Free Lecture—Come All.
M. E. Chapel—Saturday eve., May 31.

The gentleman named below is the distinguished Law Professor near Albany being in Washington City during the "dark days" of the Rebellion, he served in Cassius M. Clay's guards, who watched that city, saving it from its secessionists, until relieved by the first Volunteers from Penn. Mass. and New York. A Lecture prepared by him, and twice delivered in that Capital, was so highly appreciated by the leading Union men there, that he was induced to devote his time wholly to the delivery of the lecture throughout the land, in order to arouse our people generally to a higher realization of the times.

The numerous encomiums we have seen and heard, authorize us to promise a rare treat of oratory and patriotism to all who may hear him: and we advise all our readers—in Town and Country—to take some pains to attend. He is now in town, and, having a day to spare on the programme of his route westward, has accepted of the invitation. The Trustees of the Methodist Church have kindly granted their large Chapel—and 74 P. M., of Saturday (to-morrow) is fixed for the Address. Be punctual, for it occupies considerable time. No charge for admission, but a collection will be made to defray expenses and the traveling liabilities of the orator.

LEWISBURG, Pa., May 30, 1862.
Professor ANASIA M'COY—Dear Sir: We have read comments of the press upon your oration on the "London Times on the Rebellion and the War against the National Constitution." A few of our citizens have had the pleasure of hearing you at the State Capitol and elsewhere, and we believe that the eloquent and statesmanlike manner in which you vindicate our National cause against its enemies at home and abroad, will be productive of good. We, therefore, in behalf of the citizens of Lewisburg and vicinity, respectfully and earnestly invite you to deliver that Lecture in this place.

Very Respectfully &c.

THE PRESIDENT.—A correspondent, writing from Fortress Monroe, says, How enthusiastically all speak of the noble head of our nation—the Provisional man, the Moses of our Israel! I never witnessed so much enthusiasm about any as about that plain, homely, gaunt being who was unostentatious among our soldiers, and whom they greet as their truest friend. Today he visited the hospital at Fortress Monroe, and spoke to every wounded man in these crowded ward rooms, where Rebels and Unionists lie side by side on beds of pain. "God bless him!" said many of our wounded boys. "Amen!" responded faintly, but fervently, some Rebel soldiers. I do not wonder that some of the Rebel prisoners refuse to go back to their army, where they were so differently treated, and where they so contrast the unfeeling traitor, Jeff Davis, with that truest man, God's choicest work, the man for the hour, Abraham Lincoln.

Parson Brownlow's Book.
This authentic record of the horrors of Secession in East Tennessee, is now about to be issued from the press, and Mr. C. M. Thornburg, Agent for Union County, informs us he expects to deliver it to subscribers next week. Those who had no chance to engage a copy, could probably secure one by leaving word, soon, at most of the country Stores, as the Agent will carry a few along with him for such persons. Brownlow has been fighting the Secessionists in the South, for thirty years, and knows all about them. It will be a thrilling and correct account, and sufficiently piquant for a novel. It contains 400 pages, illustrated, at $1.25.

Mr. Brownlow wants to get enough money to go back with his exiled family to his home at Knoxville, with a Power Press, to fight the Powers of Darkness better than ever.

Capt. M'Curdy Tate, of Brady, and Cor. Hunter C. M'Curdy of Elizabethtown, are home on furloughs. The Williamsport Gazette says of Capt. Tate—
"When he left he was a citizen of Union county, by the British treaty of 1763, and on his return he found himself a citizen of Union county, by the British treaty of 1763."

Dear neighbors! do I suppose with that unvarnished scolding. The "Everlasting State" and well and widespread "old Lycoming" will never miss the Brady corner, and those concerned feel all the better for their honest and honorable resignation to "heavenly Union!"

The Response!

Governor Curtin, countermanding the order for three months' Volunteers, "congratulates the people of Pennsylvania on the information, received from the War Department, that the emergency which seemed to the Government of the United States so imperatively to demand their immediate service, no longer exists, and would also commend the patriotic zeal and alacrity manifested in every section of the Commonwealth, to meet it." Up to Tuesday, when this Order was given, about TWENTY THOUSAND Volunteers had already been offered from Pennsylvania! New York started off several Regiments in one or two days. Massachusetts was mustering by hundreds and by thousands—and had not the emergency been so promptly met, doubtless, by this day, Two Hundred Thousand in Volunteers would have been found with their faces to Washington! Such a sublime patriotic devotion—such a spontaneous uprising of the people at the end of a year's war and the opening of the warm and harvest season—most convince the Rebels, and all Europe, that the friends of the Union are in earnest for its entire, complete preservation!

