The Convention immediately became a scene of wild excitement. A large portion a grand ratification meeting will be held. of the delegates who had kept the tally, came desfening. The intelligence of the nomination, when conveyed to the people outside, caused a scene of the wildest excitement, beggaring description. Cheer upon cheer rent the air, while the cannon sent forth roar after roar of salutes. At least 30,000 people participated in the excitement.

THE NOMINATION MADE UNANIMOUS. When silence was restored, Mr. Ecvrts

(N. Y.) spoke as follows: Mr. President, and gentlemen of the National Convention: The State of New York, by a full Delegation, and with complete unanimity of purpose at home, came to this Convention and presented as its choice one of its citizens who had served the State from boyhood up-bad labored for it, and loved it. We came here a great State, with as we thought a great Statesman, and our love of the great Republic from which we are all delegatesthe great Republic of the American Union. Our love for the great Republican party of the Union, and our love for our statesman candidate, made us think that we did our duty to the country, and the whole country, in expressing our preference and love for him. Gentlemen, it was from Gover nor Seward that most of us learned to love Republican principles, and the Republican Constitution and the laws-his fidelity to the party, and the principle that majorities govern-his interest in the advancements, as I do the united opinion of our delegation, when I move you, sir, as I do now, that the nomination of Abram Lincate for the suffrages of the whole country for the office of Chief Magistrate of the American Union, be made unanimous. Loud applause greeted this speech, and three cheers were given for New York. Elequent speeches were made by Messrs.

Blair (Mo.,) and Browning (Ili.,) endorsing the worthiness of Mr. Lincoln. The nomination was then made unanimous, amid loud cheers. EVENING.-The Convention re-assembled at 5, P. M.

A large banner was brought on the platform by the Pennsylvania delegates, bearing the inscription-"Pennsylvania good for 20,000 majerity

Mr. Hamlin's Acceptance.

[The Republican Association of Washingon City, on the evening of his nomination, waited upon Senator Hamlin, who addressed the crowd as follows:]

Fallow Cirizens: Sympathizing with you in principles that have united us, I am happy to greet you on this occasion. I am pleased to mingle my thoughts with yours in that tribute which you pay to a common cause. You have come, my friends, for the purpose of congratulating each other upon the result of the action of our friends who have met in counsel at Chicago, the communication of whose decision has come to us ov-Mr. Lowry (l'a) named Gov. Reeder, men, shall receive no detriment at my bands. You are here to pay a tribute to that man who is to bear your standard on to what we hope and believe a triumphant victory. You here to pay a tribute to that young giant of the West, who comes from that region where the star of empire has already culmiof the people, but a man who is identified in all your interests by his early associations in life, who sympathize justly and troly with the labor of all this broad land, himself inured to toil. Capacious, comprehensive, a statesman what is the mission, my friends, that is committed to our hands? It is to bring back your government to the position, to bring back the principles and practices of its fathers and founders, and administer in the light of their wisdom. It is to purge the government of its corruptions, compared with which those in any other administrations pale into utter insignificance. It is to maintain the integrity of the Union, with the just rights of all the States; and, while the just rights of all the States are maintained, it is also to maintain that States shall not interfere in Territories outside of their own jurisdiction. And it i to give new aids to commerce across the trackless ocean-it is to foster and give new life to the industry of this broad land. Wha is it but the industry of our country that up-holds your government? What is it but the labor of your country that spreads out your canvass on the distant sea? What is it but labor that delves in your mines, and toils in your workshops, and upholds the government under which you live! Who is there that should receive the fostering care and kind regards of the Government, if it be not the man that toils and adds, by his industry, to the wealth of the Republic! This is the mission that the Republican party, under the guid-ance of Heaven, dare to perform and dis-charge. They are to do that, and then they will transmit to those who shall come after them our government unimpaired, and it where the oppressed of every clime and land, and of every creed, may come and receive the protection of our lands and our liberty regulated by law. [Hon. James H.
