CARRIER'S ADDRESS

TO THE PATRONS OF THE

"STAR & CHRONICLE."

JANUARY 1, 1862

Here's the New Year's Address of the poor printer boy;
He salutes you with kindness—he wishes you joy;
He hopes that the year, which to-day has its birth,
May to you be the brightest you've seen on the earth.

He knows very well that stern fashion decrees
He must forge out some rhymes, his kind patrons to please;
He make pretty rhymes! he a poet, forsooth!
Why, the muses don't know him—now, that's the plain truth.

But, here goes.—O, the wonderful year that is past!
Earth's greatest Rebellion—the worst and the last.
There was once one in Heaven, as Milton hath sung,
And you want to know if the rebels were hung.

They were pitched out of Heav'n, both the leader and led,
And the fire-shower they saw would eclipse Hilton Head;
In a lake of blue fire they were tumbled pell-mell,
And they set up their "confederation" in hell.

They rebelled against right! They were never oppressed;
With the Lord's loving-kindness their lot had been blest.
But, somehow, Ambition's blue maggot was bred,
Or, by some means, crawled into old Lucifer's head.

No law, then, no government, would he allow;
He would have things his own way, or kick up a row.
Our rebels are like them, in spirit the same;
But ours are far humbler in talent and fame.

The devils were giants, as Milton doth show,
Our rebels are like them, as far as far as they know.
If the de'il to Jeff Davis you'd chance to compare,
O, would a't old Satan get wrathy and swear?

The devils were conquered; but yet, from their den,
They fitted out pirates to cruise among men;
Old Satan himself was the first privateer,
And straight up through chaos right bold did he steer.

In the harbor of Eden, he anchored his bark,
He sailed with false colors, and worked in the dark;
Too successful, alas! for the world to this hour
Mourn in sin and in anguish the stroke of his power.

But, though body and soul feel the smart of his sting,
O, where's the poor coward who'd own him as king?
His cohorts o'errun us—they plunder, they lie;
But never knock under—O, fight till you die!

The devil's a rebel, and if you take his part,
Then you're a secessionist traitor at heart.
Be loyal and true! Leave no room for a doubt,
Don't try to be "neutral"—that game is played out.

O, stick to the right! Then, on earth or in heaven,
The bright, radiant crown to the conquerors given,
All bestudded with gems, will outshine with its ray
The meridian sun in the splendor of day.

Never doubt of success! In the great judgment day,
When the hosts of the righteous their banners display,
Then the devil and all his secessionist crew,
Will call on the mountains to hide them from view.

Now, these two rebellions, the greater and less,
Are alike in their spirit, all true men confess;
Had the first never been, it is clear as the noon,
We ne'er had been bothered with John C. Calhoun.

And had there ne'er been a great "Father of lies,"
Pray who would have tutored our Henry A. Wise?
By that old thief of Eden, had we ne'er been annoyed,
Then we ne'er should have heard of that sneaking thief, Floyd.

Ye foes of just government! tyrants at heart!
To make slaves of others, is your long studied art.
The devil holds slaves; and when Christ sets them free,
Then, who is more shocked and indignant than he!

They're just fit to be slaves—so Satan declares;
Besides, they're his property, chattels and wares.
The devil, so radical in his first hour,
Is always conservative when he's in power.

This wicked rebellion, which now curses earth,
To "Slavery's dark spirit" owes clearly its birth;
We will put down rebellion; but what will it boot,
Unless we tear up from the earth its foul root?

Even good General Cass hath boldly declared,
That if, in this contest, foul Slavery is spared,
Then in war and in bloodshed, in strife and turmoil,
Our land life a seething witch-cauldron will boil.

Do you wish, now, for peace, and the reign of the laws?
Then, down with rebellion, and down with its cause!
Let stern, equal justice but lift up her scale,
Then peace, love and friendship, o'er earth will prevail.

Now, who says it's otherwise? God can not lie!
"Do ye unto others as you'd be done by."
The heavens may vanish, the earth melt away,
But in God's holy truth there's no death—no decay.

