

UNION COUNTY STAR AND LEWISBURG CHRONICLE.

BY O. N. WORDEN AND J. R. CORNELIUS. LEWISBURG, UNION CO., PA., TUESDAY, SEPT. 9, 1862. "THE UNION," established in 1814--Whole No. 2,582. "CHRONICLE," established in 1843--Whole No. 961.

Published Semi-Weekly--
Tuesdays Morning & Friday Afternoon.

"Times that try Men's Souls."

During the dark days of the War for Liberty in 1780--when traitors or cowardly untrusting campaigns, when disease and vice wasted our armies, when Generals quarreled, speculators flourished, and soldiers suffered, when Congress was derided, and our credit and resources were exhausted--then it was that the faint-hearted despairing and the Tories "demanded a change of Administration," from WASHINGTON down to Town Clerk. They might have been honest, but we now know they were mistaken.

We suffered similar disasters in the War of 1812, when the Blue Light Federalists attempted to "put a stop to Jim Madison's War," by running De Witt Clinton for President. But they failed.

The Nullifiers, when JACKSON, by the strong arm of Power, crushed out their heresy, sought in vain to defeat him at the next Election. And now they resort to arms!

The great majority of the Democratic party in our State, we doubt not, are loyal, well-meaning men. But for some of their WOULD-BE LEADERS, we can have no such charity. We wish we could--for we hold that a "united North" would soon end the struggle. Frank Hughes fighting the Administration at the North and John Hughes doing the same thing at the South, is a co-operation which every one must see is really aiding Secessionism.

Hughes and his followers now say--"we hold an entire change of administration to be imperatively demanded." Now, Abraham Lincoln is the head of the "Administration." Jeff Davis is striving by ball and bayonet to get Lincoln's seat. That would in a short time effect an entire change of administration." As no one but Davis demands the White House, what can Hughes & Co. mean unless it is that they are aiding Davis through the ballot-box? The masses do not mean this, if the leaders do.

It is not claimed that Barr or Slenker can take Lincoln's place, even if elected to State Clerkships that have no influence on National affairs. It is two years to the Presidential election--and a year before the next chosen Congressmen and U. S. Senators should their seats. Ere that time, the War should be terminated.

To a change of Administration" as required by the "Constitution as it is" no Union man objects. But how is it to be done until then?

The only effect of the defeat of the Union Party in Pennsylvania, would be to injure the Union Cause. Altho' not so intended by those who deposit them, yet every vote cast for the Anti-Administration Candidates will be looked upon in Europe and at the South as AGAINST the Union, or in favor of some degrading compromise that shall reduce the Free North to the level of the South or of Mexico.

Heaven help the President!

Since he reached Washington, no man has had a weight of responsibility like ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S, and no one could have borne it better. He has been importuned and threatened, and for ten thousand persons and things; he has been tempted and harassed as never was man before; and he has honestly tried to be attentive and considerate to all. The failures of hundreds of others, are laid at his door, and he has been made responsible for not possessing angelic power and godlike fortitude. A correspondent of Dr. Nevins' Presbyterian paper, gives an exceedingly impressive account of the anxious, care-worn, almost dejected, yet hopeful look, and earnest, kind manners of the President. Surely, with such burdens as roll upon him, all of which he seeks so conscientiously to discharge, he is no enviable lot. Who can doubt but that he intends to do everything for the best? He hears all--tries to be impartial, and acts for the best good of his imperilled country. He may err, of course, as all men do, but no more than others with less responsibilities. His last word to his neighbors in Springfield, was "Pray for me--I need your prayers." And now, as much as or more than ever, he should have the good wishes, the sympathies, and the prayers of all who believe in an Overruling Providence.

Friendly criticisms upon War matters, should never embarrass those in power, nor give encouragement to the enemy. The head men know how to account for matters which look all wrong to us outsiders, yet which they can not explain. In the nature of things, we must try and exercise a generous confidence in those who can have only the public good at heart.

