LEWISBURG, UNION CO., PA., FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1862.

"THE UNION," established in 1814---Whole No., 2,572.

"CHRONICLE," established in 1843---Whole No., 951.

PUBLISHED SEMI-WEEKLY---
Tuesday Morning & Friday Afternoon.

☞Never have the patriotic people of the Free States spent so sad a Fourth of July as that of 1862, under the news of the severe losses of personal and national friends before Richmond. The Rebels having concentrated the white and black forces of Beauregard and Jackson, buried them with terrible efficiency and desperation, in superior numbers, upon our wings—and although repulsed, yet it was at the cost of many brave men's limbs or lives.

The Pennsylvania Reserve.

There is something noble in the position of Pennsylvania in her identification with the struggle to put down rebellion. She was the first to reach the national capitol, when it was almost regarded as within the reach of the grasp of the conspirators, and ever since, in every way conducive to the general success, she has contributed men and money without stint or limit, until her resources have replenished the treasury, and her sons swelled the great armies of the Republic. And now, before Richmond, at a moment upon which depended an important battle of the campaign, we find the gallant regiments of the Pennsylvania Reserves occupying the post of danger and importance. Arrayed against a very superior force, fighting in a position where every advantage was against them, the men of the Reserve behaved most gallantly, and accomplished deeds such as will not be exceeded or even equalled by anything which our armies can possibly achieve hereafter.

Their losses are severe, but not known fully. Their General, George A. M'Call, and his Aid, Col. Biddle, are killed.

We also hear of the death of Lieut Col. Fisher, brother of Tunis H. Fisher, Lewisburg, and of Lieut. Parker (Lewistown) of the Regular Army.

300,000 More Men!

For some time past, measures have been maturing to fill up vacancies in our armies or to enlarge them, and thus ensure a speedy finish of the Rebellion. The Military Governors of eighteen States have advised the President that their people are in favor of speedy work, and will enlist sufficient men. Whereupon, the 1st inst., President Lincoln responded, that he would receive the services of Three Hundred Thousand recruits (principally infantry,) and give the quota of each State. Here is another opportunity, which we doubt not will be promptly embraced, to aid in finishing up the work which has progressed so gloriously for one year past.

☞A large number of the patriotic Ladies of Mifflinburg and vicinity have formed a Soldiers' Relief Association—Miss Kate Reed, President; Mrs. Jacob Gutelius, Cor'g Sec'y; Miss Amelia Foster, Rec'g Sec'g; Mrs. Forrey, Treasurer—designed to furnish clothing and other needed articles for our sick and wounded men in hospitals. Their next meeting is at Wolfe's hall, Saturday July 5, (to-morrow) at 2, P.M.

The Hartleton Ladies had such an Institution some time since.

The Ladies of Lewisburg have done much in this line months ago—but passing events seem to call upon them again to move.

DRY YOUR CHERRIES.—The unprecedented crop of cherries with which this region is now blessed, should be secured for future use. Though some trouble, there is no more simple, cheap, and wholesome form of reserving them than by drying. Our crop next year may be small. Should War be continued, on a greater or smaller scale, dried cherries will be one of the best and most easily transported articles of luxury for the Soldiers.

Save all the Currants and Berries also.

☞The Susquehanna Telegraph has now been in operation eleven years, during which the Lewisburg station has passed 23,204 paid messages, and earned for the Company, after deducting local expenses and commissions, $2,294, or an average of $208 per year. Surely, it should pay dividends, or other offices must be leaky somewhere.

☞We notice Rev. Geo. W. Anderson and Rev. J. Harvard Castle, among the clergymen who have recently left their homes to labor for the sick and wounded soldiers, without compensation, under the auspices of the Christian Commission of Philadelphia.

☞Hon. Charles W. Hegins, President Judge of Schuylkill county, is dead. His funeral occurs to-day. He died with his sister, Mrs. Donnell, in Sunbury, 2d inst., aged 50 years.

☞The young people of Mifflinburg celebrate the "glorious Fourth" at Chambers' Grove.....Parson Brownlow speaks in Pottsville.

☞The Buffaloe Creek Sabbath School has appointed a committee of Arrangements for a Celebration on Saturday the 26th of July.

☞The sale of R. M. Hunter's town property was postponed until Monday, 15th September next.

What will They do?

