Lewisburg, Pa.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 11, 1861.

☞We print the abo and continuing letter of Mr. Collins on our first page.

☞Last Saturday was good sleighing, and hundreds of runners were seen upon the streets.

☞The Winfield and New Berlin Stage and Express-carrier is now run by Charles Jenny.

☞Gov. Packer has appointed George A. Funk, Esq., a Notary Public for Union county.

☞The Millmont Stage now leaves early in the morning, but the mail is made up the evening previous.

☞Next Union County Court Week commences on Monday the 18th February prox. It is now hoped and expected that Hon. Wayne J. Woodward, of Bloomsburg, will again preside, at our next Term.

☞Probably the 8th of January has never been as generally celebrated in the Free States, as this year—and everywhere Major Anderson's name was connected with General Jackson's as the engineers —"the Union must be preserved."

☞Any one may regard it as an idle vanity Fair to add these words to the Truth is as we see it. Note of the New Age. And surely it is [illegible] Believe it not, nothing is promised [illegible] (to New Ages.)

☞In the account of the [illegible] Pennsylvania for the year [illegible] Bridge over the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg, it is stated, we think, as follows: [illegible] Bridge is [illegible] Bridge is [illegible] Bridge is