The Senior or Graduating Class of the University at Lewisburg, all volunteered, and the ten would have been gone ere now if needed. Dr. Rooke at Union Furnace, Capt. Forrest here, and Maj. Simonson near Middletown, state that quite a large number in the aggregate were in readiness to enlist on a day's notice. In Danville, Milton, Williamsport, and many towns heard from throughout the State, freemen marshaled in "hot haste" for a new field of service. Several Companies of Home Guards, from Philadelphia, were very acceptable, and in good time.

DECLINATION.—Some time since, Mr. F. A. Wilson, of Meadville, wrote to Hon. John Rowe, asking permission to use his name as a Democratic candidate for Surveyor General. In reply, Mr. Rowe writes from Harrisburg as follows: "You wish me to inform you whether I will be a candidate for the office of Surveyor General. I answer, I will not be a candidate for any office. I am anxious to see the Government sustained in its efforts to crush out the Rebellion, and have determined to act with those men who will go forth to accomplish the desired end. Therefore for the present, I must discard Party, keeping in view only my Country. Truly yours, JOHN ROWE"

That is the true doctrine, and Mr. Rowe has proved his patriotism higher than his love of party in making this announcement of his principles. Judge WILLIAM S. ROSS, a very popular Union man (formerly a Douglas Democrat) of Luzerne county, is urged in place of Mr. Rowe for the office named.

There were several disturbances in Baltimore, Sunday and Monday. A number of Secessionists, encouraged by the success of the Rebels at Front Royal, insulted Union men and were severely beaten. A little changed from thirteen months ago—then, a Union man dared not declare himself in Baltimore. Secessionists are becoming more obnoxious than Abolitionists!

The Middleburg Press notices a new brick dwelling by John V. Barber, and a dwelling and store-room, by Minadore Sware, on Main Street, among the improvements of that borough.

STUBB.—In teaching their Slaves to fight the Unionists, the Rebels are teaching thousands of young Hannibals a way to abolish Slavery.

The Representative Conference for this District are requested to meet at Middletown, Snyder county, Saturday, 5th of July.

A nice Town Property, and valuable Traber Land, in this County, are advertised for sale to-day.

Letter from Wm. Reed in our next. A number of young gentlemen of this borough formed a string band and went to Lewisburg one evening last week, where they entertained the citizens with their music. In appreciation of their services, some of the ladies of that place presented them with a fine cake.—Miltonian.

Loss at Front Royal.

Last Friday, 9,000 Rebels surrounded the brave Col. John R. Kenley's Regiment of first Maryland infantry, and several companies of Michigan cavalry, numbering in all about 1,100 men, at Front Royal, Warren county, Virginia. The most of the cavalry escaped, but the rest were mostly captured. Col. Kenley was wounded and taken prisoner. Front Royal is about twenty miles directly south of Winchester, and fifteen miles east of Strasburg. The first information Col. Kenley had of his danger was by a colored man, who came riding furiously to the camp, saying the Rebels were coming—and before we were fairly formed, they were upon our army, which fought desperately, retiring in good order as far as possible, and only yielding to absolute necessity. Some of our escaped men say the Rebels massacred our wounded and prisoners, with bayonets and revolvers!

The Repulse at Winchester.

On Saturday, Gen. Banks telegraphed that Col. Kenley's command had been defeated and driven back from Front Royal, ten miles west of Front Royal, at the western terminus of the Manassas Gap Railroad. In order to protect his stores and baggage trains, he fell back to Winchester, eighteen or twenty miles in a northerly direction, toward Harper's Ferry. On the way, he had some unimportant skirmishes. This was all the actual news we had up to Sunday morning. The following is Gen. Banks' official account, dated at Martinsburg, Sunday afternoon: "The Rebels attacked us this morning, at daylight, in great force, estimated at 15,000, consisting of Ewell's and Jackson's divisions. The fire of the pickets began with the light, and was followed by the artillery until the lines were fully under fire on both sides. The left wing stood firmly, holding its ground well, and the right wing fell back, were ordered to withdraw, and the troops passed through the town in considerable confusion. They were quickly reformed on the other side, and continued their march in good order to Martinsburg, where they arrived at 2:40 p. m., a distance of 21 miles. Our trains are in advance, and will cross the river in safety.

Our entire force engaged was less than 4,000, consisting of Gordon's and Donnelly's brigades, with two regiments of cavalry under Gen. Hatch, and two batteries of artillery. Our loss was considerable, as was that of the enemy, but can not be stated. We were reinforced by the 15th Maine, which did good service, and a regiment of cavalry. N. P. BANKS, Major General Com'd.

