The Dying Soldier to his Mother.

"Kiss my little brother and my sisters, and tell them I died for my Country."

On the field of battle, mother!
All the night alone I lay,
Angels watching o'er me, mother!
Till the breaking of the day—
I lay thinking of you, my mother!
And the loving ones at home,
Till to our dear old cottage, mother!
Boy again I seemed to come.

He to whom you taught me, mother!
On my little knees to pray,
Kept my heart from fainting, mother!
When the vision passed away;
In the gray of morning, mother!
Comrades bore me to the town,
From my forehead tender fingers
Washed the blood that trickled down.

I must soon be going, mother!
Going to the home of rest—
Kiss me as of old, mother!
Press me nearer to your breast.
Would I could rejoy you, mother!
For your faithful love and care—
God uphold and bless you, mother!
In this bitter woe you bear.

Kiss me for my little brother—
Kiss my sisters—loved so well;
When you sit together, mother!
Tell them how their brother fell—
Tell to them the story, mother!
When I sleep beneath the sod,
That I died to save my Country
Which I loved next you and God.

Leaning on the merit, mother!
Of the One who died for all,
Peace is in my bosom, mother!
Hark! I hear the angels call—
Don't you hear them singing, mother?
Listen to the music's swell!
Now I leave thee, loving mother!
God be with thee—fare-ye-well!

A Dollar that Pays well.

One of the best seasonable enterprises, now before the public, is that of the Publisher of the American Agriculturist. He has procured for his Subscribers five colored editions of two splendid Maps, of localities of great interest. One of these, covering a space of more than ten square feet, shows the entire State of VIRGINIA, so completely that nearly every county, town, city, village, river, brook, mountain, hill, and principal road, is readily found. It also embraces the principal parts of Maryland and Pennsylvania. The other Map covering about 15 square feet, gives all the Southern or Slave States, including Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and all South of them Though not so minute as the Map of Virginia, this shows all the counties, principal towns, rivers, ect., of the Southern States. Any person subscribing, now, for the Agriculturist, is presented with a choice of the above two Maps. In addition to this, every new subscriber for 1863, (Vol. 22.) receives the Agriculturist for the rest of this year without charge. We have long received the Agriculturist, and can testify to its real merits. Every number is well illustrated, and contains a very large amount of really useful, practical, reliable information for the Farm, the Garden, and the Household, including a very interesting department for the little ones. No one can fail to get many dollars worth of useful hints from a volume of the Agriculturist, while the maps now are so much extra. The October No. contains over 150 different articles relating to the Farm, Garden, and Household. We have sent for two copies of the paper so as to get both maps.—Send for the paper on our recommendation, or, if you prefer, send a dime for a single copy, and examine it for yourself. The address of the Publisher is ORANGE JUDD, 41 Park Row, New-York.

Sensible Rebel Picket.

Some time ago, we had a picket composed of three Jerseymen. It was in the very advance. While posted there, a Scotch sentinel was stationed behind a tree, at a distance of about a quarter of a mile. The Union boys were astonished to hear him cry out:

"What are you doing, there?"

"Making our coffee."

(It is supposed the poor Rebel snuffed the aroma breeze) "What!" said he, "real coffee?"

"Yes," was the answer, "real coffee—don't you want some?"

After a pause the rebel said "Suppose I come over there and lay down my musket, will you let me come back here without hurting me?"

"Yes, come on—we give our pledge," was the reply.

Accordingly, the Secession volunteer came over and swallowed two large cups of coffee, and a good supply of sound bread and meat. After he had satisfied himself, he expressed his thanks, pronounced the repast very good, and seemed suddenly impressed with a new idea. Looking upon the well-dressed comfortable defenders of the old flag at his side, he at last quietly remarked: "I think I will leave that musket where it is," and then deliberately surrendered himself.

A CONSERVATIVE.—The Cambridge (Md.) Intelligencer gives the following definition of the term:

A thoroughbred Democrat is one of the most scrupulous "conservatives" of the day. He suffers no one to impeach his loyalty. He is in favor of the Government but opposed to the Administration. He has curses for the Black Republicans, but praises for the traitors. Everything that Lincoln has done is wrong; but all that Jeff. Davis does is perfectly right. But no one must charge him with the least taint of disloyalty. If so, his indignation amounts to wrath. He is the most ardent of patriots. And his seeming treason is nothing more than a wise and humane "conservatism."

Borough Ordinances.

Be it ordained by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Lewisburg, and it is hereby ordained by the authority of the same—

That in all cases where obstructions and nuisances of whatever kind have been or shall hereafter be removed, by the High Constable or street Commissioner, from the sidewalks, streets, or alleys of this borough in pursuance of any ordinance, resolution or direction of the said Burgess and Town Council, or by the High Constable in pursuance of his general warrant, it shall be the duty of them or either of them, after giving ten days' personal notice in case of residents within the borough whose interests may be affected thereby, or in case of non-residents ten days' notice by not less than three hand-bandbills posted in the most public place in the vicinity of said obstructions, &c., to sell the same at public sale, and, after deducting the expenses attendant thereon, pay over the proceeds of such sale to the Borough Treasurer for the use of said Borough; and it is further enacted, that where the obstructions are of such a character, that they can not be removed without great expense, such as driftings, lumber, etc., in the landings, the Street Commissioner or High Constable or either of them shall proceed in the manner herein before directed to sell the same, after notice as aforesaid, without first removing them from the landings or streets,

And it is further ordained by the authority of the same, that hereafter the washing or cleaning of carriages, waggons, or vehicles of any kind, upon any of the bridges within the bounds of this borough be strictly prohibited, under a penalty of $2 (one half thereof for the use of the Borough and the other for the use of the informer,) to be collected and enforced in the same manner as like penalties are collected and enforced by law.

NOTICE TO BATHERS.

THE public (and especially Ladies) have recently been much annoyed when called upon to pass along the River Road above town by the indecent exposure of boys and young men bathing in close proximity to the road. The criminal code of Pennsylvania makes such conduct punishable by fine and imprisonment. I hereby give notice that I will have the law rigidly enforced against all who continue the shameless practice.

THE DAY SCHOOL BELL.

A New Singing Book for day schools, called the Day School Bell, is now ready. It contains about 200 choice new songs, Anthems, Chants, Duetts, and Choruses, many of them written expressly for this work, in about 32 pages of the Elements of Music. The Elements are concise and progressive, that ordinary teachers will find themselves entirely successful in instructing even juvenile scholars to sing correctly and understandingly, while the tunes and words combine such variety as to render singing delightful, and real exercise music and not attitude, in the truest sense. It is confessed by all beginners to go on with rapidity in acquiring skill in vocal music, and the beautiful gliding, beauty imparting, happiness yielding and other producing exercises of school life. In simplicity of the mechanism, in variety and adaptation of tunes, and in richness and number of its songs, original, selected and adapted, it clearly reaches beyond all competitors. It will be found to be the best ever issued for Seminaries, Academies and Public Schools. A few sample pages of the Elements, Tunes, and Songs are given in a circular send and get one. It is compiled by HORACE WATERS, author of "Sabbath School Bells," Nos. 1 and 2, which have had the enormous sale of 750,000 copies. Price—paper covers, 20 cents, $18 per 100; boards, 25 cents, $22 per 100; cloth bound, embossed, gilt, 30 cents, $27 per 100. 25 copies furnished at the 100 price. Mailed free at the retail price
