A well-known merchant of Philadelphia, who was in New Orleans on the day Louisians passed the Secession ordinance, and who witnessed the illumination in bonor of that treasonable act, has related to us, (with a request that we would suppress names,) the following racy incident, which illustrates the fact that the Union people of the South have, at this time, no voice in the newspaper reports of the disunion section. It so happened that on the day of the illumination, the captain of a Misaissippi steamboat and his lady were stopping at the St. Charles, and occupied a front room, on the third floor-the first floor of chambers-exactly in the centre of the hotel. The captain was for Union, and so was his wife. All the city was egitated in the afternoon in prospect of the grand gala at night. The St. Charles was to be illuminated, of course. Accordingly, some time during the afternoon, a servant knocked at the door of the Captain's room, carrying all the necessary trappings for lighting up the chamber windows. Mrs. - opened the door, when the following dialogue ensued :

Lady. What have you got there? Servant. Candles, Missus, to light your windows for de 'lumination.

L. Well, you can return them to where you brought them from ; I shall not allow them in this room.

8. (Not to be foiled so easily, resumed.) Oh! but Massa told me to put up de lights, and so I's got to put 'em up. L. Can't help that : this is my room, and I shan't allow the windows to be illuminated for what I am opposed to; so that ends it.

Having occasion for a portrait, I procured one from Mr. Robert Newell, of the city of Philadelphia, a ministure in Oil Colors, ander the new process discovered by least and take great pleasure in expressing the satisfaction given me, not only by the securety of the likeness, but its artistic finish in all respects, and recommend him to the patronage of those disposed to encourage the beautiful art.

Name 1 This closed the first act. The servant reported to the proprietors, who immediately proceeded to the lady's room, with a view to convincing her of the importance of permitting the servant to make ready for the grand evening light-up. Said they, "This room is the most central in the entire front, and not to illuminate it will be to mar seriously the effect of the whole," to which the lady replied :

"[am sorry, gentlemen, to cause you any inconvenience, but I believe this room for the time being is ours by right, and I must positively decline, in any way, to add eclat to a great outrage, as I conceive the whole disunion movement to be. My husband is a Union man, and I am a Union woman, and this room can not be illuminated."

A few more words were exchanged, which ended by the lady politely request- the celebrated Coal Oil Lamps together ing the proprietors to leave her room. Determined not to be outdone in a matter of such grave importance, the Captain American Life Insurance & Trust Co .. was next found and appealed to. He heard their case; said his wife had reported him correctly on the Union question; nevertheless, he would go with them to or at Joint Stock rates about 20 per cent, less see if the matter could be amicably arworld.

A. WHILLDIN, President ranged.

Scene third ensued. The Captain's 747] disposition to yield, was not to be secon-ded by his better half. They next proposed to vacate the best chamber in her favor, in some other part of the house, if favor, in some other part of the house, if that would be satisfactory, but the lady's "No!" was still as peremptory as ever. Her point was gained, and the St. Charles sinesa in the town, will find this a pleasant and comfortable home. Charges moderate. was doomed to have a dark front chamber. Lewisburg, Pa., Sept. 6, 1859 m3

Pleased with this triumph, Mrs. devised the following manouvre to make the most of her victory : Summoning a MAMMOTH PROTOGRAPH GALLERY, servant, she sent him out to procure for ber an American flag, which, at dusk, she suspended from her window.

This made the fourth act in the play, and as the fifth is always indispensable, it had its place. When evening came, the streets, animated by a merry throng, were illuminated, but, alas! the St. Charles was disfigured by its sombre chambre, when suddenly a succession of lamps, suspended on both sides of the flag, revealing the Stars and Stripes, were lit up, and the ensign of the Union waved from the centre of a botel illuminated in bonor of its overthrow! The effect was, to give the impression that the whole house was thus paying homage to the American flag; B. Prices from $12 create and operated. Photographs in Oil, transferred from small pictures, and from the Prices from $15 to $100. and, what is most significant, is the fact that the latter was greeted by the passing crowd with vociferous applause! So much for the firmness of a true Union woman.

Good Behavior of an Oil Well.

The Titusville Gazette gives the following account of an oil well at Rouseville. It belongs to Curtis and Hickok: "This well is 102 feet deep. Its largest oil vein was opened on Friday, January 11th, at nine o'clock, a. m. Previous to the striking of that vein, 52 barrels of oil bad been dipped off. At the opening of the vein the well commenced flowing, since which time 1,280 barrels of oil bave been lost on the ground. Until recently this well has flowed at regular intervals, four times a day, Sundays excepted! We mean just what we say, that the well flowed once in every six hours for six days of the week, but on the Salbath, the first day of the week, it did not flow. Our readers may account for these periodical discharges by any law of nature which will satisfy their own minds. We state the facts .- ["Important-if true."]

Description of the following continued suffering:

Description of the following continued suffering such a factor of the free years ago, I was attacked with a disease of the threat, which came on gradually, but at times when I would take cold the pain and suffering would be very distressing, accompanied with loss of voice to such an extent that I could not speak above a whisper. The disease continued getting werse, not withstanding I was under medical treatment of four different physicians. Becoming alarmed at my condition, I concluded to go to Philadelphia and consult you, which you reconlect I did in the winter of 1851, when you recommended me to take your Depurative: and by the use of four bottles of it, in connection with your threat application, I was entirely cured, and have remained well. It is now more than a year since the cure was effected. Respectfully, your friend.