Our Democratic friends especially should be slow to find fault with our late disasters in Eastern Virginia--for they have long and loud boasted that Secretary of War (Stanton), the Gen-in-Chief (Halleck) and McClellan, McDowell, and a large majority of the Generals, are Democrats. Whether they belonged to one party or another, is no matter--we should all regret our failures, and lose Party in the Country's welfare.

Next Week is regular Sept. Court. It is intended to go "trot" with the Criminal List, at least.

Maryland, Invaded!

HARRISBURG, Sept. 8, M.
The Rebels are in large force in the vicinity of Frederick, Md., and also threatening Cumberland Valley, Pa. Our people are leaving Hagerstown. There is great alarm at Chambersburg. As yet, we have heard of no stand made anywhere by our forces.

[We fear the above is too true, and an invasion of Southern Pennsylvania is imminent. Whatever measures the Government is taking to counteract the desperate movement, are kept as secret as possible; but doubtless our men are not idle, and will move upon both front and rear. All that we can do at home, is to enlist those accustomed to the use of arms, IMMEDIATELY, and make the best use of the natural defenses of our State, before it is despoiled like Virginia.]

AND OHIO!--A small Rebel force last week swept upon the village of Racine, north of the river, killed and wounded a few men, plundered it, and escaped back into Virginia.

David H. Roush, of the Cedar (Low) Democrat, has incurred the wrath of the Selingsgrove Times, because he (Roush) refuses in this death struggle with rebellion, to embarrass the Government by a fastidious opposition. He follows Douglas' dying advice, to stand by the Government until the Rebels are crushed, and subordinate Party to Country. Another of the former Union County Democrats expresses himself in the last "Democrat" as follows:

"My opinion is that the time for political discussion has gone by. Our country calls on us all to set. The good old ship of state has sprung a leak, and the captain at the helm cries out for all hands to the pumps. Hence, we have no time to discuss or debate as to the cause of the leak. My sentiments, personally, are well known, and, as I said in the war speech at Mechanicsville, I know no party while this war lasts but the party that will fight for the country and aid with all the power that in it lies to crush out this infamous rebellion. J. S. SWINFIELD. Tipton, August 25, 1862.

Since they begin to realize the true nature and magnitude of this Pro-Slavery Rebellion, many honest Democrats abate their hostility to the Government that is engaged in putting it down. We are glad to see evidences of this improved spirit in Union, Northumberland, and elsewhere.

In some strong party counties, where fair men are put up for home offices, the minority make no nominations, to excite mere party strife.

Both parties in Center county support Lieut. Wm. H. Blair for District Attorney. And in Columbia, they unite upon Wm. Ellwell Esq. of Towanda for law Judge.

We are requested to copy the following "brand hints" from a young lady of Union county, now away:

"The war news are bad. I heard the Rebels were within ten miles of Washington. It is indeed dreadful. I wish I could go--I should have been of this good while. Yes, indeed, if the young men had any ambition at all, they would go--not one could be seen, anywhere--they should be as scarce as snow in summer. We have no use for them at home; they do nothing but lounge around in the saloons." &c.

No county sends out more fine young men in this war, than has Union. Still, there are quite a number who, it would seem, might respond to the present call; but they must decide for themselves.

A Problem.

We have of loyal people	20,000,000
Whites, Rebelists, 7,000,000
Blacks, do	4,000,000-11,000,000

These blacks, by their labors at home, enable the whites mostly to go or aid those who do go and fight; being at home, they check us, and count more than half our number. But these blacks would be our friends if they could. Now add these to the loyal whites, and it is 24,000,000 Leaving the Rebels only 7,000,000

When we have 24 to 7, and 4 of ours at home, familiar with every path, there must be a change for the better.

How do the Soldiers Vote?

The Democrats of Illinois made and voted for a new State Constitution--the Republicans against it. The Soldiers in 37 Regiments voted as follows:

Against Constitution,	10,161
For	1,687

Republican majority 8,474

And yet lying scoundrels who edit the Leocoeo pro-slavery sheets, say "the soldiers are mostly Democrats!"

