Standing Committee.

The Palmer Mill property was bid off Saturday to creditors at $3,200, and the house to J. Schreyer at $1700.

Respecting the proposed candidacy of George F. Miller Esq. for President of the Judicial District, the Editor of the Saturday Gazette (an independent Democratic journal) says:

"A more indolent and careless Judge than what Mr. Miller would make, could not be selected, and from his extensive practice, prosecuted with remarkable assiduity, it may with safety be presumed that his knowledge of the law will make him every inch a Judge. By elevating him to the Bench his face and voice which have been familiar in our county courts for many years, will be missed, probably never again to reappear in our bar. The honor of Judgeship would be a fitting reward for a life consumed without any advantage but made useful, respected, and successful, by energy and industry."

An Old Hero's Spirit.—Peter Cartwright is known throughout the Anglo-Saxon world as a veteran Methodist pioneer, and a thoroughly characterized exemplar of Western life. In a letter to his fellow-townsman, Dr. Elliott, editor of the St. Louis Central Advocate, he writes:

"If your own money is dead, bury it, and preach its funeral sermon, but do not charge the expenses to me, but to the Secessionists. I hope Gen. Lyon will catch Edy Jackson, (late Governor of Missouri) and hang him on the first tree he comes to. Union men ought to arm themselves from head to heels, and shoot down every traitor they come to. If God will have mercy on me, I would rather die than that his glorious Government should be overthrown. If we are to be destroyed, I hope the Lord will do it, and not give us into the power of Tories. If the Union men of Missouri need help to kill traitors, call on Illinois. We can send you twenty thousand, good men and true. Rivers of blood will flow, but this Union must stand through the heavens fall."

MAIL COST.—It appears from calculations of the Post Office Department, that the yearly income from postage in the Seceded States amounted to only $900,000, while the expense of transporting the mail in the same States exceeded this sum by $1,000,000, which is now saved to the Government by their suspension in those States. And yet these seceders say that the United States Government support them! Did ever impudence flourish so?

HUNTING A KING.—The Paris correspondents of the American journals, have sent over a report that the Commissioners of the Cotton Confederacy have been endeavoring to induce a relative of the Emperor to accept a Military Dictatorship over the Confederacy, with the privilege of assuming a Crown at pleasure. It is also stated that the magnificent offer has been perpetually declined.

Mr. Newberry, of Northumberland, one of Capt. Taggart's Company, died at or near Cumberland. His remains were conveyed here for burial.

The Voice of Mourning.

Never has our usually happy town had so mingled sensations of joy and sorrow as since the reception of the apparently reliable Telegraphic News contained in another column.

After the 5th Penn'a Reg't withdrew, THE FOURTH was left alone—of all in Freedom's Army of 50,000 men before the enemy's chosen stronghold—to sustain the honor of the Keystone State in the bloody and eventful struggle then impending. And among "the 4th" was the LEWISBURG INFANTRY—the first wholly Volunteer Company from Central Pennsylvania to respond to the President's call. The flower of our neighborhood, they left their smiling homes bathed in tears, on the doubly immortal 19th of April, prepared to fight their way through perilous halcyons and wherever their country's flag should lead them. Their time had expired on Saturday last—but danger lowered; the conflict for which they had entered, and for which they were willing to bare their patriotic, fearless breasts, was just before them; and while others returned with their privileged time, our Penn'a 4th, and our Lewisburg Infantry, pushed on with the column of the sons of Liberty, for Death or Victory over Rebelion's Tyrants!

We have not the sad details, but have enough to infer that all our brave companions and fellow citizens have not survived to enjoy their triumph. There is not one but we could all wish to see return, unharmed and in health. This can hardly be hoped for. We must expect to hear that some of our noble youth have shed their life-blood in the cause of Good Government; and others, perhaps, are unharmed. Let us mingle our sympathies and our tears with the families of the sufferers, (who indeed will comprise the whole community,) remember the virtues and the patriotism of the departed with a deathless interest; and build them a worthy monument.

JAMES CAMERON, of Chillisnoque Tp, Colonel of the New York Highland Regiment, is the only name as yet forwarded to us among the killed. He fell bravely at the post of honor and of duty. In him, the community have lost a public spirited citizen, a good farmer, a warm friend, and a fond wife her manly protector.