Truth and right are eternal—coeval with God—
Heaven's crystal foundation, where angels have trod;
Rebellion may hate them, and Slavery may fight—
Error shrinks from the truth, as the darkness from light.

Then, rouse up, ye loyal! O, never despair!
Where man is for justice, God's standard is there.
Goliath may vapor, and brandish his spear,
But, when God he defies, then the smooth stone is near.

As the Lord is my judge, should the Government dare
To infringe our just rights, to the breadth of one hair,
I would counsel resistance—on the threshold I'd fight—
Then, as now, should my slogan be, "God for the right!"

But these slavery rebels, every true man can swear,
Have never been wronged to the tenth part of a hair.
With hearts kind and generous, faithful and true,
What we claim for ourselves, we accord to them too.

But they have determined, on Freedom's fair shore,
To establish a nuisance—eternize a sore;
A thing which our fathers both dreaded and loathed,
Must now in fine linen and purple be clothed.

No, never! say we. In the strength of the Lord,
Around Slavery's neck we will draw the tight cord;
And when he expires, let all nations arise,
And shout Hallelujah to God in the skies!

* * * * * * * * *

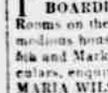
There's one job accomplished! And now for finance;
"Money makes the mare go"—it almost makes her prance.
With cash in his pocket, no typo'll despair;
So give the poor printer boy his little share.

Aye, hand out your quarters, your levies and dimes.
Keep a stiff upper lip, and don't mind the hard times.
Hard Times! The old rascal! don't mention his name,
And soon he'll sneak off down to Dixie in shame.

He's a true son of Dixie, F. F. V. at that,
As proud as a peacock, and poor as a rat;
Honest labor disgusts him—economy shocks—
In his head are no brains—in his pocket, no rocks.

You just give the printer boy plenty of dimes,
And he'll spit in the face of old Mister Hard Times;
With a big lot of boys, he will tumble him down,
Snow-ball him, lambaste him, and drive him from town.

CO-PARTNERSHIP.



The undersigned have associated themselves into copartnership for the purpose of carrying on the Lumbering, Planing, and Carpentering business in all their various branches, at the

Lewisburg Steam Planing Mills,

where they intend to keep a stock of Pine Hemlock, Walnut, Cherry, Poplar, Ash, Maple, and all kinds of Lumber, Flooring Shelving, Siding, Shingles, Lath, Joists, Studding, Fencing, Pickets, Door and Window Frames, Doors, Shutters, Blinds, Sash, Mouldings, Brackets, &c. Planing, Slitting, Scroll Sawing, &c., done at short notice and all work warranted to give satisfaction, both in Price and workmanship.

TO TAX-PAYERS.

THE Commissioners of Union county have levied a SPECIAL TAX of a ½ mill on $1 to pay the Interest on the $1,000,000 State Loan, also of 1 mill on $1 for the support of the families of our County Volunteers (which will not be levied next Spring.) The Books are now in the hands of the Collectors, and it is hoped the Tax-Payers will be very prompt in making payment for this patriotic purpose.

By order of the Commissioners:

A Rare Opportunity

IS offered, for a Gentleman and Lady to get BOARDING, and RENT two handsome Rooms on the first floor of that large and commodious house of John D. Musser—corner of 5th and Market Sts—Lewisburg. For particulars, enquire of the present occupant, Mrs. MARIA WILSON. Nov. 16, 1851

Entirely Vegetable. No Alcoholic Preparation.

Dr. HOOFLAND'S CELEBRATED

GERMAN BITTERS,

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson & Co., Philad'a,

WILL BE FOUND A SURE CURE FOR

LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach,

SUCH as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fulness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and great Depression of Spirits, and will positively prevent YELLOW FEVER, BILIOUS FEVERS, &c.

The Proprietor in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is no new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a twelve years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale are unrivaled by any similar preparations extant. The testimony to its cures given by the most prominent and well known Physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the proprietors, and to be had gratis of any of their agents, can not but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained.

(From J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.)

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not benefit to the benefit he believes he has received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others. I do this the more readily in regard to "Hoofland's German Bitters," prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend, Robert Shoemaker Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them, which resulting from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them. J. NEWTON BROWN.