Before the 'National' Horse Races had really opened last week in Williamsport, a telegram to Harrisburg announced that it was "a success"--but have not seen or heard any such news since. The mass of our people were absorbed in better and more important business.

Assessor Kendig has appointed M. Charles H. Shriner his Deputy for Union county, at home with English and German, and true to Union principles, he is well qualified to levy and to explain the National War Tax.

The First Fall Elections!

VERMONT--The State Election, so far as heard from is almost unanimous for the Republican Union Ticket. In some townships there are not enough of the Democracy left to say "we'll try."

Good for the North!--Now see the first election held in a Slave State!

INDEPENDENT VICTORY IN WILMINGTON DELAWARE.

The Wilmington Journal & Statesman joyfully announces the election, on Tuesday last, of the entire Union Ticket by large majorities over the Opposition. It announces the result as a glorious victory over Secession, as represented by the Democratic ticket.

--Let Pennsylvania imitate Oregon, the Eastern States, and Delaware.

Old Times Rewinded.

Preliminary for drafting remind our aged citizens of the excitement for drafting two Companies in Union county for the war of half a century ago.

The Middleburg Telegraph republishes a Sermon preached to the Soldiers at the same time by Rev. J. H. Fries.

And the oldest Union county paper in our possession has a long Advertisement, by "THOMAS SMITH, Principal Assessor for the 12th district of Penn." relative to the Taxation which, we think, was then assessed by the Nation for the War debt.

--Old things are thus renewed by the changes of the wheel of time.

We under-estimated the enlistments in Northumberland county--they have only 437 to draft on the 600,000 call--Milton having sent 159, M'Evansville 35, Turbutville 28, Delaware 112, Chillisqueop 59, Northumberland 75, Soudbury 129, Coal (Shamokin town) 147--&c. The principal draft will fall on the Mahanoy, and the strong Democratic townships like Lewis, Lower Augusta, &c.

THE "CONTINENTAL OLD FOLKS" expect to give a Concert to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, in Independent Hall. There are two lady and two gentlemen performers, who appear in old-fashioned costumes, and give some good old music, "Granny Slocum" and "Cousin Reuben" to boot. A family ticket for six, $1.

Capt. James Hayes, of Lewisburg, who served in the U. S. cavalry service under Gen. Sumner, is raising a horse company from Union county. That, and a few more men for old Regiments, would relieve our county of all the requisitions contemplated by Government. This week is the last before the draft.

The business of drilling is very generally taken up throughout our State. Any one accustomed to the exercise, can aid those desirous of learning, very considerably. Towns and thickly settled neighborhoods may thus, while still at home, make some proficiency of preparation that may be quite advantageous.

Jeremiah Wingard of East Buffalo was rejected out of Capt. Owen's company on account of being over 45, but he was informed went along as cook, in which he may be of essential service to a cause which he has so much at heart.

D. Bright Miller, of Lewisburg, has enlisted, with other student friends, with Col. Ellmaker's Philadelphia Grays, 19th P. V., and was on duty near Washington City, last Thursday.

In consequence of the War trouble and excitement, it is decided to postpone the Union County Fair, until next year.

HELENA, Ark., Aug. 23, 1862.

I have been soldiering for Uncle Sam, in the 34th Ill. Cav., for a year, and seen the elephant in every shape and form. I have rode over all Missouri and nearly all of Arkansas--hills, hollows and big rocks--have seen some pretty hard times, too, such as marching all day and night, some times with nothing to eat for self or horse for 24 hours. But we are now faring well at this little town on the Mississippi, 90 miles below Memphis. Our force is now much scattered at different points, but we are building a fort here. We have flour and crackers, fresh and pickled beef, salt pork and bacon, some times beans and vinegar, plenty of coffee all the time, and now we have a negro cook for every mess. We scout so much that we are often with half rations or none. We had no heavy fight except at Pea Ridge, but have had any amount of brisk skirmishes. It is very warm here. We have our own horses, and get 40 cents per day for their use and risk.