"PEACE, BE STILL"

The father's bark was blowing high
Riding at the wheel of wild will,
Bids hearts all quail, wrong arms all fall,
With terror and with broken fall.
And straight up doth blow the gale,
With willow stems the sail all fill,
When all at once the vessel, "Peace, be still!"
The winds that without course do stay,
Aloud to cry, "Peace, be still!"
A sail all down the rigging all away,
When all at once the vessel, "Peace, be still!"
In "Christians" be not thus dismayed,
And smother up in their nightingale;
With prayer approach that might power,
With all the truth, "Peace, be still!"
Though tribulation be thy lot,
And sorrow every day doth fall,
Fear not, but trust with faith and faith,
He'll bid thy sorrow, "Peace, be still!"
And when death's pale fall on the brow,
Whisper to him, "Peace, be still!"
When all at once the vessel, "Peace, be still!"
Ury, At Lewisburg, July 7, 1861.

The President's Wife.

Not content with falsely branding our Nation's President as a traitor, there are beings to be found mean enough to slander his excellent wife by representing her as sympathizing with the enemies of the Government in this hour of trial. Read, however, the following handsome letter to a gallant Kentuckian who is in arms for the defence of the Union, and see how the heart of a true and intelligent American woman beats for the good cause:

EXCERPTS FROM A LETTER,
Washington City, June 20, 1861.
COLONEL JOHN FRY.
My Dear Sir—It gives me very great pleasure to be the medium of transmission of these weapons to be used in the defence of national sovereignty upon the soil of Kentucky.

Though years have passed since I left my native State, I have never ceased to contemplate her progress, in happiness and prosperity, with sentiments of fond and filial pride. In every effort of industrial energy, in every enterprise of honor and valor, my heart has been with her. And I rejoice in the consciousness that at this time, when the institutions to whose fostering care we owe all that we have of happiness and glory, are rudely assailed by ungrateful and perniculous hands, the State of Kentucky, ever true and loyal, furnished to the insulted flag of the Union a guard of her bravest and best sons. On every field, the prowess of Kentuckians has been manifested. In the holy cause of national defence, they must be invincible.

Please accept these weapons as a token of the love I shall never cease to cherish for my mother State; of the pride with which I have always regarded the exploits of her sons; and of the confidence which I feel in the ultimate loyalty of her people, who, while never forgetting the homelike still their beloved State may justly claim, still remember the higher and grander allegiance due to our common country.

Yours, very sincerely,
MARY LINCOLN.
Merryman, the rich Bridge Barner, is out on bail of $10,000.

THE PATRIOTIC DEAD.

"He sleep the brave, who still to rest,
By all their country's wishes blest,
When Spring, with dewy fingers lit,
Returns to deck the hallowed spot,
Then shall their dust be sweet to rest,
Than Army's lost have ever rest."

"By fairy hands their knell is rung,
By some sweet power their dirge is sung,
There Honor comes a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay,
And Freedom shall exhale their spirit,
To dwell a weeping lament there."

Popping the Question.

Lord Justice Clerk Boxfield was a man of few words and strong business habits. In courting his second wife, his procedure was entirely illustrative of the peculiarities of his character. Calling for the lady, he said to her, without preliminary remarks, "Lizzy, I am looking for a wife, and I thought you were just the person that would suit me. Let me have your answer, off or on, the morning, and take care about it." The lady next day replied in the affirmative.

Perhaps he repeated his proposition, for when a butler gave warning, on account of Mrs. Boxfield's scolding propensities, the Judge replied:
"Lizzy, you're little to complain of; ye may be thankful ye're not married to her."

GENERAL SCOTT—The Lord is praised for endowing one man in this fast, bustling age, with the graces of silence and patience. Even the Hummer Jay is not more sublime than Gen. Scott at this hour, calmly gathering his thunder-bolts. Said a gentleman the other day, "General, the people are impatient for results." "I know it," he replied, "but they expect successful results. War is my profession; I have made it the study of a life, and I am now too old to learn. War, sir, requires money, men, time and patience. And," with emphasis, "President Lincoln has assured me that I shall have these." Then, more playfully, he continued, "to march an army and then retreat, consumes shoe leather, and that for a body of men under my charge, is an important item."

On Wednesday between two and three o'clock, while a heavy shower of rain was passing over Penna Valley, Centre County, the barn on the farm of Mrs. Woods, about two miles below the Old Fort, was struck by lightning, and in a very short time, consumed by the flames. The building contained the hay of this harvest, about 500 bushels of corn, a reaping machine, wagons, horse gear and many other articles of value. Two colts, also, perished in the flames, as it was impossible to rescue them without the sacrifice of the life of his master who attempted it. The horses, however, were all saved, largely in time. The harvest hands were engaged in repairing a Reaper under the protection of the barn at the time, and escaped from all injury. Mr. Marks, the tenant, lost all, as no insurance covered his property. The barn was insured to the amount of about $700 in the Centre County Insurance Company.