Among the incidents narrated is that women of Winchester fired upon our soldiers from their houses, and sick men were killed or thrown out of the Hospital! Banks' force crossed safely at Williamsport, having lost only a few wagons, during the rapid and dangerous route, assailed on the flank, front and rear by an overwhelming force. The handling of our men was cautious but bold, and no one faults the Generals or the soldiers for the compulsory withdrawal.

Gen. Saxton commanded our force at Harper's Ferry, and it was thought a Rebel force was attempting to cross both there and at Williamsport. But our men prepared to dispute any such passage.

Great Rebel Failure!

The strengthening of the great armies of M'Clellan and M'Dowell, left BANKS' force the weak point in our line. With their usual sagacity, the Rebels saw this, and hurried on a large force of "picked men" under their favorite Jackson, to cut off Banks' army, capture them, and secure his coveted supplies. But Banks was too wary for them, and although hard pressed and peiled on every side he saved so many of his men and munitions as to thwart his adversary in his designs, and to extort the admiration of all.

If the enemy hoped to withdraw any of our forces from Richmond, they failed—the new troops were to meet the danger. Gen. Shields may march back, through Manassas Gap, and compel Jackson's men to retreat again, or be taken prisoners! It was certainly a Rebel Failure.

How the modern Democrats do love the Soldiers!—When, in Mexico, the Soldiers voted generally for Shunk, the Democratic candidate for Governor, no complaint was made. But, in 1851, two thirds of them voted for the Republican Union Ticket—and then, three Democratic Judges—Lowrey, Woodward, and Strong—found out that such "out of the District" mode of voting is unconstitutional! Yet, they would have you think "the Democracy are always the same"—"the Democracy are the only true friends of the Soldiers!" We hope the boys will be home to vote by October next, generally—and they will say at the polls what they think of such partial Democracy.

Philip Kenn, a farmer near Sunbury, says he recently found on his land two tortoises on whose backs he engraved "his mark" in A. D. 1815.

The Homestead bill, recently passed by Congress, has been signed by the President, and is therefore now a law. The Great Eastern arrived at New York making the trip in less than ten days.

Latest News

The wife and daughters of the Rebel Gen. Lee have been captured. A late arrival from New Orleans shows that Gen. Butler is active against every form of open Secessionism. He forbids the circulation of Confederate notes. Jacob Barker advises not to burn their cotton.

A large number of Union prisoners have arrived from Salisbury, N. C., but Col. Cooper is not among them. All looks well for the Union army before Corinth, by our reports. Gen. M'Clellan's movements are believed to be rightly directed, and every day's work tells against Richmond, as it did against Yorktown.

Nothing special from Gen. Banks' army, which is doubtless reinforced ere this time. A despatch from Natchez to the Vicksburg Citizen, states that "the exasperated citizens" of that virtuous hole gave a man—a fisherman—for delivering to the Major a despatch from the Commander of the U. S. vessel lying before the city. Heavenly "Confederacy!"

A Mass Convention of those favoring the President's emancipation views, is to be held in the Capitol of Missouri, Wed. 16th June, to nominate State Officers. The Rebel Colonel, Schnabel, of Arkansas, is reported killed. Ex-Senator Gwin, of Cal., who whined so dolefully about being sent to Fort Lafayette, having been released, is now openly with Jeff Davis' family, at Raleigh.

Gen. M'Clellan's troops have cut the Virginia Central Railroad at three points between Hanover Court House and the Chickahominy river. The interruption of this railroad destroys the communication between Richmond and Gordonsville, Staunton and the Rebels in Shenandoah valley.

In the late battle of Hanover C. H., Va., 18 miles N. of Richmond, the Union loss was 53 killed, and 326 wounded and missing. The Rebels lost 1000, including over 500 prisoners. Gen. Fitz Porter of N. H., led the Union forces. It was a hard fight.

The Rebels at Edenton, N. C., arrested a Union pilot, and took him to Raleigh, where they threatened to hang him. Gen. Burnside immediately arrested five of the Commissioners of Edenton, and threatens to hang them if Mr. White, the Union pilot, is injured.

BEFORE CORINTH, May 25, 1862. A reconnoitering party from Pope's command had a skirmish yesterday, resulting in a complete rout of three Rebel regiments, with a loss of knapsacks, blankets, and six prisoners taken. The regiments fled in confusion across the creek. Our loss was four wounded.

President Lincoln and Secretary Stanton returned on Saturday from Fredericksburg. This visit to Gen. M'Dowell is supposed to relate to the apprehended disaster which has since befallen Banks' corps.

The President sent a message to Congress taking upon himself and the cabinet the responsibility of the military measures for which the House of Representatives censured the late Secretary of War.

