STATE CONVENTION.

The People of Pennsylvania, who desire to unite in sustaining the National Administration in its patriotic efforts to suppress a sectional and only rebellion against the City of the Republic, and who desire to preserve the Union of our Fathers, are requested to select the number of Delegates equal to the Legislative Representatives of the State, at such times and in such manner as will best respond to the spirit of the call, to meet in State Convention at Harrisburg, on Thursday, the thirtieth day of July next, at 10 o'clock, on said day, to nominate Candidates for the offices of Auditor General and Surveyor General, and to take such measures as may be deemed necessary to strengthen the Government in this season of common peril to a common country.

A. K. McCLURE, Chairman.

There is a call similar in spirit to that under which the foes of Rebellion fought and triumphed last Fall, and in which all the State Elections—in New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Connecticut—have been carried by the President's friends this Spring.

The invitation embraces not only original Republicans, but also Union Democrats, and all other patriotic citizens of the Loyal States who are sincerely desirous of having but one party in opposition to the Traitors and their sympathizers.

In proof of our willingness to vote for an upright Douglas Democrat, we propose Hon. Joux Rowe, of Franklin county, as the Union Republican candidate for Surveyor General. All parties have ever awarded him personal integrity and ability for that station, which he once filled by election as a Democrat, while, as the Union Speaker of the House, last session, he demonstrated that he had no sympathy with Secession or its allies. His nomination and election would be as politic as just to the thousands of honest Democrats who despise the Breckinridge leaders who broke up their party and apologized for causeless insurrection of the Aristocracy.

For Auditor General, we presume Hon. THOMAS E. COCHRAN will have no serious opposition. He has been a most faithful officer, as far as we have heard—and if so, it is the highest interest of the State to retain one of his experience and trustworthiness.

Another Manassas Rebel "Fizzle."

Our Telegraphic News indicates—in spite of their "boasts" about being "stronger than at Sabastopol"—"ten miles of the best fortifications"—"at least One Hundred Thousand men, and Five Hundred cannon"—"inch by inch, so long as a gallant Southern breath"—"to the last ditch," another "skedaddle" has occurred at Yorktown, as at Manassas and fifty other places. As soon as they found McClellan was in earnest, they RETREAT, and Yorktown is ours without a pitched battle, but after several skirmishes, in which the Union men displayed the truest valor and endurance. Gen. McClellan has added to his reputation for military engineering. Yorktown is captured, just as Manassas would and should have been captured long ago—not by a mad assault, but by scientific approaches, counter works, and a persistent, resolute siege.

So with away the Rebellion! A FEW MORE TURNS OF SCOTT'S UNION "ANACONDA," and the Rebellion will be crushed that no "Compromise" can bring it to life again.

UNION FORCES IN HOT PURSUIT!

Official—Headquarters, Army of the Potomac, May 4—9 A. M.

To Hon. E. M. STANTON: We have the enemy's ramparts, their guns, ammunition, camp equipage, &c., and hold the entire line of his works, which the engineers report as being very strong. Have thrown my cavalry and horse artillery in pursuit, supported by infantry. I move Gen. Franklin's Division, and as much more as I can by water up to West Point, to-day. No time shall be lost. Our gunboats have gone up the York river. I omitted to state that Gloucester is also in our possession. I shall pursue the enemy to the wall.

G. B. McCLELLAN,

LATER.

The enemy evacuated Yorktown on Saturday night. Their army of 100,000 was demoralized. McClellan has taken West Point, and will probably capture the whole Rebel army. Our loss is inconsiderable. Government officials say the war will be ended in thirty days.

The evacuation commenced Thursday, after a council of war in which Jeff Davis, Lee, and Jo Johnson, agreed to retreat. Magruder wanted to stand and fight.

Boatmen's Meeting.

Reader! do you happen to know of any half-breeded sympathizer with Secessionists who does not hate, and seize every chance to vilify, John C. Fremont? We do not!

The above is a pertinent thought, and should lead honest men of all parties to reflect. A certain class of politicians at the North denounce John C. Fremont fifty times to Jeff Davis once. "Out of the abundance of the heart, the mouth speaketh." Can any one doubt that such men are in reality traitors to the Union? As a specimen of these vile assaults, take the following, which we find copied in nearly every sham Democratic paper, North:

"Fremont is a Statesman who has never made a speech—a General who has never won a battle—a Patriot who always missed the track—and a Millionaire not worth a continental damn."

