THE MEN WHO FELL IN BALTIMORE.

DEDICATED TO THE SIXTH MASSACHUSETTS REGIMENT.

Our country's call awoke the land
From mountain height to ocean strand.
The Old Keystone, the Bay State too,
In all her direst dangers true,
Resolved to answer to her cry,
For her to bleed, for her to die—
And so they marched, their flag before,
For Washington, through Baltimore.

Our men from Berks and Schuylkill came—
Lehigh and Mullin in their train;
First in the field they sought their way,
Hearts beating high and spirits gay;
Heard the wild yells of fiendish spite,
Of armed mobs on left and right;
But on they marched, their flag before,
For Washington, through Baltimore.

Next came the Massachusetts men,
Gathered from city, glade and glen;
No hate for South, but love for all,
They answered to their country's call.
The path to them seemed broad and bright,
They sought no foemen and no fight,
As on they marched, their flag before,
New England's braves, through Baltimore.

But when they showed their martial pride,
And closed their glittering columns wide,
They found their welcome in the fire
Of maddened foes and demons dire,
Who, like the fiends from hell sent forth,
Attacked these heroes of the North—
These heroes bold, with travel sore,
While on their way through Baltimore.

From every stuling den and street,
They rushed the gallant band to meet—
Forgot the cause they came to save—
Forgot that those they struck were brave—
Forgot the dearest ties of blood
That bound them in one brotherhood—
Forgot the flag that floated o'er
Their countrymen in Baltimore.

And the great Song their sou had penned,
To rally freemen to defend
The banner of the "stripes and stars"
That makes victorious all our wars,
Was laughed to scorn, as madly then
They greeted all the gallant men
Who came from Massachusetts' shore
To Washington, through Baltimore.

And when, with wildest grief, at last,
They saw their comrades falling fast,
Full on the assassins in their track
They wheeled, and drove the cowards back.
Then, with their hearts o'erwhelmed with woe,
Measured their progress, stern and slow;
Their wounded on their shoulders bore
To Washington, through Baltimore.

Yet, while New England mourns her dead,
The blood by Treason foully shed,
Like that which flowed at Lexington,
When Freedom's earliest fight begun,
Will make the day, the month, the year,
To every patriot's memory dear—
Sons of great Fathers gone before,
They fell for Right at Baltimore.

As over every honored grave,
Where sleeps the "unreturning brave,"
A mother sobs, a young wife moans,
A father for his lost one groans,
Oh! let the people ne'er forget
Our deep, enduring, lasting debt
To those who left their native shore
And died for us in Baltimore.

JOHN W. FORNEY.

Washington City, May, 1861.

WAR INCIDENT.—While one of the Massachusetts regiments was in this city, on its way to Washington, a gentleman residing here met one of its members on the street.

"Is there anything I can do for you sir? said the New Yorker, his heart warming toward the representative of the brave Massachusetts militia who had so promptly answered the call of their country.

The soldier hesitated a moment, and finally raising one of his feet exhibited a boot with a hole in the toe, and generally the worse for the wear.

"How came you here with such a boot as that, my friend?" asked the citizen.

"When the order came for me to join my company, sir," replied the soldier, "I was ploughing the same field at Concord where my grandfather was ploughing when the British fired on the Massachusetts men at Lexington. He did not wait a moment; and I did not, sir."

It is unnecessary to add that the soldier was immediately supplied with an excellent pair of boots.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

A TRAITOR SILENCED.—In Towanda, Pa., last week, four or five companies of Volunteers were on the point of starting for Harrisburg when a fellow commenced talking Secession—declaring that he wished he was South, and he would join the Confederate Army. He had no sooner uttered these treasonable remarks than he was knocked down by a blow from the fist of a raw-looking youth, standing near. The Southern sympathizer rose to his feet, and was again knocked down; he staggered up a second time, and was again "keeled over." Up to this time, the green-looking youth had not uttered a word; but after delivering his "third round," he exclaimed: "I 'listed, yesterday, to fight for my country, and I'll be gauldarned if I have'nt commenced the fight now."

CARRYING BOTH COLORS.—Dan Rice's Circus has been South in a steamboat on the Mississippi. He has just returned to the free States. His steamer was armed with fifty muskets and two cannon. Dan says it was "hard skinning" in Southern waters, and he declines returning there just yet. At one place he was arrested, and escaped with some difficulty. Off the Cumberland river he saw a steamer stealing away from him. As a "good joke" he fired a shot across her bows, followed by another. The clerk of the strange steamer rushed up in his shirt sleeves, and waved a Secession flag. Dan fired another shot, when the clerk disappeared and another man ran up the Stars and Stripes! Dan then let him go in peace.

We are happy to say that John A. Washington, who shaved our patriotic ladies so abominably in the sale of the bones of the great Washington, is an Officer in the traitors' army. If they ever catch a man in the patriot army stealing the gruel of the wounded or picking cents off the eyes of the dead, he will match John A. Washington.

It is awful to hear the Secessionists swear at those Northerners who have deceived them into a causeless and hopeless battering of their heads against the stone-wall of the Union!

COMMENDATIONS.