May 24.—A reconnoissance was made to Clinton, 19 miles south of Newbern, a few days since. The enemy's advanced pickets were found, and a skirmish ensued. We lost one lieutenant and four privates, taken prisoners. We left nine of the enemy's dead on the field, and took two prisoners. The health and spirits of the troops at Newbern continue excellent.

Washington, N. C., has been occupied, and a newspaper started there by the troops. May 24.—Three skirmishes to-day. We drove the Rebels from Mechanicsville, seven miles from New bridge. The 4th Michigan again foisted the Louisiana Tigers. Fifty prisoners and fifty killed. Our loss ten killed and wounded.

G. B. M'CLELLAN. The 8th Illinois Cavalry went three miles up the river, and destroyed the bridges of the Richmond & Fredericksburg Railroad. Our troops are now (Sunday) at Mechanicsville, only five miles from Richmond.

The Secretary of War has invited Gen. Sigel to come to Washington to arrange for taking a new command. Mr. Stanton could not do a more popular act. Gen. Halleck has ordered correspondents for public journals to quit the camps of his army, and they have obeyed.

Recreating for the first Union Regiment of Maryland—so cut up at Front Royal—is going on briskly at Baltimore. The Rebels and England acknowledged, at last, the "sufficiency" of the Southern blockade.

The Warren (Pa.) Mail approves of Hunter's Emancipation Proclamation, which—like the postage stamp the chap pinned to his letter—is all right "if the thing sticks." The Grandfather of Gen. Halleck still lives, near Utica, N. Y., one hundred years of age. A lady from Lock Haven came by railway to Williamsport, when she found her pocket-book, with $31, missing. A lady and a boy have been badly bitten by dogs in Bloomsburg—wherein 192 dogs are taxed. Dr. Fisher, of the Army, has returned to Sunbury, in poor health.

BY TELEGRAPH.

CLEVELAND, May 30. The Rebels have left CORINTH. Gen. Nelson occupied their entrenchments at 8 o'clock this morning. [Confirmed from Washington] Fernando Wood, was in Chicago on Saturday, "forgoing the Democratic party," and getting off the stereotypical landlubberism about fanaticism and Conservatism. He was sarcastic, and made a speech, but the people did not seem to take interest in his Honor. On the same night, Gen. Sigel arrived, unheralded, in Chicago. He, too, was sarcastic, and spoke boldly for the crushing out of the Rebellion, and the extermination of its black cause; to all of which the people responded with the greatest enthusiasm.

Lieut. Worden, of the Monitor, can at present see with only one eye, but he can see more with that one than any other Rebel commodore, captain, or lieutenant can see with a pair. If the Rebels see him coming with one eye shut, they will be sure to run, thinking he is taking aim at them.

Through passengers from Williamsport to Philadelphia, now have their baggage checked through—one or passing without change—and a sleeping car is attached to the night express train on the Northern Central Railroad.

Mr. Stiles (Dem.) has been elected to Congress in the Bucks and Lehigh District, by 500 majority—less than half the party majority last Fall. There was little excitement, both candidates claiming to be good War and Union men. His predecessor, Dr. Cooper, was of the same politics.

Andrew J. Vallandigham, represented as a brother of the notorious Democratic leader in Congress, has been arrested at Clinton, Missouri, for marching against Union citizens, horse stealing, jayhawking and recalcitrance in general.

PROVIDENCE, May 28.—Gov. William Sprague was to day elected United States Senator for 6 years from the 4th March, receiving 92 out of 103 votes. Another regiment and battery are expected to leave for Washington to-morrow.

Prentice says the South can no longer accuse the Yankees of stinginess—see how they "shell out" at Port Royal, Palmetto, and everywhere where the Rebels would only wait long enough to receive their attentions!

In the "Egypt" Congressional District, Illinois, there were three candidates, each receiving over 4,000 votes. W. J. Allen has the majority—of the same politics as his predecessor, Col. Logan.

Hiram Mudge was elected Burgess of Williamsport, having 409 votes, and Clinton Lloyd 292—791 votes polled. There was little party or other contest on most of the offices.

John M'Kenney, late State Treasurer of Michigan, has been sent to the Penitentiary for seven years, for embezzlement of State funds. Right! There was some frost, up the Susquehanna branches, but little or no damage was done. The Republican-Union Convention of Juniata county is called for Monday, 13th June.

ASSEMBLY. Mess. Editors—As the time is at hand when the friends of the Administration should be looking up a man to represent the District in the General Assembly, I would suggest REY. SIMON WOLFE of Lewisburg as a suitable person for that office. Should he accept the nomination and be elected, there is no question as to his capacity, integrity, devotion of character, and an unswerving adherence to the principles of the Government. I believe him to be a man eminently fitted for that station at the present time, and all who are acquainted with him know him to be a man of high integrity, corruption, and all other political character.