To-day, Delegates from the people of Pennsylvania who oppose a Union Ticket, and who exalt a Party above the Country, meet at Harrisburg. They will represent all the Secession sympathy in the State, and also thousands of honest, good men who are still misled by the empty label, "Democracy." At the last meeting of this party—Harrisburg, in Feb. 1861—they openly encouraged the Rebels in the following terms:

"Resolved, That we will, by all proper and legitimate means, oppose, discountenance and prevent any attempt on the part of the Republicans in power to make any armed aggression upon the Southern States; especially so long as laws contravening their rights shall remain unrepealed on the statute books of Northern States, and so long as the just demands of the South shall continue to be unincumbered by the Republican majorities in these States, and unsecured by proper amendatory explanations of the Constitution."

(See the report.—The meeting of the Resolutions called forth much applause, and when the determined opposition of the Democracy of Pennsylvania to an armed aggression upon the Seceding States was announced, [illegible] THEY WERE ADOPTED BY ACCLAMATION."

Most of the leaders here hindered the Government all they could, but the honest masses have tried to sustain it.

WHAT THEY WILL DO THIS YEAR—how they will hope to deceive and mislead the people—we shall soon see. If they again openly aid Treason, they will be repudiated by the Masses. Perhaps they will try their old game of deception—such as "Polk and the Tariff of '42!"

or "Buchanan and Free Kansas!"
or "Breckinridge and the Union!"

Whatever cheat they may attempt, we think the people will never be again deluded by them. James H. Young is Delegate from this county, assisted by Messrs. Barton and Bucher.

☞"THE DAKOTIAN" is a new paper, from Yankton, Dakota Territory, away somewhere behind sundown. It (that is to say, the paper, and not sundown) looks and reads much like "Sycamore." And see how orthodoxly it doth "groan" about the President of the blessed Union, who hath an eight column Advt in ye same paper—which payeth well for an outside picket of Primordom. Saith ye Editor of ye Dakotian, truly and timely-ly—

"The wisdom and patriotism of the present National Administration is, to-day, the glory of every loyal American, while it is the admiration and wonder of foreign nations. Abraham Lincoln has attained a loftiness and purity of statesmanship, to which many have aspired, but which few have reached. He stands to-day a giant bulwark of the Constitution, against which the waves of armed rebellion and mouthing fanaticism, alike dash themselves in vain. The present Administration, notwithstanding the number of those who are willingly in rebellion, is supported more ardently and by more people than any other Administration since the birth of the Republic."

A UNITED PEOPLE.—Were all in the Loyal States joined in aiding the Government to prosecute the War the past year, doubtless it would have been finished this day. We have had too many traitors, complainers, and secret enemies of the Government. The attempt to keep up a Party to thwart and embarrass the Administration, has protracted the War—its success is the last hope of the Rebels. Vote down the Party which Jeff. Davis & Co. sympathize with, and Davis' career is ended.

HENRY GALLAGER, aged about 18 years, died in the hospital at the White House, of typhoid fever, on the 15th ult. He was a member of Capt. James Chamberlin's Co. D. 52d Reg. P. V. He was originally from Philad., but had been for some years with the family of John Lewis, of Lewisburg, where he enlisted.

☞About 2 o'clock this morning, some patriotic young men procured, somewhere, a rough miniature cannon, to fire a salute, and make a noise generally. In firing it on the corner of Market and Second streets, it exploded, one fragment striking the dwelling of Wm. Cameron, Esq., making an indentation as large as a saucer; another piece struck the fence of R. M. Musser, and another, weighing six or eight pounds, was picked up at the Courthouse, one square distant. Fortunately, no person was injured.

☞On the morning of the 2d inst., the barn, corn cribs, wagon sheds, &c., attached to the Hotel of J. P. Hagenbuch, in Uniontown, Brady Tp., Union Co., were consumed by fire. Some harness, hay, &c., were also burned. It was insured to some extent. Cause unknown.

JAMES F. CORNELIUS writes from Newbern, 22d June, that the Lewisburg boys are in good health and spirits, and gives a glowing account of the presentation, on the 20th ult., of a sword from the State of Rhode Island to Gen. Burnside.

☞Serg.C. S. Swineford, who returned to New Berlin, sick, from Capt. Roush's Company, is recovering.

☞Mr. Squires is moving back to his former Shop, opposite the Bank.....Dr. Burlan will soon follow.

☞A. H. Dill, Esq., is Orator for the Celebration at Berwick to day.

☞The Telegraph was open this morning, but gave us no news.

Events before Richmond.