REPORT COURTESY.—After the United States Senate had elected George T. Brown, of Alton, Ill., Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. Hale, of N. H., generously proposed that the salary of Mr. Hale, the old Democratic incumbent, be continued until December.

Mr. Salisbury, of Del., asked, if Mr. Hale was a worthy officer, why he had been removed at all?
Mr. Hale said, if the Senator would tell him why the State of Delaware removed Mr. Conway, and sent him (Salisbury) here, perhaps he would answer!

Michael Klepper, a very industrious mechanic and laborer, who lived alone in the second story of D. Kurz's Cabinet manufactory, Aroonburg, was missed for some days, and search having been made by the family of the latter gentleman, was found prostrate on the floor, struck with apoplexy, in a helpless condition. He is supposed to have lain in this condition for some days, and had crawled to the door, but was unable to open it. It is not expected that he will live any length of time.

Gen. Jackson ordained martial law at New Orleans, and even imprisoned Judge Hall after the battle. It was thought he was justifiable under the circumstances. Lincoln has done less with far more dangerous characters in Baltimore, and there is a howl from all Secessionism!

In the Revolution, the British subdued the South, but the North subdued the British. Now the North can subdue the rebel South, now or "any other man."

Won't Fuse.—The editor of the Bedford Gazette [Dem.] opposes a fusion of parties in that county in the coming Fall election. Right.—Bedford Gazette [Dem.]

The population of San Francisco is rapidly increasing by immigration. The excess of arrivals over departures, was 4448.

At Atlanta, Ga., a few weeks ago, Isaac Rosser, a pioneer Methodist preacher, now in the eightieth year of his age, and Miss Childs, aged ninety years, were united in marriage.

A mountain of cinabar has been discovered on the Clear Lake Canon, about forty miles from Napa, which, it is said, will yield eighty per cent. of quicksilver.

Mr. HAYDEN—In looking over the field, we find that the Senatorship for this District has in a manner been overbooked. Allow me to bring before the people of Union county the name of Hon. JESSE BEAVER, of Windfield. Judge Beaver has been named as a candidate for Assembly—by the friends of the Union. He is a man of high standing in the community, and is well qualified in every respect for the position, we would earnestly recommend him to the voters of this District. MASS. REPRESENTATIVES.

Allow us to recommend to the Voters of our District, the name of SAMUEL W. NYHILL, Esq. member of the Lewisburg Infantry, and Captain of the 4th Pa. To the Voters of Union County.
Fellow Citizens—I am credibly informed that a report has been put in circulation that the greatest part of this county that I am in earnest in regard to being a candidate for the office of Sheriff. I have only to add that I am a candidate for my own strength and no other, and will feel grateful to all who may favor me with their votes the 21st of August next. NEW BRUNSWICK, July 18, 1861. C. ANTER.

A Card.—During my absence in selling Reapers outside of Union county, the report has been circulated that I have withdrawn as a candidate for Sheriff. This is not true. I remain in the field—will be thankful for every honest vote I can get—and if nominated and elected will try to do the fair thing with all. BELLEVILLE, N. J., July 18, 1861. J. S. MARSH.

We certify that we have seen J. S. Having been present when Messrs. Marsh & Co's Self-Driving Reaper was tried on the Farm of Wm. Seidel, in Berry Tp, Monroe Co., Pa., we have no hesitation in saying that we never saw a reaper do so much work in so short a time, and so easily and so efficiently. The grain was very heavy, and the recent storms had lodged and buried it every way. The SELF-DRIVER, according to the statement of all present, did the work more than any other reaper we have seen done by any previous self-driving reaper.

Patterson was within 25 miles of Manassas Junction, at the time of the fight, but found it impossible to reinforce M'Intosh, in consequence of his men being worn down by marching. He is fighting now—it is believed true that 40,000 men have been sent from Washington.

Judge Catron of Tennessee is one of the U. S. Supreme Court. In St. Louis, he last week charged a Grand Jury that no State had a right to secede, and that all citizens of the U. S. found in arms against the Government, no matter under what pretence, are guilty of treason, and should be so dealt with.

On motion of Mr. McCloud, of Ill., the House of Representatives at Washington pledged itself to vote for any number of men and any amount of money necessary to restore the Federal authority. The Nays were represented by Messrs. Burnett and Guider of Ky, Norton and Beck of Md., and Wood of N. Y.—all Breckinridge Democrats.