From Hon. Lewis D. Campbell, M. C., Ohio

My family and friends all concur in the opinion that the Ambrotypes you have taken of them and those they exchanged with you have been repeatedly taken by different Artists in various ways, but I have never yet had a likeness that was true to nature, all the features and expression of countenance as like.

From Hon. R. J. Walker, late Minister to Italy.

The exquisite finish, beauty and accuracy of your portraits, compared with those done by different artists and taken from life, are unsurpassed, and fully commend them to the attention and patronage of all who appreciate true art.

Having occasion for a portrait, I procured one from Mr. Robert Newell, the artist of Philadelphia, a man eminent in his profession, whose pictures, after sitting and taking great pains to understand the satisfaction given me, not only in the accuracy of the likeness, but its artistic finish and beauty, and recommend him to the patronage of those disposed to procure a life like picture. THIS medicine has stood the test of time, and is the most extraordinary and effectual remedy ever discovered for the cure of all diseases of the Blood, such as Scrofula, Erysipelas, Boils, Pimples on the face, Salt Rheum, Old sores, Ulcers in the throat, Tetter or Ringworm, Syphilis, Mercurial diseases, Dropsy in the System, Female Complaints, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Tumors, Fever and Ague, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Chronic sores of all kinds, General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Pain in the Back, Kidneys and Side, Female irregularities, &c. &c. Containing as it does the Iodides of Potassium and Sarsaparilla, in connection with other powerful alterative agents, it is unsurpassed by any preparation before the public for the cure of the above diseases, having their origin in an impure state of the blood.

The above is a portrait of Israel McCreary, of Nether Tullyhogue, in the County of Antrim, Ireland, who died in July, 1858, at the advanced age of 107 years. He was in the constant habit of using Lindsey's Blood Searcher, and was indebted to it for the preservation of his health and strength to such a remarkable old age. Many of his friends and neighbors, who have used the Blood Searcher, have been restored to health after suffering for years with various diseases, and all concur in saying that it is the best medicine they ever knew. The full particulars of the cases of Israel McCreary, of Atherton, Armstrong Co., Pa., can be had by addressing the proprietor, as per card below. Also, of Mrs. Elizabeth Atherton, of Atherton, Armstrong Co., Pa., cured of a severe and long standing case of Salt Rheum of many years.

To the case of a lady in Annesville, Clearfield Co., who was also afflicted with Scrofula in the worst form.

To the case of Thomas Mitchell, of Smithfield, Cambria Co., Pa., who was badly afflicted with Cancer that it ate his nose entirely off, and his case was worse, if possible, than McCreary's.

These and many other cases of the most extraordinary cures—several of which were cured by the use of the Blood Searcher—may also be found in a Circular to be had of any of the Agents.

Price $1 00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5 00.

PURIFY THE BLOOD!

HOFFAT'S Vegetable LIFE PILLS
AND Phœnix Bitters.

THE high and envied celebrity which these pre-eminent Tonic and Aperient Remedies have acquired, and the unparalleled success which has attended their introduction in all the principal countries of the globe, have induced numerous persons to attempt to manufacture and vend spurious imitations of them, under the hope of deriving some benefit from the well-earned reputation of the genuine Pills and Bitters, but as they are known by the name of Hoffat's Vegetable Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters, and by the signature of the Proprietor, which is on the outside wrapper of each box of Pills, and on the label of each bottle of Bitters, and as they have not been sold by any Agents, and are not to be had of any Druggists, Peddlers, or Hawkers, whatever, the public are hereby cautioned against purchasing any of the Medicines which are offered to them in this manner.

PECULIARITIES.—In connection with the genuine Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters, the Proprietor is desirous of giving the public the following information, which will be found to be of the highest importance to the afflicted:

That the Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters are purely vegetable, and contain no mercury or other mineral substance whatever, and are therefore perfectly safe in all climates, and under all circumstances, and may be taken with the most perfect confidence by persons of the most delicate constitution, without making any change in their habits of living, diet, or exposure, rendering them the most valuable medicines ever offered to the public.

That the Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters are the only Medicines ever offered to the public, which have the power to control the nervous system, and at the same time purify the blood, thereby removing disease from the system, and restoring the patient to perfect health.

That the Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters are the only Medicines which have the power to prevent Yellow Fever, Cholera, Dysentery, Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, and all other diseases of a bilious character, if taken on the first approach of the disease, as they will expel the disease from the system in its first stage, and before it has obtained a permanent hold upon the constitution.

That the Life Pills and Phœnix Bitters are the only Medicines which have the power to cure Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Pleurisy, Pain in the Side, Breast and Lungs, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Tumors, Fever and Ague, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Chronic sores of all kinds, General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Pain in the Back, Kidneys and Side, Female irregularities, &c. &c. Containing no Mercury or anything injurious to the most delicate constitution, but acting entirely upon the Blood and Secretions, correcting all impurities or diseased action, and restoring the whole system to a healthy condition. Containing as it does the Iodides of Potassium and Sarsaparilla, in connection with other powerful alterative agents, it is unsurpassed by any preparation before the public for the cure of the above diseases, having their origin in an impure state of the blood.