It will be remembered that M'Clellan first pushed up the York river, and made his head quarters on the Pamunky, which is about 20 miles north of James river.

At White House, one of the main depots for commissary stores, on Wednesday week, a fleet of boats began to remove the stores down the York river toward City Point. This was done very privately. The sick and wounded were also safely removed, and the few troops at the White House ordered to be ready at any moment to leave.

During the morning, there was a report abroad that a division of the Rebels, the forces of Stonewall Jackson and Gen. Ewell, were approaching and threatening to open the way by the right flank for a raid on the White House. Meantime, the trains on the Railroad were kept running night and day, carrying forward nothing but ammunition and munitions of war, and siege and rocket trains, and field pieces. The last event of Wednesday night was the arrival of nearly a hundred wounded men of Hooker's division, who had participated in the mysterious movement of Gen. M'Clellan on that morning, securing Tavern Hill (the "important point" in Gen. M'Clellan's dispatches,) which commands Richmond. The evacuation of the White House was complete. Gen. Casey says not even a contraband was left behind—swarms of men, women, and children, with what they could take with them, were carried away. Not five hundred dollars of property was left for the Rebels, who have probably extended (and weakened) their line to that point. Some stores were burnt.

Nothing of great importance occurred on Thursday morning. About noon, the enemy made their first attack in a feint upon Gen. Stoneman's forces, near Hanover Court House, North of Richmond, but about 2, P. M. crossed the Chickahominy, southeastward, making a desperate attempt to drive back our men. The only forces engaged here were M'Call's division, who were located on the opposite side of a swamy ravine, about a mile and a half back from the Chickahominy River. The battle lasted from about 2 until 9 P. M., when the enemy drew off, renewing the attack at the break of day on

Last Friday, when, after several hours' of hard fighting, Gen. M'Call's division were ordered to fall back. The Rebels had overwhelming forces, and as soon as they met one repulse, they returned doubly strong. They came in such dense masses that the shell and grape poured into them made great gaps in their lines, which were immediately filled up, and they moved forward most determinedly. Their artillery was so poorly served that the damage done to our ranks was light in proportion. They still moved on, and exchanged showers of Minie balls; but when Gen. Porter ordered a bayonet charge, they retreated in double-quick, though he pursued them but a short distance. The enemy again rallied and approached our lines, when the same terrible slaughter ensued. This time their artillery was more effective. On coming to close quarters they were again repulsed, and driven back a still greater distance, the twice fought-over battle-ground being literally strewn with the dead and the dying. Gen. Porter a second time fell back to his position, and waited nearly an hour for the enemy to renew the assault. They finally came on in increased numbers, having been largely reinforced, and were again received with shell and grape, causing great chasms in their ranks. A third time they bore down most determinedly on our lines, and this conflict was the most severely contested of the whole, but when the bayonet was brought to bear he fell back, and was pressed toward Richmond fully a mile beyond our original lines. Again, for the fourth time Gen. Porter fell back to his first position, when an order was received from Gen. M'Clellan to continue his retrograde movement slowly and in order. The enemy again pushed forward bodily, when their advance was checked by the entire reserve force. This fresh force held the enemy in check, while the force which had previously borne the brunt of the battle moved back in good order, carrying with them their wounded and dead. The enemy made a fierce attack on the reserve, but cannon were posted at various points of the route by which they were retiring toward the Chickahominy, which occasionally poured in shot and shell upon them, and checked their movements, and enabled the troops to move back in good order. At one time in this retrograde movement, the reserve force of Gen. Sykes charged on the enemy with bayonet and drove him back nearly a mile. This is about the substance of the fighting, which closed on Friday night. Our loss is estimated 1,200.

The object of Gen. M'Clellan, long before the battle on Friday, was to abandon the White House, and also draw in his right wing across the Chickahominy. That he has accomplished this most masterly movement with but little loss in comparison with his punishment of the enemy there can be no doubt, and that he has strengthened his position by contracting his lines, and changing the base of his operations to the James River, is equally self-evident. There he will have the cooperation of the gunboats.

"SHALL WE KNOW EACH OTHER THERE?"

When we hear the morn is ringing
This with the bright celestial throng,
When sweet angel voices, singing,
Greet's his coming home;
To the land of everlasting glory,
Where the spirit knows no care;
In that land of life and glory,
Shall we know each other there?

