DOG EAT DOG.

[At the battle of Pea Ridge, Arkansas, the Rebels had gathered—chiefly by the arts of Albert Pike, a renegade Yankee—some 2,200 of the Choctaws, and other tribes in that region, to aid them. Before coming into collision, these savages were given whiskey and gunpowder, to render them ferocious. But they did not prove equal to the Union troops in cool, unflinching courage, and manly fight. They especially feared our artillery—skulked shooting in ambush, and scalping and plundering the wounded of both armies, with "impartial" fury. One day, when thus "primed," the savages seemed to forget everything except the traditional and other wrongs of their race, suffered at the hands of the "pale faces," and, upon encountering a body of Rebel troops, they attacked them fiercely; the latter retaliated; and hundreds on both sides fell—it was one of the bloodiest events of the three days' fighting. The Rebels and the Indians, it is said, have become mutually "disgusted" with each other, and have dissolved partnership, the Indians returning homewards, "wiser if not better men" after their "free fight." The incidents furnish JAMES AIKEN with his text for the following lines.]

They hired a savage foe
In fratricidal strife;
O, retribution just!
They felt his scalping-knife.

They "fired the Indian heart"
With alcohol and lies:
And, see! beneath their stroke
The false deceiver dies!

They sowed the treacherous wind,
And soon the harvest came—
The whirlwind's blackened cloud
Of murder, blood, and flame.

They dug a deep, wide pit,
For honest, loyal men,
And when their work was done
In they were tumbled then.

Not always can we trace
God's vengeance against wrong,
Yet Justice comes at last,
Though oft it tarries long.

Aye—some times in the course
Of Providence is seen
The plotting murderer's life
Crushed by his own machine.

See Haman's body swung
Upon that gallows new
Which his own brain had planned
For Mordecai the Jew.

The Rebel leaders brought
Armed Indians on the plain:
Now see the Rebel troops
By Indians scalped and slain!

An Incident.

When the U. S. vessels were on their way to attack Fernandina, they picked up a contraband who ventured to sea in a small boat to notify them that the Rebels were deserting the place. While questioning the black, some officers of the Alabama remarked that he should have brought them newspapers, to let them know what was going on. "I thought of dat," replied the contraband "and fotched a Charleston paper wid me." With this he put a hand in his bosom and drew forth a paper, and, with the air of a man who was rendering an important service, handed it to the circle of inquirers. They grasped it eagerly, but one glance induced a general burst of laughter, to the profound astonishment of poor Cuffee, who, it seems, could not read, and, imagining one paper as good as another, had brought one dated 1822—FORTY YEARS OLD! The South Carolina relic was forwarded to Thomas B. Stillman, Esq., of this city, as one of the curiosities of the war. It is a little odd that this paper, which has floated so long down the stream of time, contains an article in favor of negro emancipation.—[N. Y. Eve. Post.

JUSTICE.—Capt. Charles Leib, formerly a resident of this borough, was recently charged with being behind, in his accounts with the Government, as Quartermaster in Western Virginia, to the amount of a million of dollars. He says the charge is unfounded, as he has vouchers for every dollar of the Government money expended in his department, but that he was delayed somewhat in getting them. They are now, however, in Washington. Gov. Pierpont and Gen. Rosencrans endorse his report as correct. We make the statement in justice to Capt. Lieb, whose patriotism is unquestioned, and whose integrity is sustained by unimpeachable testimony.—Miners' Journal.

Thus another "sensation" story is exploded.

BENEFIT OF ADVERTISING.—The farmers of Bucks county, Pennsylvania, understand, from long experience, the benefit of letting the most people possible know when they want to buy or sell. Even in these "hard times," or rather "unsettled" times, the public sales of farm stock, &c., nearly equal those of last year. Last week, there were FIFTY-SIX SALES advertised in the Bucks County Intelligencer. Bucks county is famous all over the State for the active, business, stable, prosperous character of her population, as displayed in the advertising columns of the county papers.

Women are said to have stronger attachments than men. It is not so. Strength of attachment is evinced in little things. A man is often attached to an old hat; but did you ever know of a women having an attachment for an old bonnet? Echo answers—never!

A great excitement was attempted to be raised against Fremont's staff, equipage, and personal adornments. M'Clellan is twice as fussy and expensive, and really has effected much less in proportion to his means at command, than Fremont.

The question in regard to a man's political position used to be, "Is he sound on the goose?" Now, Prentice says, it should be, "Is he sound on the eagle?"

LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver or Stomach.

SUCH as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imagining of Evil, and great Depression of Spirits, and will positively prevent YELLOW FEVER, BILIOUS FEVER, &c.

The Proprietor in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is not a new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a twelve years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale are unrivaled by any similar preparations extant. The testimony in its favor given by the most prominent and well-known Physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the proprietors, and to be had gratis of any of their agents, can not but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained.

(From J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.)

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, though distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reason why a man may not in fairness to his friend, Robert Shoemaker Esq., for the removal of that prejudice by proper testimony, and for encouragement to try them, when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and which almost despaired of regaining. I therefore think God and my friend for directing me to the use of them. J. NEWTON BROWN.