Every sneer in the above is unfounded. Read the life of that orphan boy, starting in deep poverty, without a friend, among the haughtiest of Southern, and say if he could attain his present position without merit? Fremont has achieved military triumphs—has made as fair speeches as Washington, Franklin, Jefferson or Jackson—has exhibited true statesmanship, in prohibiting Slavery in California, especially—has displayed Executive qualifications as a surveyor of unknown regions in the greatest peril—and his real wealth, the development of which, (sacrificing or risking his all to aid in suppressing this Rebellion,) is idle, probably exceeds that of Hancock, Washington, and Morris, the rich Whigs of the Revolution. History will award him his due honor in this war. Yet, in the midst of his toilsome labors, we find, in the Loyal States, professed Unionists seeking to defame his character and hinder his usefulness in this day of our Nation's struggle for life! Aristocrats pour because he was once a poor boy—West Pointers and other rivals disdain a soldier, not educated by the Government, who fights in earnest—and Tory sympathizers hate and fear one who has struck, or proposed, deadly blows at Rebellion.

but the true, loyal People, love him. The President and Cabinet—touched by his manly, patriotic submission to a very unjust temporary humiliation—could in no way. Intelligent, frank Southerners confess his ability, and show more fear of him than of any other of our living Generals. To FREMONT may be applied the words of another time, for one, then traduced and belied, whose praise is now on every lip:

HE IS NOT FALLEN.

NOT FALLEN! Not as well the tall and pillar'd Allgheny fall—
As well that giant hill—
As well that mountain's mighty peak,
As he, Columbia's hope and pride,
The standard-bearer of the North,
In his heroic and heroic day.

HE IS NOT FALLEN! Seek to bind the chains and shackles wind,
Upon his Freedom's sacred zone,
From ocean shore, from inland sea,
And from the distant mountain's brow,
From every point of the earth's wide
Frontier, rise like the mighty wind,
In homage to his noble form,
As he, the fallen hero, lies,
As he, the fallen hero, lies,
As he, the fallen hero, lies.

HE IS NOT FALLEN! Every breeze that wafts across the land,
That wafts across the land,
From ocean shore, from inland sea,
And from the distant mountain's brow,
From every point of the earth's wide
Frontier, rise like the mighty wind,
In homage to his noble form,
As he, the fallen hero, lies,
As he, the fallen hero, lies,
As he, the fallen hero, lies.

Jottings from Central Tennessee.

CAMP RUTHERFORD, April 14.

You know that little things make the great aggregate of history and mortal experience. Now, since I am not one of those unfortunate individuals, engaged in the tremendous butchery at Pittsburg Landing on the 6th and 7th, I am unable to claim shares in the glory, or give you any details of the battle. But, behind that terrible front of destruction, in the fiery trail of the "thunderbolt," we behold features of this struggle, intensely interesting.

For some reason or to our unknown, our Regiment has been detached from Negley's Brigade, and is now guarding the Tennessee & Alabama Railway. Here we have ample leisure for investigation. Here you may trace the geological history of the Rebellion, from its "aztec period" to the "present," and you will find fossiliferous remains of African Slavery in every stage of embryological development, imbedded in the brimstone, which underlies the present combustible surface. No wonder that the tree of Confederate power is withering on such a soil.

From this part of Tennessee, many of the Rebel army, taken at Fort Donelson, were recruited; and many homes are filled with wailing and desolation since the battle of Pittsburg. It is astonishing to see with what Satanic zeal these people have prosecuted their dreadful undertaking. Two Companies of us are here, twenty miles from the headquarters of our Regiment; and while we were waiting in suspense to hear from our forces in front, citizens here were secretly plotting the destruction of our little band, in case the Union army were defeated at Corinth.

I have seen the native ugliness of "Slavery as it is," and shall never be astonished at any calamity that may befall those who uphold the heathenish institution. During the past year, the country has been constantly patrolled by the "minute men," whose business it was to prevent negro insurrection, and drive Union men from their homes. No two slaves were to be permitted to walk or talk together, under any pretence; they were forbidden to attend any meetings, religious or social; and when any one of them was sent on an errand, he was to have a pass from his master or mistress. After being carefully timed, he must hasten to his destination, then have his pass counter-signed, and immediately return. If he failed in any particular to fulfil those requirements, he received one hundred lashes, and his lacerated flesh was then salted, to prevent mortification. (This may account for the scarcity of salt in this vicinity.) Many cases are cited to me, by

TABLE OF DISTANCES.—The distances down the river from Cairo to New Orleans are as follows:

The new iron clad steamer Galena has reached Fortness Monroe. It is alleged that the Officers of the Merrimac have resigned—an indication that after all their boasting the Rebels distrust their iron monster's power to cope with our three in waiting.