When the holy angels meet us,
As we gain yon pearly bars,
Shall we see the spirit loved us
On earth as fellow stars?
Shall we feel their kindly voices calming
Our anxious doubts of care?
Shall we feel their dear arms twining
Fondly round us as before?

Yes, my earth-worn soul rejoices,
And my weary heart grows light,
For the thrilling angel voices,
And the angel faces bright,
That shall welcome us in Heaven,
Are loved ones now gone
And to them in Heaven given
Those their mortal friends to know.

O, ye weary ones and heavy-laden
Drop not, faint not by the way!
Yet shall from the angel land a light burst
In the land of perfect day.
Harp-strings, touched by sacred fingers,
Murmur in my exalted ear!
Earthly fetters no more linger,
We shall know each other there.

A Day in South Carolina.

HILTON HEAD, June 20.

Access from our picket, on the main land, at a ferry we call the White House, the Rebels had picketed, and of late had been very annoying by going up stairs and shooting our pickets. We got a 30-pound rifled Parrot gun, and commenced shelling that house and the woods around it. The Rebels skedaddled. We went over with 100 men, destroyed the poor boats, took away the good ones, and fired the buildings. We found there a copy of the Savannah Republican of the 12th inst. It had some good news for us, but little for the Rebels. It said nothing could be expected hereafter from Beauregard, and that Richmond would and must fall into the hands of the Federals unless every man would enlist and save that city. I also noticed a reward of $50 for a deserter from their ranks—a substitute for some aristocrat, I presume. A firm in Savanna advertised home-made salt at 50 cents per quart. (Come over to Hilton Head—14 miles only—and they can get salt at 42 cents a bushel, provided they would rally under the old flag.) We found their canteens to be double—half for whiskey, and the other half for water. In their haversacks we found government bread, corn cakes, and another kind seemingly made of putty and shortened with brick dust. We returned to our head quarters in due season, well pleased with our trip. Doc C.

At an election for Directors of the Milton Bank, held on Tuesday last, the following persons were elected, viz: W. C. Lawson, W. F. Nagle, I. B. Davis, M. Chamberlin, John Roush, William Savidge, Thos. Swenk, John M'Cormick, Seth Cadwalader.

The Democrats of the Snyder, North'd, Montour and Columbia Senatorial District met twice, but could not agree upon a Delegate—two counties being for Tate, and two for Cummings, for Surv. Gen.

WEST CHESTER, June 30.—The Democrats held a meeting here to day to elect Delegates to the State Convention. Speeches were made against the Administration, the war and emancipation, and against paying the war-taxes.

BALTIMORE, July 3.

The army correspondent of Associated Press has just arrived, direct from Gen. M'Clellan's headquarters. The following is briefly the summary of affairs.

After SEVEN DAYS' fighting, during which M'Clellan's army was compelled by vastly superior numbers, he reached his point on James river, adjoining Turkey Island. He is now out of the swamps, on high ground, with good water, is receiving reinforcements, and is protected by the gunboats.

The series of battles, it is believed, has resulted in a Union loss of Fifteen Thousand, and a Rebel loss of Thirty Thousand men, killed and wounded.

CONGRESS.

The two Union Democratic papers of Northumberland county have proposed, as a suitable candidate for Congress, to the friends of the Union and the National Administration, in the Hon. Benjamin Snyder, Northumberland and Union District—the name of GEORGE F. MILLER, Esq., a native of that county. The Whigs and Republicans of the District will recognize in him an old, consistent supporter of their principles. Union county presents him as a man of unsullied character, superior business habits, sound judgment and a liberal, public spirited citizen—a self-made man, whose elevation to Congress would be a credit to them and an incentive to the youth of our land to seek distinction in the paths of industry and honor. SIMON SNYDER.

ASSEMBLY.

☞It is customary and proper, when our Legislators have served faithfully, to honor them, and secure experienced men in our Capitols, by a re-election. Judge BEAVER, as far as we have heard, has been a credit to the District while at Harrisburg, both as a man and as a Member of the Assembly of Pennsylvania. In good character and worth to mankind he ranks forever. We therefore recommend Jesse Beaver for re-election next Fall.

MANY

To the Public—Whereas, it would have appeared in several papers of Union county in connection with a candidate for a seat in the Legislature. This suggestion having arisen through many of my friends, I had partially conceded to their wishes, believing that if elected I could discharge my duties faithfully as a minister of the Gospel of Christ and also perform those duties incumbent upon a representative especially in the state Legislature—but finding it impossible to secure even the campaign without using a corrupt measure to accomplish my nomination, to which I can never resort, and will therefore announce to my friends and fellow citizens (thanking them for their kind manifestations for my success) I hereby decline being a candidate before the people for nomination for that position.