WM. M'DANIEL, formerly of Chillisqueop, Pa.

In the midst of present sore disasters, with the rebel army back within sight of Washington, triumphant and vindictive, we can not help regretting, in the bitterness of our reverses and humiliation, that the policy of Gen. Cameron, when he was in the Cabinet, was not carried out; he wanted one million of men, at the very beginning, hurled upon the rebellion; he wanted the rebels treated in the most rigorous manner; he wanted every means used to crush the rebellion, even the arming of the slaves. Had this policy been adopted one year ago, the rebels would now be conquered.--Soudbury Gazette.

Tuesday Morning's News.

Generals A. J. Porter, Geary and Cooper are in Harrisburg, where efforts are being put forth to meet any attempted raid of the Rebels into Pennsylvania.

Troops from Washington were sent in the direction of Frederick, Md., and Gen. McClellan has followed.

The R. rebels were repulsed in an attack on Martinsburg.

We are cut off from direct communication with Harpers Ferry.

The Rebels hold Centerville.

At his request, Gen. Pope is transferred to a command in the Northwest.

McDowell has 15 days' absence. Reno takes his command for the time.

DEATH OF DANIEL METZGER REED.

Our correspondent, (whose disease is noted below) was the oldest son of John and Catharine Reed, of Lewisburg, where he was born in 1825--enlisted with Capt. Teiford, in Bradford county--and fell in the same action with his brave commander, Gen. I. I. Stevens. We know not of a truer, more unselfish volunteer in this war against despotic Oppression, than this much lamented youth. In camp, he was a model of faithfulness and morality, sent home his earnings regularly, and in private letters evinced the most estimable traits of the man and the Christian.

Camp near Alexandria, Sept. 3, 1862.

My dear Friends

Our poor DANIEL has finished his work in this life, dying gloriously while fighting for the country he so loved. He was shot through the temples, and fell, on Monday evening, 1st Sept., about two miles from Centerville. I had a chance to meet him about a week previous; he was then well and in good spirits, and we expected to march together for a time. Yet I hope to meet him above, where all is love, and there is no sorrow or sickness, pain or death. We may be cut down at any moment, and if it is my lot to fall may it be as a true soldier both of our country and of our God.

I have got away from our regiment, having a bad diarrhoea, and am now with Moyer's Company. John Winegardner and all the boys are well. I left George Slifer sick near Frederickburg.

Yesterday, was glad to see Doctors Wilson, Loomis, and Gerhart, but did not know of my great loss, which is told me by George Fausie and Levi Ammons, who were in the same corps with brother, and are well.

Things look dark for our cause at present. We have had to fall back a great distance, and are now just where we were five months ago.

Love to all that inquire. I have had but one letter in nearly four weeks. May we meet again, in my earnest prayer.

SAM. A. REED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2, 1862.

By direction of the President, Major General McCLELLAN will have command of the fortifications of Washington, and of all the troops for the defence of Capital.

By order of the Secretary of War.

E. D. TOWNSEND, Ass. Adj. Gen.

One of the lies of the day that Horace Greeley was sent to Fort La Fayette on a forged statement alleged by some Secesh to be in his paper, against McClellan. Some of the General's slow movements in the field have been criticized, but he may have been justifiable.

A man named Hoag, belonging to Sherman, Conn., purposely cut his hand with a scythe, to avoid being drafted. The wound bled profusely, and he shortly afterwards died.

Edward O. Parry is appointed President of the Schuylkill court. Joshua W. Cromly declines a nomination for the vacancy occasioned by the death of Judge Hagins.

Alexander McClure was recommended for U. S. Senator by the Franklin districts, but declines. John Rowe is re-nominated for the Assembly.

Alexander Henry has been re-nominated by the Union party in Philadelphia for Mayor, and Wm. B. Mann for District Attorney.

Capt. E. H. Raueh, Republican Clerk of the last Assembly at Harrisburg, was badly but not dangerously wounded in the late battles.

Pickpockets were busy in Harrisburg and in Williamsport, last week.