LIBERAL.—Gov. Morgan (Rep.) has given Col. Corcoran, (Union Dem.) one of the best offices in New York City—the profits of it to go to his family until the brave man can attend to it himself. He says he is willing to stay in captivity at Richmond so long as it is best for the cause. The Court House in Virginia where John Brown was tried and found guilty, is now the barracks of the 6th Massachusetts Regiment. John Brown's body lies in the grave, but his soul is marching on. Not one-fourth of the sum appropriated by the D. C. Emancipation bill, for the compensation of slave-owners, will be required, so many of the slaves having been run off by their masters in anticipation of the passage of the act.

ANNUAL REPORT OF MORTALITY.

In the past year, two journals have alleged "daily" deaths in "Lewisburg" and its "immediate vicinity," in a manner—what ever may have been the notice—whose effect might have led some to suppose that we were terribly scourged by some deadly pestilence. The facts we give as follows. The Sexton of the Lewisburg Cemetery aids us in the following statement of the deaths and interments here during the year ending 1st inst.:

Borough.	Elsewhere.	Total.
20 years and under	22	3
20 to 60	14	12
60 years and over	11	10
	47	25

Those over 60 had reached—62, 63, 63, 65, 65, 67, 67, 67, 68, 69, 70, 73, 78, 79, 79, 80, 86, 87, 88, 93, and 94 years—an average of 75 years each for 21 persons—"good old ages," surely.

We suppose these figures nearly correct. The total in Lewisburg is 47 out of 3,000 population—or 1 to 63—while last year in Philadelphia (estimated one of the most healthy cities) deaths were as 1 to 40.

Our "daily" deaths do not average one a week, and not one and a half a week for those, outside of the Borough, "buried" here, even including 3 from the Army, 2 from Williamsport, and 1 each from Jersey Shore, Milton, Sunbury, Hartley, &c.

Of the whole number, 25 were under 20 years of age, and 21 over 60—46 in all—leaving but 26 deaths of those in the prime of life, out of say 6,000 population—or 1 to 230. The mortality of children and of the aged is peculiar to no place and to no season whatever.

We suppose the West Branch region is as healthy, one year with another, as any other in our changeable climate—and yet, one portion may suffer more than another for a year or two, and occasionally more than one death may occur in a day, or for days in succession—but to suffer alarm, or to excite prejudice, by such providential occurrences, is foolish and wicked. We should all prize health and life, and seek to enjoy and prolong them—still, we all must die. And what Cemetery, receiving 72 persons in its care, can show that 21 of them had averaged 75 years of probation? We think the figures stamp our locality as healthy rather than otherwise.

There is a cave some distance from our camps, in which some Scotch cavalry harbor, also many refugees from the outrages of Northern Vandals. I propose to visit that cavern in disguise, after learning necessary things, and conduct thither three hundred cavalry of Union brand.

Fort Magon Re-Taken!

It turns out that that fort was bombarded 11 hours before surrendering, which it did on Friday week, with 400 prisoners and much ammunition. The loss on our side was 1 killed and 7 wounded, and 7 Rebels killed.

The control of this harbor gives us a better chance at all North Carolina, avoiding the dangerous avenue by Hatteras.

Capital of Louisiana, re-possessed!

both blacks and whites, in which slaves have received five hundred lashes on the bare back, over the head, in the face, until even constitutions trained to these outrages, gave way to the terrible tortures, and death ended their sufferings. Thus, with inquisitorial rigor, have the Rebels executed these cruel details, evidently considering them as a military necessity of their fearful situation. You now see how much the slave is left at the mercy of a cowardly and therefore cruel master.

"Truth is stranger than fiction" as experience will testify. "The Knights of the Golden Circle" are trying to measure their puny strength with the crushing Union power. They are quite numerous in this vicinity, and are very fruitful in devices to gain some little "advantage" or—revenge. In order to gain some reliable information concerning their numbers and designs, I was sent out, completely disguised, and traveled among the wealthy planters, mingling with "the higher classes," easily ingratiating myself into their acceptable hospitality and candid conversations, by the fabulous suavity and chivalric demeanor of the genuine F. F. V. I have been quite successful, and will soon have more labor of the same nature—Detective Police!

In my rambles I notice many peculiarities of "the peculiar institution." In Columbia, Maryland, Co., Tenn., there lives a Mr. —, (his high caste will, of course, suppress his name,) who keeps eighteen young negro, mulatto, quadroon, octoroon, and duodecimon damsels, for "personal gratification" in various senses. One is to satisfy his baser passions; another is to fortify his purse with the "revenue" arising from the sale of his own offspring by this lawless intercourse. White slaves command a great price, especially quadroon and octoroon females. The price of slave beauty draws heavily upon the pocket-book, but does not always monopolize the affections.