Lewisburg, July 1, 1862. SAWOLF.

PROTHONOTARY.

Fellow Citizens:—I offer myself as a candidate for the office of Prothonotary of Union county at the next General Election—subject to the decision of the late Union nomination. Having been urged by numerous friends, I hope to receive a liberal support. If I am nominated and elected, I will perform the duties of the office with the best of my ability.

JOHN CROSSKROVE.

Lewisburg, May 23, 1862

Fellow citizens:—When we draw the line along Beaver's name and parallel with the River then we find half the people of Union county situated West, and half East, of the aforesaid line. We award we have only one Judge, one Commissioner, the Surveyor and two Auditors for county offices. Millinburg is the second borough in the county, and her gallant Democrats have broken down the sharp-backed party. Democracy that so long ruled that town, yet we have had no office worth naming for ten years. Millinburg and the West now want a good lift—not a minor office, but our worthy of their numbers and talents in the good cause—that of Prothonotary. When compared to a stranger, Mr. Sands ran for the office, when Mr. Reed's better acquaintance carried him in—tho' Mr. Sands, at home, had 14 majority where the Democrats had 24 majority at the same time. All who know him say he is a modest, unpretending man, with the capacity for a very superior officer—he is an excellent penman, an experienced accountant, understands German and English, and of personal worth and good character. He will make an unbiassed good Prothonotary, and we therefore respectfully urge of our friends in other parts to take our words for it and work and vote for Mr. James W. Sands, and they'll not be sorry for it. FAIR PLAY.

Fellow Citizens:—Through the urgent solicitation of my friends, I offer myself as a candidate for the office of Prothonotary, at the next General Election, (subject to the decision of the Union Primary Election.) Should I be so fortunate as to be nominated and elected, I pledge myself to perform the duties of the office faithfully. JAMES W. SANDS

Mifflinburg, May 23, 1862

COMMISSIONER.

Messrs. Editors:—Allow me to recommend in your columns the name of A. W. SMITH, Esq., of White Deer Tp, as a candidate for the Office of Commissioner of Union county, this fall, subject to the decision of the Nominating Convention. The [illegible] possesses every needful qualification to make a good and efficient officer; and long years of fidelity both as a citizen and participant claim for him a hearty support of every true Republican voter of this county.

June 2, 1862 LEWISBURG

It is admitted by all that the upper part of Union county is entitled to the next Commissioner. Lewisburg has officers and candidates, Buffalo has a Judge and has had a Commissioner for three years, and White Deer has the Sheriff. It seems therefore that Kelly township—having no County Officer, and giving the best Republican vote, should have the choice. Last Fall, Mr. JOHN NOLL was proposed, but, a neighbor having been previously named, he declined. If Mr. Noll will now consent to be a candidate, very many know him to be a good and popular man, who we think would prove an honest, independent, accommodating officer.

June 2 HARMONY.

Editor Chronicle:—Permit me through the columns of your valuable paper to recommend ROBERT REED, of Hartley township, as a suitable person for County Commissioner to be elected at the next general election. This may seem premature; but, in these troublous times, when the country needs men who are honest as well as loyal, it is incumbent upon every citizen to select men for office, from the lowest to the highest, who will be a righteous integrity endeavor to prevent the county from having to pay out one farthing for unrighteous purposes. "The office should seek the man." Robert Reed is a middle aged man, of sound Republican principles, economical business habits, excellent discrimination, and where can we find a man more suitable to fill the office of County Commissioner?

Lewisburg, May 26, 1862 HARTLEY.

Fellow-Citizens:—Having been encouraged by the offers of numbers of voters in various parts of the county, I am a candidate for the office of Commissioner—subject to your choice at the July primary Elections. If you think Kelly township is entitled to the office at this time, and can entrust me with it, I will be thankful for your votes—and if nominated and elected, it is my duty and pride to act for the best interests of the whole county.

Kelly Tp, June 6, 1862 JOHN NOLL

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Messrs. Editors:—Permit me to suggest the name of ALFRED HAYES, Esq., for District Attorney for Union county at the approaching Election. It is only necessary to remind the voters that his industry, integrity and ability render him in every respect well qualified to perform the duties of that office. UNION.

COUNTY SURVEYOR.
